Tax bills up slightly

Due to increase in market value of waterfront homes

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

Property taxpayers in Antioch Township should see only slight increases in their overall property tax bill for this year due to slight home market value appreciation.

According to Antioch Twp. Assessor Cliff Houghton, the overall tax rates, from the many taxing bodies in the township such as schools and libraries, have reduced by 5 percent in the village and as much as 7 percent in the rural township. Houghton believes the state tax cap law is the reason for the slight decrease in the overall tax rate decrease.

"However, water property throughout the township has seen a tremendous increase in the market value of these homes," said Houghton. "These homeowners are going to still see significant increases in their overall tax bill due to their homes being worth more than last year."

Houghton, whose office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, encourages residents to bring their tax bill questions about their assessed valuation either to the office or call 395-1545.

Land control battle gets public hearing

Lakeland Newspapers

The sewer battle for the right to service some 50,000 acres of open land east of the village near Rtes. 45 and 173 will be settled on June 3, when the Northern Illinois Planning Commission (NIPC) makes its decision on who will have the sewer controls.

The Villages of Antioch and Lindenhurst, along with the Lake County Board and the North Shore Sanitary District all would like to gain sewer control over the undeveloped land east of Antioch. The winner of the NIPC decision will net millions of dollars in additional revenues and would be the major decision authority on how the land would be developed in the future.

Antioch Mayor Marilyn Shineflug said she was not totally up to speed on the hearing process or what the new village board's plans are for the undeveloped land. Shineflug and the new trustees, Marv Oldenburger and Dorothy Larson just took office on May 3.

Village Administrator Tim Wells added that the board was preparing for the May 11 meeting and once a concrete plan

Thanks mom

A mother's endless labors and unconditional love are often taken for granted. The "thank you" she receives are sometimes few. But when given from the heart, they are many. Five-year-old Brian Kippel says "thank you" to his mom Sandy for the gifts she has given him. — Photo by Gene Gabry

ACHS students warned with prom nightmares

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

With prom and graduation approaching, area parents are beginning to wonder if little Jack and Jill are going to make it home from their last few hours of high school and all that surrounds graduation.

In an effort to help these young adults understand the consequences of driving while under the influence of alcohol or just riding in the car of a drunk driver, Antioch Community High School's Student Assistance Program Director Cathy Cratty, along with the financial support of Dave Brook of the Antioch Domino's Pizza franchise, brought a special expert to the school to give the students a stirring, inspirational speech on his experiences with teens driving drunk.

His name is Lt. Pete Collins of the Mississippi Highway Patrol and he has, in his words, committed the cardinal sin of letting his police work become personal and his reason for living.

"As sure as God has made green apples, I've committed the cardinal sin of life. I've let my job become personal," said Collins to two groups of juniors and seniors set to go to the school's prom on May 7. "People have said that I'm crazy.

— Lt. Pete Collins

This is my day off and I'm spending it flying up to Illinois to share with you my experiences."

Collins, the public affairs coordinator for his state's safety patrol, began his hour presentation by telling the ACHS audience that the leading cause of death for young people are vehicle accidents, 56 percent of which are alcohol related. His

Warren Packers plan sign-up dates

GURNEE—Warren Packer football program will conduct registration for the 1993 school year. Sign-up will be Saturday, May 15 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Warren Twp. Center, 17801 Washington St., Gurnee. All residents from age nine to 14 at the start of practice are eligible. Fees are $60 for one football player, $50 for the second and maximum of $110 per family. A $25 refundable deposit to be paid later at equipment hand-out. This includes two personalized jerseys players may keep.

Chain could open this weekend after closure

CHAIN O' LAKES—The closure of the Chain O' Lakes by state officials last weekend because of high waters and floating debris may be lifted by the weekend, according to Emergency Services and Disaster Agency Director Pete Jakstas. A lifetime resident of the Chain-region, Jakstas said that he has never seen the Chain closed in his more than 50 years on the Chain. Jakstas told the village board on May 3 that this was the worst flooding in the region since the 1986 flood, which was only 5 inches higher than the crest of the Chain water last weekend. Gov. Jim Edgar declared the Chain region from Lake, McHenry and Kane Counties State Disaster Areas, which qualifies them for Federal disaster relief if President Bill Clinton also declares it a disaster area.

District Worker fights his firing

ROUND LAKE — Larry Erickson, who was fired by Round Lake District 116, claims we was fired unjustly, and the process leading to his dismissal was unfair. He claims there was no valid reason for his termination. District 116 Assistant Superintendent Mary Davis said he had a long list of job related misconducts.

Volo has a two-year wait for next election

VOLO—Volo, the newest municipality in Lake County and probably the State of Illinois, will have a long, hard road to hoe during its two-year wait for the next municipal elections, according to Attorney Rudy Magna. Magna, who is versed in municipal government legislation and helped the Village of Beach Park, added that the village will seem to be in a state of limbo for nearly two years, because the village will not be able to hold a municipal election until the spring of 1995.

Sewer fight, winner gets profits and land

LAKE COUNTY—Antioch, Lindenhurst, the Lake County Public Works Department and North Shore Sanitary District are all vying for a lucrative sewer contract in the east of Highway 45 and south of Route 173. The winner gets the sewer contract and control of 50,000 acres of open land. There was a private session held at NIPC headquarters in Chicago where all the affected entities presented proposals for the contract. A public session on the issue will be held at 4 p.m. at the College of Lake County on May 11, each entity will get 5 minutes to present their proposal to the public. NIPC will take the public comment, the private session and staff recommendations when it reaches its final decision in June.

Senior complex to open in November

FOX LAKE—Construction is continuing at a fevered pace for Fox Lake's newest housing development, the Lilac Apartment Senior Housing Complex, due to a mild winter. The complex planned and fronted by area brothers Leonard and Dr. William Dam, presently is the only senior housing program under construction in Illinois. The complex, when completed in November, will house 200 seniors in a unique atmosphere for affordable housing. Leasing reservations begin on May 10 on a first come first served basis.

Sandburg students construct rainforest

MUNDELEIN—Students at Carl Sandburg Middle School in Mundelein want to know what President Clinton is doing to protect the rain forests and what they can do to help. Working under the direction of student teacher Cheryl Kokaska, the seventh-graders have constructed a paper rainforest complete with howler monkeys and liana vines as part of their unit on ecology.

Gov. Edgar shows support for base

GREAT LAKES—Illinois Governor Jim Edgar toured the Great Lakes Naval Training Center on May 5 to demonstrate his support for the base in advance of his testimony before the Base Realignment and Closure Commission in Detroit, May 12. He visited the gas turbine school, base headquarters, the gunnery school and spoke with Naval recruits at their barracks.

McKeever new chief

LINDENHURST—The Lindenhurst Village Board hired Jack McKeever to be the police chief of Lindenhurst. He was a lieutenant and a Patrol Watch Commander for the Highland Park Police. He will be formally appointed at the next board meeting on May 10. His first work day is July 1.

Mundelein-Vernon Hills Rotary hosts

MUNDELEIN—The villages of Mundelein and Vernon Hills have six new honorary citizens from Sweden. People in the area gave a warm welcome to for the group of travelers who were part of the Group Study Exchange Program of the Rotary Foundation. Mundelein High School with its aviation program was one of the stops for four of the six members.

Chamber to host its annual carnival

ISLAND LAKE—The Island Lake Chamber of Commerce will host its annual carnival next week to establish funds for projects such as scholarships, according to Carol Ribar, publicity chairman for the Chamber. The event will take place, May 6-9 at Tower Park on Rte. 176 in Island Lake.

Davis still is mayor recount verifies win

ROUND LAKE BEACH—Ralph Davis is still the mayor of Round Lake Beach after a recount showed the exact same results as election night. Davis garnered 1205 votes and former mayor Carl Schrimpf had 1202 votes. The recount rechecked precinct totals from districts 20, 26, 27, and 156. Lake County election Administrator Mary Ellen Vanderverter is satisfied with the recount and the way the ballots were counted on election night.

Hard To Find

Where do you find a good life partner? I am passed the bar scene and 37 years old. I am looking for an honest man to be my best friend.

Need New Board?

I am the first person who complained about the dispute in the Round Lake School District. Mary Davis was picking on Larry Erickson for political reasons last night. There was a hearing to remove him which went on until 2:00 AM. He was immediately terminated. The charges brought against him were not good ones. There were over fifty character witnesses for Larry, but it did not do any good. When the election comes up, we will see a new school board!

In The Bushes

Hey, Village of Antioch, I was just curious about Centennial Park. Why is the park open but the restrooms closed? When I was there last week I saw a very pleasant sight. A lot of people were urinating behind the bathrooms because they were not open.

Bunch Of Crooks

I have a complaint against the Round Lake School Board. The district claims they do not have enough money for the kids to have all the classes they want. On the other hand, they turn around and they give the five people retiring big bonuses. Mr. Sherman is receiving $20,000 bonus despite the fact he has only held the job for two years. What kind of junk is this? The rest of the school board members are a bunch of crooks.

Quits The Race

I am the person who lifted the gates on the crossing on Milwaukee over the Metra tracks. I did this so that other people could get home. Unfortunately, no one else would bother to help. There were three gentlemen waiting by the bus station who refused to hold up the gate. I was the only person willing to help others. It is sad that many folks will not lift a finger to help their fellow beings. If this is the direction of humanity, I am not sure I want to be a member of the race.

Hit The Button

I think a huge bill-board should be erected in Lake County warning parents of children that their kids will probably not be able to get a good enough education to go to college. I am from Round Lake and would like to say that if Antioch, North Chicago, and other schools are forced to close their doors it is time to hit the panic button. The teachers are not the ones to blame, the subdividers are.

Self Indulgent Big Mouths

The decision to not renew Dr. Sherman's contract just shows what a dense quality of people we have in Round Lake making decisions for us. Wake up! Vote for qualified people for the school board, not self-indulgent big mouths. Anyone who has ever attended a school board meeting in Round Lake can pick them out. How bad can a man be that lives in Round Lake, shops in Round Lake, and sends his children to the school? Congratulations on your retirement and thank you for the quality of education you brought to the area.

No More Showers

I want to thank all of those dump truck drivers who shower us with rocks, pebbles, and other various debris. Being the owner of a classic muscle car from Lake Zurich, I am sick and tired of it. Something needs to be done about this.

Extra Talented

I went to the talent show held at St. Gilberts and I would like to congratulate all the participants. Especially, the Sister act!

No Barking Matter

People who have dogs barking day and night should keep them under better control. We live in Island Lake and there are more dogs barking constantly than there are people. If you own a dog, put it in your house at least at night.

Get On The Bus, Gus

This goes out to the parents who like to park in their neighbors yards while their children wait for the bus. Heaven only knows why you can't walk. And, don't turn around anymore in my driveway. Next time, I will block you in and you can sit there all day. There is a no parking sign out in front of my house. If you can't read it, maybe you should get on the bus!

Taking Care Of Business

I think the election in Wauconda was pretty shady. During the mayoral debates, one candidate left early and had his wife do his dirty work. Furthermore, anyone who gets $10,000 worth of donations from out of the village sources and only wins by 29 votes is probably not going to be the best candidate. When the builders come around Wauconda with their hands out, I am sure the Mayor will be quick to take care of things.

Take A Look

I wish the tax assessor from Antioch would come out and look at the lake front homes. He needs to answer to us about why he has doubled and tripled our taxes while we have to live under such horrible conditions.

Down The Drain

I was wondering how long it will take CNA to approach the Village of Wauconda now that we have Mayor Eschenbauch. I bet it won't take long and the approval will go through quickly since Eschenbauch has such a close financial relationship with developers. I think Wauconda is going down the drain!

Where Did He Go?

By the way, to the person who wrote "A Little Too Old", guess what? Before the campaign, Hampel's younger son did NOT attend Wauconda Grade School. He went to Freemont.

Who's Counting

I am from Fox Lake and wonder how the votes were tallied in our recent election. The incumbents formed the grass-roots party. Just punch 71 was the password. They (Continued on page 13)

Strategy takes shape as base returns to list

Lake County has until early summer to prove its point — Great Lakes Naval Training Center should not be closed. Hours after the federal Base Closure and Realignment Commission allegedly placed Great Lakes on the "hit list" for termination, Lake County Chairman Robert Depke (R-Gurnee) and VOICE co-chairman Ron Weeks called a conference to discuss the center's future.

CLC board seeks approval to meet ADA requirements

The College of Lake County board of trustees have voted to seek approval from the Illinois Community College Board for about $345,000 in renovations on the Grayslake and Lakeshore campuses to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act. The renovations will include modifying elevators, water coolers, bathroom facilities and doorways.

If the projects are approved by ICCB, the college has the option of funding them through a Life Safety tax levy. But, according to Arthur E. Kent, vice president for administrative affairs and the college's chief financial officer, the levy would be restricted by the property tax cap and would not increase taxpayers' bills.

The board also voted to seek permission from the ICCB to apply an already awarded capital renewal grant allocation of $79,300 toward widening Lancer Lane and constructing a new entry into the east parking lot. The work would be performed as part of the construction of the new multi-use classroom building and instructional performing arts building. Construction of the two buildings scheduled to begin early this summer.

Also related to facilities, the board approved a new rental space agreement with the Lake County Area Vocational Center specifying a rate of $117,700 in fiscal year 1993-94 and $126,000 for fiscal year 1994-95. The negotiated rate, a seven percent increase in each of the two years, provides the college with additional classroom rental space and covers increasing maintenance costs.

The board also approved a student senate initiative to raise funds for scholarships through construction of a walkway made from bricks designated with the names of donors. The event will be held in the spring of 1993; each brick will cost $30. Funds raised will be applied toward the Talent Leadership Awards and the Jackie Dungan Memorial Scholarship.

Additionally, the board approved fund-raising program areas proposed by the CLC Foundation for fiscal year 1994. These include institutional grants to support faculty and staff projects, scholarships for international study and the Talent-Leadership awards program, and a capital campaign to raise funds for the instructional performing arts building.

In his monthly report, President Daniel J. LaVista informed the board that CLC will work with a non-profit group—Reduction/Recycling Education and Action for County Health—in conducting an environmental audit of the college's current recycling and waste disposal practices and in developing goals for increasing recycling and reducing garbage.

More than a pretty face

Polly is an exceptionally beautiful, 18 month old spayed female collie/shepherd mix. Polly has a silky, luxurious gold coat, dramatically streaked with black and cream highlights. Polly has had some training; she will sit on command. An active, strong dog, Polly is playful and still a puppy at heart. She needs a large fenced yard where she can exercise, romp and play. Polly loves children and is gentle. More than a pretty face, Polly will be a loyal family pet. Polly has been hoping for a family since September, 1992. She is available in cage 24.

Orphans of the Storm is located at 2200 Riverwoods Rd. in Deerfield. Hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., seven days a week.

Pets can be adopted for a $55 cash donation which includes spay/neuter, collar,

CAN Meeting

The Community Action Now meeting originally scheduled for May 6 is rescheduled to Thursday, May 13 at 7:30 p.m. The purpose of the meeting is to give the final report and a presentation by S.B. Friedman and Associates concerning the downtown Antioch marketing study. The general public is invited and the meeting will be held in the board room in the Antioch Village Hall.

Licenses Extended

Restaurant and liquor licenses which were due to expire on May 1 have been extended to May 17. Due to some delays, all the necessary inspections have not been completed. In a letter from Lee Shannon to the Village Board, Shannon assured the Board that the inspections would be completed by the May 17 date. The Board has approved this extension.

Health fair

The First National Bank of Antioch is hosting a "Health Fair" on Saturday, May 8 at 485 Lake St. in Antioch.

The Desnick Eye Center will be providing cataract and glaucoma eye screening in the community room from 9 to 11 a.m. These exams are free of charge.

The North Point Mobile Mammogram Unit will be in the parking lot from 9 to 1 p.m. to provide mammogram x-rays at a cost of $60.

Abbott presentation

Dale Johnson, Director of State Government Affairs at Abbott Laboratories, will give a presentation concerning the development of the Old Mill Creek site on Monday, May 10, at 7:30 p.m. The presentation will be held at the Antioch Village Hall.

Antioch Sears closes doors

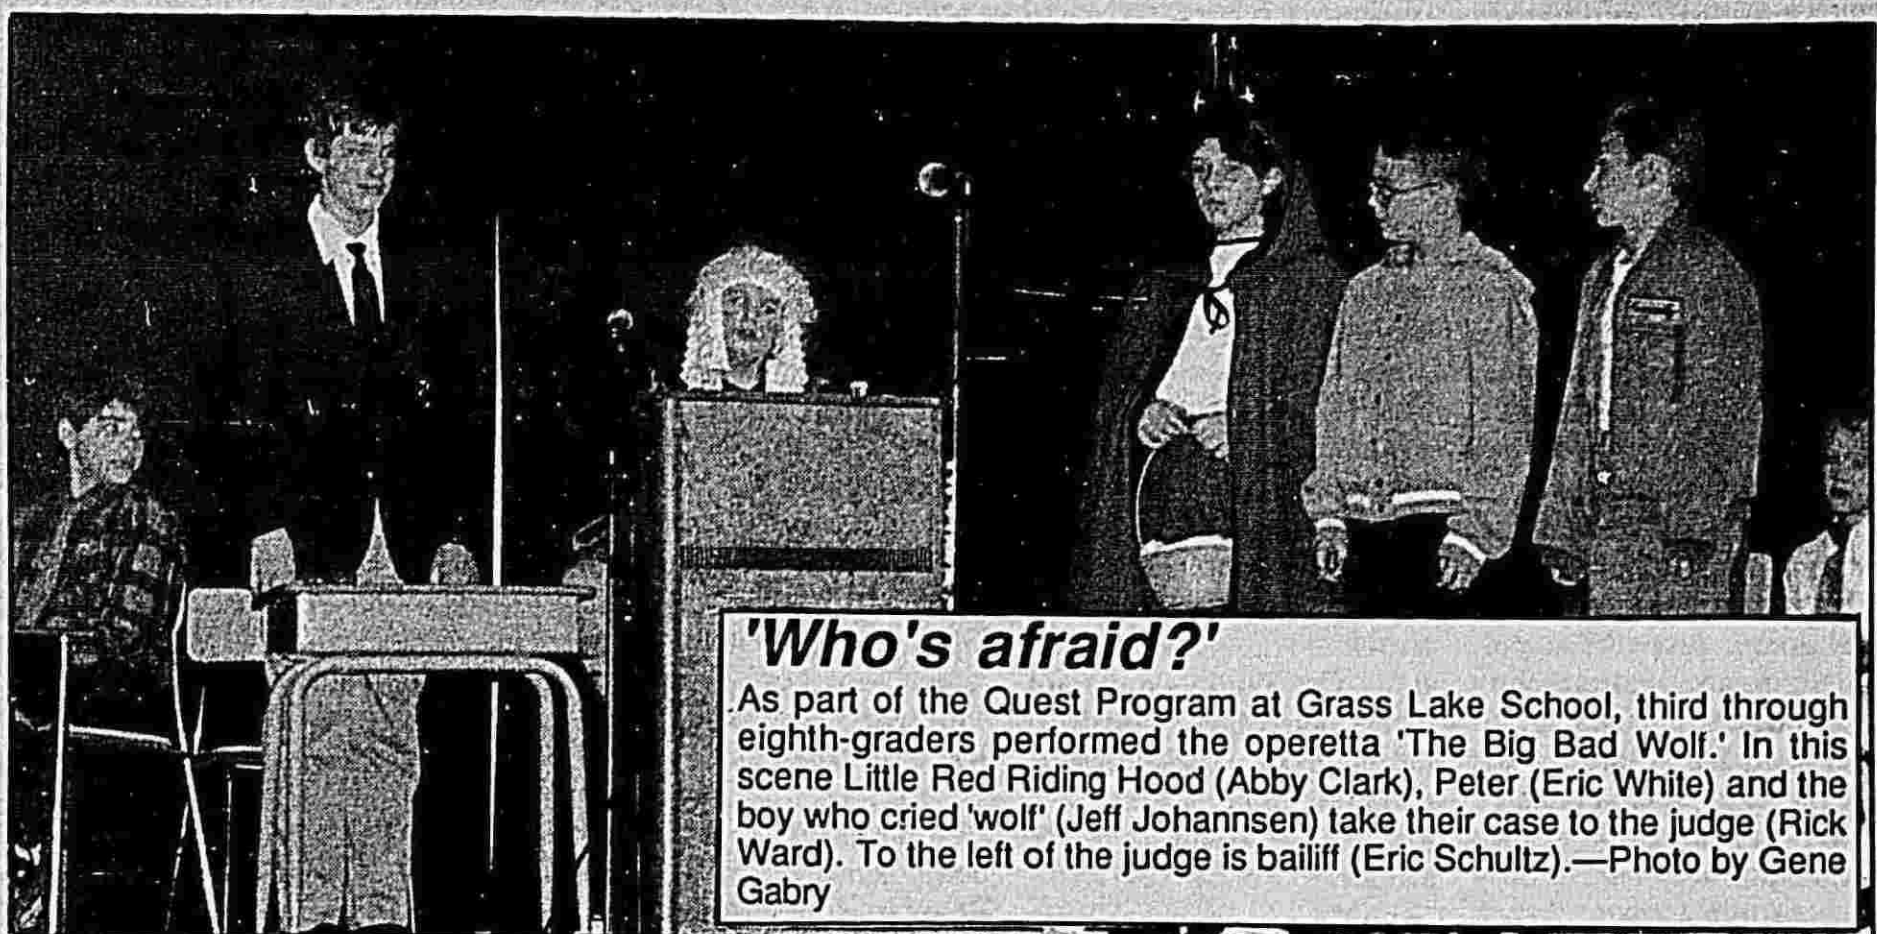

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

It's the end of an era for Walter Mozal and the Village of Antioch as the town's Sears Catalog and Appliance store closed its doors for the final time on May 4.

"As of May 4, we are done with Sears," said Mozal. "We hope to re-open the store with another dealer, but I'm just not sure when that will happen."

The catalog store, which was one of the 2,000 Sears outlets that have closed or will close in the near future, was a victim of the massive Sears corporate restructuring that occurred earlier in the year. The store closed after 21 years of service in Antioch.

The store will be closed at least until Mozal's July 1 target date and his former Sears customers can call 1-800-4-REPAIR if they have questions about their Sears products or need assistance.

Shineflug announces appointments

Lakeland Newspapers

Mayoral Elect Marilyn Shineflug was sworn in as the new mayor at the May 3 Antioch Village Board meeting. Trustees Dorothy Larson, Marvin Oldenburger and Ronald Cunningham were also sworn in. Candi Olsen took the oath of office as the Village Clerk. At the meeting Shineflug announced the motions for new appointments.

•Planning, Zoning, Building, Industrial and Retail Development Committee: Chairperson Marv Oldenburger and Ron Cunningham.

•Finance Committee: Chairperson Wayne Foresta, Don Amundsen, and Dorothy Larson.

•Public Works and Parks Committee: Chairperson Dorothy Larson and Mabel Lou Weber.

•Fire Safety Building Committee: Trustees Cunningham, Weber and Amundsen.

•IMRF Agent: Candi Olsen.

•Police and Fire Commission:

Ted Axton through April 30, 1995; Bruce Alquist through April 30, 1996; and Jerry Pankauskus through April 30, 1994.

•Redevelopment Commission: Marv Oldenburger was appointed to replace Mayor Shineflug.

•SWALCO Committee: Marilyn Shineflug with Tim Wells as alternate director.

•Chief of Antioch Fire Department: William Carney.

The motions for the appointments were approved in their entirety by the newly seated Village Board.

"We should have the rest of the appointments in two weeks" said Shineflug. "After I get done with the interviewing process, we will be able to make our decisions."

Waterway Agency ready for season

Lakeland Newspapers

The future of boaters along the Chain O' Lakes and the Fox River waterways is so bright, they will have to wear shades during the long summer, thanks to the agency assigned to its health.

The Chain O' Lakes - Fox River Waterway Management Agency, which was designed to ensure the safety of both the lakes and the people who use them, was set to offer a world record number of projects and were set to get off to an early start, before the water in the area rose dramatically in April causing flooding in many areas near the Chain.

"The water is going down daily and we should be ready to get back on the water in the very near future," said Waterway Chairman Dr. William Dam.

The agency, which also received a new director on April 20, is set for its induction and swearing in ceremonies at the board's next meeting on May 13.

Director Wayne Blake and Antioch resident Robert Lindquist will be sworn in at the meeting and both are "extremely excellent people and both know the Chain" said Dam.

Lindquist, who will be serving his first term on the board, said, "We are moving in the right direction. I'm proud to be a part of the Waterway organization."

Blake, who is returning for his second year as a director, also believes in the waterway agency's work of the past few years.

"We have made a lot of changes for the better," said Blake.

Dam announced that the first work of the year will occur near Vacation Village in Antioch Township to get that area passable to boat traffic again. Other projects will span the entire Chain from Algonquin to Antioch throughout the entire summer.

Fr. Duffy to be missed

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

One of Antioch's favorite people and reverent church leaders, Fr. Bernard Duffy died of an apparent heart attack on April 29 while sleeping in his room at the rectory of St. Peter's Parish.

Fr. Duffy, who was born in Ireland in 1905, retired to the Antioch parish in 1977 after 47 years of service at various churches throughout Wisconsin.

"He came to us at the age of 70 some 16 years ago because he had some friends down here," said St. Peter's Pastor Fr. Lawrence F. Hanley. "He was a very wonderful priest. He visited the sick and did all kinds of spiritual work for the parish."

St. Peter's Parishioner Linda Pedersen added that Fr. Duffy remained active up until his death last week.

"He is going to be missed," said Pedersen. "He was very religious and talked about standing by your religion (Roman Catholic) and faith."

Fr. Duffy came to the United States in 1924 when he joined the Kenrick Seminary in Webster Grove, Mo. He is survived by two sisters, Sister Agatha (Kathleen) and Sister Calasactius (Susan) both of Ireland. He was preceded in death by his parents, Patrick and Mary (O'Reilly) Duffy, two brothers, Francis and Edward, and one sister, Maryann.

Fr. Duffy's funeral services occurred on May 4 at the Cathedral of St. Joseph the Workman, LaCrosse, Wis., the parish where he served as Priest before his retirement, and was buried in St. Joseph Cemetery in Baraboo, Wis.

Fire dispatcher recognized

The Antioch Fire Department, in a letter to the Village Board recognized and applauded the heroic efforts of Laurie Sunde, a dispatcher of the Antioch Police Department.

On April 2, Sunde received a phone call from a citizen trapped in a burning home.

Sunde was able to maintain phone contact with the endangered citizen while tracing the call with an Illinois Bell phone operator.

At a recent town meeting, the Fire Department and the Village Board recognized and applauded Sunde for her bravery above and beyond the call of duty.

Woodchuck shares dreams of flying with Lizard

First words

As promised, here is a writing from the pen of "The Woodchuck" and I quote exactly—"Do you recall your most reoccurring dreams from your childhood or how about those as an adult? The Lizard and I were sharing ours with each other and we were really surprised how many dreams we had in common. Can you believe we have both flown?"

I did it as a child like Peter Pan, whereas the Lizard has driven a car in her sleep, just like a pro. These dreams were often in color, three dimensional and the wind blew the hair out of our eyes. We had such a good laugh thinking we might possibly be the only two people to have taken off from our beds and land safely again into our pillows.

Might there be other frequent flyers out there? Please call the Lizard if you wish to join our "Aeronautical Dream Club." Any guesses as to the real identity of "The Woodchuck?" Keep reading.

AUGS

Numerous other students achieved High and Regular Honor Roll status.

Congratulations to all on a job well done.

What is it?

David Letterman re-

cently told a story about a very nearsighted person and it reminded me of this story from the past.

About ten years ago my friends Celia and Victor Bennett, Elaine Lasky and myself were taking a computer class offered through ACHS. One of our classmates wore very thick glasses obviously indicating he had poor eyesight.

On this particular evening we retired to the commons for a short break. Upon doing so this gentleman removed his glasses to rest his eyes. Celia walked in ahead of us and she heard the nearsighted gentleman ask for instructor if the students were preparing for a parade. Celia appeared at our table laughing out of control and it took her the entire breketime to choke out what made her laugh.

There was a CPR class being conducted in a section of the commons and the students were practicing their CPR techniques on several dummies.

Without the use of his glasses the nearsighted gentleman thought the students were engaged in parade preparations. Celia said even the instructor giggled over the man's eyesight error. We naturally re-entered the classroom accompanied by a bad case of the giggles.

Celia has a habit of dragging others down with her when laughter takes hold.

Forest School

Proud sister

Is there anything on the face of this earth as precious as a new born baby? In my opinion, yes, there is. An older sibling is just as precious in their reaction to and awe of the new little family member. One week after becoming a big sister, little Maggie McDonald walked into Camp Crayon with mom and little Emily Ruth. To say she was proud and excited is an understatement. She brought chocolate "It's a Girl" cigars for all the children and staff members.

She patiently explained the reasons to Miss Liz why Emily was just too, too little to go horseback riding with her, etc. She reminded everyone that we had to talk softly around the baby and when little Emily Ruth had the hiccups, she told me I could not try to scare them out of her like I did with the "big" boys and girls.

All in all I'd say she was as proud as any little/big sister could be and I'd also say that little Emily Ruth will have two mom's looking out for her—a mommy-mom and a sweet little sister-mom named Maggie.

Market day

Once again the Grass Lake School PTO Market Day Program will run throughout the summer months. In order to get the monthly order forms, your name may need to be added to the mailing list. If this is the case, contact Cathy Milovanovic, the Market Day Chairperson and have your name and address included on the mailing list. Once again, Cathy's phone number is 395-5850.

Dale Kitto, Dayna Kluth, Brigitte Leonard, Frank Nava, Lisa Olsen, Jeffie Pierce, Lisa Priller, Kerri Rognstad, Russ Schaller, Luigi Schmehl (our raccoon), Jennifer Schreiber, Ryan Staten, Sarah Struck, A.J. Teaters, Christian Ward, and John Webel.

Also do not forget that this Sunday, May 9 is Mother's Day. Weather permitting, the Lizard may be sitting under our big maple tree with her family and the family's newest addition Alyssa Janelle Filips. That's my version of a perfect Mother's Day.

Engagement

Kaiser-Berwick

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kaiser announce the engagement of their daughter, Kelley Ann Kaiser of Antioch, to Daniel Berwick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Berwick of Des Plaines.

The ceremony will be performed by Father Hamley of St. Peters, Antioch on May 29.

The bride-to-be is a 1987 graduate of Antioch and a student of Northern Illinois University. She is employed in customer service for the State Bank of Antioch.

The groom-to-be is a 1985 graduate of St. Victor's and a 1989 graduate of Winona State University and has a bachelors of science degree in accounting. He is employed by the US Treasury Department.

The couple plans to settle in Antioch.

Kelley Kaiser and Daniel Berwick

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Rivera

Stewart-Rivera

Jamie Ann Stewart of Antioch and Troy Edward Rivera of Gurnee were married on Oct. 17, 1992 at the Antioch Evangelical Free Church. Pastor Steve Sward officiated the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Jim and Jackie Stewart of Antioch. She attended Antioch High School and is employed at MLJ Enterprises, Vernon Hills.

The groom is the son of Reiko Rivera of Gurnee. He attended Warren High School and is employed at Electricians Union Local 150, Waukegan.

Izzy Rivera was best man. Groomsmen were Mike Rivera, Steve Swanson and Joe Stewart.

Andy Munson and Lenny DeAngelo were ushers. Mikey Rivera was ring bearer.

A reception for the couple was held at the church. The newlyweds plan to reside in Gurnee.

Athlete of the week

Dana Thompson was selected Athlete of the Week ending April 17. Dana placed first in high jump and long jump and second in the 100-meter dash in a triangular track meet against Zion-Benton and North Chicago. The First Chicago Bank of Antioch will make a donation to the school scholarship in her name. Congratulating Thompson are Robert Mueller, from the bank, and Head Coach Syd Klocke.

emotional presentation centered on the experiences he has witnessed during his 15-year career as a state trooper.

These stories told sad tales of young people, 15 to 18 years of age, who didn't make it to graduation day after being killed at prom parties where alcohol was served. One youth was the class president and had just introduced Collins to his classmates the day before he died in an alcohol-related car wreck that also killed three of his classmates.

"Someone in this room will not make it to the graduation stage to accept that diploma next month if statistics hold true," said Collins. "I hope that I'm wrong, but chances are someone will not make it."

Collins also told the story of how he became so personal with his work and the lives of the 30,000 students he speaks to each year at similar rallies against drunk driving.

"A beautiful young girl, who survived a terrible head-on collision with a drunk driver in a pick-up truck, asked me from the back seat if she was going to die," said Collins. "I told her God loved her and I loved her and that I was going to get some help to get her out. She didn't make it and I never got to keep my promise to her."

Collins said the family of that young girl who changed his life forever, lost all three of their children in that crash. It was one of the hardest calls on a family's home that he has ever had to make.

"To kill me, you would not have to shoot me," said Collins. "All you would have to do was to come to my home and tell me that my son Jeffrey would never be coming home again. He is all that I have."

Cratty added after the presentation that she witnessed a metamorphosis of the students from the beginning of Collins' presentation to the finale.

"The kids were not really paying close attention to him at the beginning," said Cratty. "But they sure were quiet after he began to tell his stories."

Cratty added that she wished she could have scheduled Collins later in the week, but added it was close enough to prom and graduation that it should make an impact on the student's activities for the next few weeks.

"This was real important for the students to hear," said Cratty. "I'm glad to see that they paid attention to him and his message."

Understand his message indeed, as several students rushed to the stage in the ACHS auditorium to greet Collins after his presentation.

He left them with this advice:

AARP enjoys belated party

Antioch Chapter 387 of the American Assn. of Retired Persons celebrated Easter at their meeting on April 27 at the Antioch Senior Center. A catered lunch was served to the members by Mr. G. The hundred members who attended to watch the parade of Easter bunnies also enjoyed the performance by the AARP All Stars Band which was dedicated to the memory of Charley Youlden.

Winners in the Easter Bonnet Parade were as follows: most beautiful-Millie Taber, most original (a tie)-Winnie Rasmussen and Eleanor Clark, and funniest-Bernice Bernau.

Volleyball takes second

Congratulations go out to the Antioch Upper Grade School girl's volleyball team for placing second in their conference with an 8-4 record. Good attitudes and teamwork lead them to may key victories, said AUGS volleyball coach Sandy Borries. The 1993 team members were: Managers Angie Kendziora and Molly Welch, Eighth-graders Chaneice Cermak, Linda DeSalvo, Kris Julian, Sophie Liarakos, Jeanna Miller, and Sherri Toney. Seventh-graders Jenny Gussarson, Nicole Langley, Emily Levin, Kristin Lynch, Jenny Piefer, and Krista Wiewel. Sixth-graders Katie Anderson, and Krista Hintz.

Letters to the Editor

Shame on voters

Shame on the voters of Antioch High School Dist. 117. Shame on you for not supporting the future of your community. Shame on you for not supporting the children that will grow to adulthood in Antioch. Shame on you for driving good people from our community. Shame on you for not supporting the Antioch Building and Education Fund in the last election. Because of your shortsightedness in not voting yes on this most critical issue the complexion of this community is already changing.

Families are questioning whether or not the Antioch area will continue to be the place to raise their children. Good people; people who have given to themselves to your community will be leaving the area. If a quality high school education is not available here you can be sure people will find it elsewhere. They may find it in southern Wisconsin, in another area of Lake County or even in another part of the country. But those families who believe that the quality of a community is largely dependent upon the quality of the public education it offers will surely be looking elsewhere.

The Antioch area is certainly not the same community it was 10 years ago. There has been tremendous growth. Hundreds of new families have joined us. Hundreds more will want to come. The first question they will ask is "How are the schools?" How will you now respond when you know the high school district needs to cut basic services just so they can pay the bills? How will you respond?

Highway heroes

When I left for work Saturday morning at 7:30 a.m. the flood waters had crested, sand bags from the Antioch Township Highway Dept. were in place and I breathed a sigh of relief as I pulled out on North Ave. and headed for work.

At 11:30 a.m. I received a call from a friend and neighbor, Dennis Kinst. "Claude, the winds are reaching 45 mph, the lake has surged five inches and the waves are battering down our sand bags. I need sand and bags immediately to hold the waters back. Please get some help quick." I phoned Mark Ring at the township garage and explained how desperate my situation was, minutes were critical. I then called friends and neighbors for help.

The Antioch township truck arrived in fourteen minutes with a load of sand and bags and my friends and neighbors rallied to keep the flood waters back.

My situation was one of many. The Antioch Township Highway Dept. under the leadership of Supervisor Mark Ring, were responsible for saving a countless number of homes.

ANTIOCH Illegal dumping

Antioch Police reported that on May 1, two Antioch residents were arrested and charged with illegal dumping of broken bricks in an empty field.

Brian A. Mark, 19, of 511 Maplewood Dr., and Michael J. Habel, 18, of 25380 Richmond Ave., were arrested and brought into custody after a neighbor near the Windmill Creek subdivision saw the two dumping something into the field.

DUI

Antioch Police reported that on May 1, a Wisconsin man was arrested and charged with driving under the influence of alcohol after missing a stop sign and speeding.

Christopher B. Hallet, 30, of 8315 Schall, Burlington, Wis., was charged with speeding, failure the stop at a stop sign and driving under the influence after police stopped him for missing the stop sign at Depot and Anita streets and traveling 45 m.p.h. in a 25 m.p.h. speed zone.

Revoked license

Antioch Police reported that on April 30, a Kenosha man was arrested and charged with driving on a revoked drivers license after police stopped him for a broken tail light.

John J. Higgins, of 12454 41st Ave., received citations for having a broken tail light and driving in Illinois on a revoked drivers license. Higgins had a valid Wisconsin license.

Band concert

Antioch Upper Grade School's junior and senior band spring concert is scheduled for May 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the Upper Grade School Gym.

School closed

Area public and private school will be closed on May 31 for Memorial Day. Schools will resume classes at their regularly scheduled times on June 1.

AUGS graduation

Antioch Upper Grade School's graduation dinner is set for June 1 from 6:45 to 10 p.m. in the Upper Gym Cafeteria/Gym. Graduation for the eighth-graders will be on June 3 at 8 p.m. at Antioch Community High School. Graduating students do not have to attend school on graduation day.

School last day

The last day of school for Antioch District 34 students is June 7 from 7:55 to 9:15 a.m. Awards and final report cards will be distributed on that day. The last full day of school for students will be June 4.

Sports physical

Area students who wish to participate in any sport for the 1993-94 school year will need an updated physical examination before trying out for any sport under Illinois state law. Physicals must be dated by a licensed physician on or after June 7.

Spring Art/Music

The annual Spring Art/Music exhibit is scheduled for May 19 and 20 in the school's gym. There will be more than 600 paintings, drawings, and clay projects to view in addition to the spring concert.

Katie LaPlante accepts her award from Robert Gagnon, past president of the Exchange Club of Antioch and chairman of the Student of the Month Committee.

Student LaPlante honored for community activities

The Exchange Club of Antioch announced the winner of the April Student-of-the-Month Award. It is Kathryn LaPlante of Antioch, who is currently a junior at Antioch Community High School.

LaPlante was honored for her activities in the community as a PADS volunteer and with the church youth group, and at school which include the National Honor Society, ALPHA, and the track team.

LaPlante was honored with a framed certificate and a check for $50 to help with activities or college application expenses.

LaPlante will now be eligible to participate in the National Student of the Year Award which awards a $5,000 scholarship to the winner.

Applications for the local Student-of-the-Month Award are available from the high school guidance office.

The Exchange Club of Antioch is dedicated to serving the community through promotion and prevention of child abuse. They meet every Tuesday at Struggles Restaurant, in Antioch, from 7:15 to 8:15 a.m. New and prospective members are encouraged to attend.

Members participate in a variety of programs and services which include Operation Identification (engraving tools are available at the Antioch police station), Student-of-the-Month Award, SHARE/Food, and the Freedom Shrine.

The first annual Antioch Youth Baseball sponsor appreciation dinner was held at Antioch Community High School.

The dinner was given to thank all the sponsors who support the AYB program including a special thank you to the Antioch Lions Club, Antioch Rotary Club, and Benson Electric for their considerable financial support.

Also, a brief presentation to announce the formation of a Challenger Division was given. The Challenger Division is for children with special needs who want to play organized baseball but are unable to play or keep up on a regular little league team. A fun and successful baseball season is expected thanks to all the generous sponsors.

Blitz remains undefeated

In Lindenhurst soccer club girls traveling team action this week the U-14 Blitz remained undefeated (3-0-1) after two games this weekend, one a make-up game. First the Blitz played to a 2-2 tie in Rockford, with goals by Stacie Morley (1) and Carrie Goeror (1). Game two was a 5-2 victory in Park Ridge.

The U-12 Power traveled to Darien to play the Diamonds. Defense was the name of this game with the final result a 1-1 tie. Again this game the Power dominated through both halves, the power goal scored by Jamie Wismer was a beautiful left foot shot that caught the post and went in.

The U-10 lightning was also involved in a defensive battle. This game ended in a 0-0 tie. Brilliant defense and goalkeeping highlighted this contest.

told us we could still vote for someone else, but just punch 71. This did not make any sense. If no one was running for a particular position, okay. But, if there were two or more candidates, I canceled out my own vote! Still, there seemed to be too many voters. Who counted these things?

Art Critic

Thank you Mr. Doug Ploss for your entertaining cartoons in the April Lake Villa elections. Are you proud of your artwork? NOT!

Who Is The Artist?

It seems as though there has been a mistake. The campaign cartoons from Lake Villa were done by Mr. Ploss. The woman on Black Cherry Drive only distributed them! Both were SURE party supporters. Too bad you can't run a clean campaign. Too bad, Mr. Ploss, you promised you would not get involved. Tsk, Tsk. It is a shame.

Just Run

Watch out Lake Villa Township, more is coming. If the "artists" want to do degrading cartoons of the candidates, why don't they just run for office and take their chances? Lindenhurst will be next.

Voters Beware

Beware, Lake Villa Township. Your next township meeting is May 11. And, June 29 is your annual township meeting delayed by candidates running for office. Please turn out in full force. Help protect your township. Only you can help.

Ready For The Funeral

In response to Fox Lake dying, no sweat! After all, we have an undertaker for a mayor. And, just in case, six pallbearers on the board.

Barrington Wanna-be's

As a new Lake Zurich resident, I am shocked by the seemingly superficial attitude of the local residents. Besides the less than gracious behavior we have encountered on the streets, even the children in local grammar schools have that "Barrington Wanna-be" outlook. Get real, Lake Zurich! Just because you have a little more money than the folks in my hometown Palatine, remember: manners are your greatest currency!

High Taxes Are Garbage

Hey, you folks in Round Lake and Grayslake area, stop dumping your yard waste, old furniture and etc... on country roads. Don't let me hear you complain about your taxes going up every year. You are the cause! Every time you dump stuff on these roads, Avon and Freemont Townships have to pick it up. How do I know this? Because I call them and notify them that some inconsiderate slob dumped their garbage on my street!

Can't Water The Dog

We have bad water here in Island Lake. We complain, complain, and complain. Now, I am going to start sending our bills back to them. We can't drink the water, we can't use the water for cooking, and I wouldn't give this water to my dog or cat! Not only do we have to pay the water bills, but then we have the added expense of purchasing safe bottled water.

Unlock The Doors

I just visited Centennial Park from Lindenhurst. It was really frustrating to see parents allowing their children to go to the bathroom outside because the Town of Antioch has chosen to not to unlock the restrooms! It is very sad and very unhealthy. I am surprised that the people who live near there put up with this. Hopefully, none of us will get sick.

Petition Hoax

To everyone who saw the letter about the petition to get prayer off the airwaves, you can relax. There is no such petition and there never was one. This is a rumor that has plagued the FCC for over ten years. This is a fictional petition to ban the reading of religious materials over the airwaves in the US. Save yourselves 29 cents. There is no such petition.

Field Travelers

I would like to ask a question to the Athletic Director of Antioch Community High School why it is that neighboring school can prepare their fields for their varsity girls softball games, but you cannot? Antioch girls will not be playing too many home games this season even with the offer of the little league field. You are not doing your job. Why aren't you out there checking out the fields? Does Antioch love to travel? Get off your *&# and do your job.

Nail Your Hides

How dare people drive into gas stations, fill up, and then drive off without paying! We are going to catch you one of these days. When we do, we are going to nail your hide to the barn door.

Check The Spelling

I read the Lake Villa Record and in the April 30 issue I noticed several misspelled words. I was only on the third page. Don't you have any proof readers there? Do you think the public is ignorant?

Get Your Facts Straight

For those of you who wrote about "It Can Get Worse", I don't know what paper you read, but I read it was two, not one fetus in the glove compartment. Furthermore, that woman in Ingleside had a miscarriage, not an abortion. By the way, you do not get to take the fetus home with you after an abortion is performed. I live in Round Lake Beach.

Antioch Is Lucky

I am a long time resident of Antioch. I wanted to take the time to thank the Antioch Rescue Squad. My wife was very sick one night and I called the ambulance at 2 a.m. Four young volunteer men left their homes to come and help my wife. The doctor said that they had saved her life. Antioch is very lucky to have such a dedicated rescue squad.

Look Around

In reply to the "Empty Main Street Days" in last weeks paper, I have a gripe to make. You said that the only thing in Round Lake Park is two bars and a gas station. Where have you been? Why don't you wake up and smell the coffee? I have lived in Round Lake Park for 18 years and on Main Street there are two pizza places, a couple stores, and yes, there are two bars. I don't know where you find the gas station. There is a beauty shop, a health clinic, a garage, barber shop, grocery store, pet store. Come on!

Editorial In Your Face

Lakeland's editorial, "In your face tactics by school board and school administrators" was written for Dennis Conte, the Superintendent of Woodland School and for board members.

Join The Circus

I just read in Lipservice that the clowns are running Lake Villa. Well, the clowns are running rampant in Round Lake too. Take a look at who was elected for the Village Board. They might as well join that group in Lake Villa. How can the new Mayor vote on an issue (Continued on page 50)

Flooding dilemma

Man courts his own destruction by building homes in natural flood plain areas.

One of the maddening things about flood control is that Mother Nature has her due, controls or not. Army Corps of Engineer officials are bantering around a proposed $136 million program to protect Des Plaines River flood-prone areas like North Libertyville Estates. All well and good. The state of Illinois built a dam at McHenry many years ago to control the Fox River and still there is periodic flooding in waterfront areas around Antioch and Fox Lake.

Ironically, most of the attention has been focused on the Des Plaines River flooding this year in Libertyville where no control measures are available. Homeowners along the Fox River surrounded by water the past several weeks are wondering when there will be an official inquiry about their situation.

A number of Chain O'Lakes residents who gather their data by looking out their living room window claim the normal winter draw down for the 64,000 acre body of water did not occur. Dropping the water level in fall provides holding capacity for melting snow and spring rains.

If officials of the Illinois Dept. of Transportation, who are responsible for the operation of the McHenry Dam, were neglectful, flood damage along the Fox River in Lake County was man-made. The same can be said for North Libertyville Estates where through man's own stupidity, damage was invited by permitting building to take place in a natural flood plain.

What's the bottom line of all this? Messing with Mother Nature is dangerous. If river banks are developed, be prepared to pay the consequences with or without dams or other control devices.

Let Clinton chart course

Editor:

I do not consider myself a "FOB" (Friends of Bill). If anything, I am far from a liberal. I merely think that the occupant of the office of the President of this country deserves time to chart a course, and that too much time is being spent "taking apart" every nuance made, rather than spending the time of the President and the cabinet plotting a course, they are setting legislation by "trial balloon" and "popular opinion."

Unfortunately, it appears even with a President and Congress being members of the same political party there is confusion and gridlock.

The citizens of this country are shifting too much of the responsibility of our society onto the President. More citizen participation is needed, and most importantly needed as soon as possible; and the participation should not only be from consumer activists, senior citizen activists, Civil Rights activists. Perot had the right idea; he had the money. Unfortunately, in my opinion he would have been even worse than that. It is a "hell of a comment" to make, but that is the way I see it until and unless Clinton, his advisors, Congress and their "soap box" can pull together.

Confused with welfare

Editor:

Calls to "Lipservice" have shown that there is a need to clear up some of the confusion about Social Security. The basic goal of Social Security is to replace income that has been lost to a worker and his or her family because of the worker's retirement, disability or death.

Social Security is not a social welfare program. The amount of the monthly benefit is calculated as a percentage of the worker's average earnings, and benefits are generally paid without regard to the beneficiary's financial circumstances.

Social Security is a social insurance program that provides a package of benefits for workers of all ages and their families. For senior citizens, Social Security provides financial stability of retirement income. In fact, Social Security keeps 36 percent of beneficiaries over age 65 from living in poverty.

For younger people, Social Security protects against the financial disaster of a family breadwinner's untimely death or disability. Over 30 percent of Social Security benefits are paid to the survivors of deceased workers and to disabled workers and their families.

No single program—public or private—has protected the financial well-being of as many Americans as Social Security.

Campaign boast corrected

Editor:

Ralph Swank and I are still poles apart in our philosophy of government, open space and the outrageous spending of his administration, however the public has spoken and they make the final decision.

There are always one or two humorous events in every campaign. One that glares out in this campaign is Roger Hartman's comment that he knocked on many doors supporting the 1985 Open Space referendum. The fact is Hartman's precinct was one of the few where the referendum failed.

I will support Swank's administration when the taxpayers' interest is being served, and opposed it when it is not.

More handguns than ever in private hands

by BILL SCHROEDER

Consider yourself lucky to live in a community where the biggest complaint is high taxes. How would you like to live in a town where murderous street crime is the No. 1 concern?

Fortunately, there aren't very many stories about killing in this newspaper, but we're beginning to get more information about guns and gun trafficking. That's worrisome.

Mull over these statistics: In 1990, there were 2,419 homicides in Germany; 1,145 homicides in England and Wales, and 23,438 homicides in the United States.

There were 50 million guns in private hands in 1950. Reports says the number has doubled every 20 years to about 200 million today—mostly handguns. That's scary.

The abundance of guns in this country becomes even more scary when the rise of gang activity is noted. Gangs have guns. We're getting more gang activity around here so that means there are more guns.

DEVOTED—Flood waters interfered with wedding plans of Grant Township Highway Com. Jack Kiesgen who scrubbed a Caribbean wedding trip to stay home and fill sandbags. Jack and Kimber had a wedding on the beach planned, but canceled out when duty called. They expect to reschedule when the flood waters subside.

PRAISED—Ousted Lake Zurich Mayor Jim Kay is winning more praise as a defeated candidate than he ever did while in office. Kay was lauded in full-page ads in area newspapers last week for correcting serious infra-structure problems and improving relations with neighboring municipalities.

Kay was rapped by opponents for allowing bickering and backstabbing to dominate Lake Zurich council affairs. The bickering and backstabbing was carefully orchestrated by his foes. Newly elected Mayor Debbie Vasels will need a twin to keep up the pace established by Kay, who was one of the hardest working village presidents this columnist ever knew.

REVERED—The untimely death of Dr. John Boehm is leaving some big shoes to be filled at Northwestern University Medical School and Evanston Hospital. Known as Jack during student days at Libertyville High School, Dr. Boehm earned valedictorian honors of his graduating class and went on to establish records of excellence and accomplishment whatever he did the rest of his life. His speciality was pediatrics. Jack Boehm's legacy is that there is a large number of highly motivated and well trained doctors because of his teaching. Our condolences to Mrs. Boehm and his three children. Jack easily was the most distinguished member of the LTHS Class of '47.

SAVING HISTORY—County Board Rep. Pam Newton is talking up the idea of establishing a historical district to preserve what's left of the once-thriving hamlet of Prairie View in Vernon Township which is being gobbled up by Buffalo Grove annexation. "There won't be anything left if something isn't done," exclaimed Newton, who fast is establishing a reputation for independence on Lake County's highest governing body.

Prairie View once possessed a general store, town pub, post office, church, railroad station, farm implement store, coal yard and a steam-powered grain mill that was converted to Diesel. The crossroads village off Rte. 22 was inhabited by retired farmers. The town was the seat of Vernon Township political power. Supervisors Alf Mather and Charles "Charlie" Herschberger ran the township from the counters of their shops. Today Prairie View is a shadow of its former self. Interestingly, the town still is home to township offices.

Family gambling?

Editor:

It was shocking to learn that the Lake County Family YMCA was holding a Las Vegas Night on the last day of April, including: "30 blackjack tables, two roulette wheels, a dice game, five poker tables, and a money wheel. Cost is $10 per person. There will be a $250 maximum on winnings. There will be modified rules to stimulate play and to help the YMCA raise funds."

We fail to see how this part of their program—Casino Gambling—can help to "rebuild the YMCA...spiritually" and in conformance with the "principles that have made the YMCA successful throughout its history."

We strongly object to the use of Casino Gambling as a fund raiser, no matter how worthy the cause. Moreover, Casino Gambling as a source of revenue is most inappropriate for an organization that titles itself the "Lake County Family YMCA." Since when has gambling become family-oriented?

Billion dollar bullet

Editor:

The last 100 days in Washington D.C. has brought us to a point of uneventful status quo. None of the massive federal indebtedness has been reduced. No federal spending has been eliminated.

Thankfully the one effort to massively increase spending has been killed. But in a wink of the eye, and possibly to catch some ink in the press, the administration and its lieutenants have found a way to place the United States even deeper in debt.

There was an announcement the other day that the Federal Government would develop the "Bullet Train" throughout the United States. One of Illinois' own U.S. Senators proudly announced this as a great program of the Federal Government again forgetting anything about the cost of running the government as he has done throughout his career. A $100 billion long-term project so that people can travel between Milwaukee and Chicago and other Metropolitan areas at speeds in excess of 100 mph.

Yet no one even considers the fact that from a physical standpoint with the heavy population congestion in the area there is no place to even put such a bullet train. Have our congressmen forgotten that our airline companies are already having financial problems due to reduced riderships?

One must conclude that our congressmen and U.S. Senators live in a vacuum where the only means of survival is spending money or at least finding ways to spend money. In this instance the "Bullet Train" may be more appropriately viewed as a bullet to bring our already lagging economy to its ultimate death.

Gravel pits are the pits

Editor:

It's indescribable, the amount of frustration and anger I, and most other owners of homes in North Libertyville Estates are feeling. It's absolutely time to stop the flooding in our subdivision. I would have thought after the first flood, something would have been done.

The people of the subdivision have been fighting the flooding for years as development goes on all around us. This only leads to making the problem worse and weakening their faith in the officials that are suppose to be representing them. The problems of North Libertyville Estates have been directly affected by the development in and around the flood plains and the continued use of forest preserve land for the gravel pit. Gravel pits are dumping grounds and greatly change the river that runs near it.

At one time the river was eight feet deep and sustained life. Now it is only inches deep and little life inhabits it. It's clouded with dust and dirt from the gravel pit. At one time there was talk that the gravel pit would be closing and changed back to forest preserve. That has happened. A meeting was held recently that stated that a dike would be built in 1994 around the river in the subdivision. I remain skeptical until something is given to me in writing.

It's a crime we pay such high taxes for homes that threaten flooding every single year.

Time to put schools on a strict diet

by JAMES TOBIN

In 1989, Springfield politicians passed the largest state tax increase in the nation, $1.3 billion, creating the Illinois recession and destroying more than 10,000 jobs each year since then. Now they say the income tax should be increased again because they made numerous "cuts" to the state budget.

But when was the budget of the State of Illinois actually cut? Is there anyone alive old enough to remember? When I say "cut," I don't use the word the way politicians do, when they mean "cut the rate of increase." I mean "cut" the way the word is defined in Webster's Dictionary. Certainly not within recent memory.

In 1988 the budget for the State of Illinois was $20.7 billion. By 1994, despite the "budget cuts" put in effect by Springfield politicians, the state budget will have risen to more than $29 billion. That's a mind-boggling 40 percent increase since 1988.

Where is the money going? Taxpayers have not seen their services from the state increase 40 percent since 1988. Illinois taxpayers have this sinking feeling that they are getting back less than 25 cents for each dollar that they are forced to send to Springfield, and they're right. Except for those who have jobs or contracts with the state or local governments, taxpayers are getting precious little for their tax dollars. If their children are attending private schools, they are getting even less.

Twenty three percent of the state budget in 1992 went to education bureaucrats, and 21 percent to public aid providers and recipients. That's 44 percent of the entire $27.6 billion state budget.

Test scores of public school students have been dropping for three decades. "Honesty requires me to ask you why you persist in funding an industry whose labor productivity by most standards is lower now than in 1940," says Ohio University Professor Richard Vedder. Why indeed? Practically all studies have shown that school achievement level and income of their parents, who impart values to their children that include the important goal of being well educated. One does not raise the income level of these parents (and the scores of their children) by raising their taxes.

But surely, one will ask, aren't public schools making good use of tax dollars? It depends on who defines "good." Education bureaucrats enthusiastically spend every tax dollar extracted from skeptical taxpayers. They even show a certain amount of flair in carrying out this task. Recently, in Morton High School Dist. 201, where some shop and gym teachers make over $61,000 for 8 1/2 months of employment, the Morton High School board and staff held a summer weekend workshop, not at a motel or hotel in their community, but at the Abbey, a honeymooner's resort in Wisconsin, where in three days they ran up a bill of $16,585.81, including a $500 bar bill. During the 1991-92 school year, the school board and administrators ran up $32,839 in credit card expenses, and $19,276 in travel expenses.

A 1991 study by NTU of Hinsdale High School Dist. 86 revealed that the two relatively small district high schools, each with approximately 1,500 students, were serviced by six librarians, receiving an average annual gross salary of $57,140, higher than the salaries of the librarians at the Library of Congress. At the two high schools, $100,000 was divided among teachers to coach the football teams to victory. This was on top of their hefty salaries and generous fringe benefits. $30,000 supplemented the incomes of the lucky staffers who got to coach the cheerleader and pom-pom squads.

Currently in Hinsdale High School Dist. 86, for an 8 1/2 month school year, the average gross salaries (including stipends) of gym teachers is $71,337 and four gym teachers receive gross salaries of more than $80,000. One gym teacher receives a gross salary of $86,426.

Taxpayers should ask why the number of Chicago Public School employees rose 12 percent from 1987 to 1991, from 41,389 to 46,257, when the enrollment dropped five percent in the same period. According to, despite the "reform" act of 1988, the Chicago Public School budget rose an astounding 52 percent from fiscal year 1987 to 1993, from $1.7 billion to $2.6 billion.

It is time the public school system in Illinois is put on a strict diet. Private industry has slimmed down, become more efficient, and more accountable to its clients. The same must be demanded of public schools and of their generous sugar daddy, the state government.

The bloated state budget should be cut—truly cut. The state income tax should be rolled back to 1989 levels: "The temporary" $400 million income tax surcharge that will expire this June 30 should not be reinstated, and the "permanent" $400 million income tax surcharge should be rolled back. Finally, the legislature should reinstate the property tax double deduction for homeowners. These actions will restore the more than 10,000 jobs that have been lost each year since 1989 and will improve parents income and their children's education. Taxpayers should demand no less.

Editor's note: James Tobin is president of National Taxpayers United of Illinois, the largest taxpayer organization in Illinois with over 10,000 members and affiliation with more than 300 local taxpayer organizations and homeowner associations.

Shareholders seek fine protection

DEERFIELD—A public retirement fund that owns 947,000 shares of Baxter International Inc. is asking for assurances the stockholders will not have to pay fines assessed against the health company for illegally sharing business information with Arab nations. Baxter pleaded guilty last month to charges it shared information with the Arab League in an attempt to remove itself from a boycott list it was placed on due to its dealings with Israel. An announcement on whether the stockholders are liable will come soon, said Baxter spokesman Geoffrey Fenton.

New hepatitis drug cuts death rate

VERNON HILLS—A new drug, produced by Vernon Hills based Gynex Pharmaceuticals Inc., has shown in a study by a peer-read medical journal, called Hepatology, that it significantly reduced the mortality rate in alcoholic hepatitis patients with moderate malnutrition. Some 1 million Americans suffer from alcoholic hepatitis, which has no approved therapy for the condition. The study was conducted by the Department of Veterans Affairs. Oxandrin-treated patients lived an average 20 months longer than those treated with a placebo.

Goodwill donations at area Wal-Marts

GRAYSLAKE—Goodwill Industries of Lake County Inc. announced its schedule for visits to area Wal-Mart stores where residents can make donations to the non-profit agency. The agency will be at the Lake Zurich Wal-Mart on May 8 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., the Gurnee Wal-Mart on May 15 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and at the Round Lake Wal-Mart on May 22 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Donations of reusable household materials such as clothing, bedding, dishes, books, electronics, sporting goods, tools, toys and other items are appreciated. Tax receipts are provided at each site.

Wauconda business breaks new ground

WAUCONDA—Hydra Corp., a design build contractor in Wauconda, has broken ground for a new 140,000 square-foot manufacturing facility for Henri Studios, Inc., manufacturers of quality stone garden decor materials. The new facility designed by Hydra, will be ready for occupation by Nov. 1. This is the 18th building in the Wauconda Industrial Park.

CLC course for new retirees

GRAYSLAKE—Issues affecting soon to be retirees will be discussed at the College of Lake

County's "Retiree U," a three-week course offered from 7 to 9:30 p.m. on May 18, 20, and 25 at the Grayslake campus. Topics discussed will include estate planning, long-term health care, financial planning and fundamentals of investments, social security, risk and economic management and creating your own retirement plan. The cost of the class is $48, which includes admission for two and course materials. To register, call 223-3615.

Master recycler training available

GRAYSLAKE—The University of Illinois Cooperative Extension, Lake County Unit is looking for 20 residents to be selected for training as a master recycler. Participants will be instructed about waste reduction, shopping techniques to reduce waste, and composting. There is no charge for the 40 of training, but 60 hours of community service will be required. The deadline for registration is May 7. For additional information, call 223-8627.

The Wharf revisited: It's a happenin' place

A little bit o' country, a whole lot o' rock 'n' roll.

That's the tune coming out of Jerry & Barb's Grattan's Wharf on the east shore of Deep Lake.

Lakeland visited Grattan's Wharf and neighboring Jack & Lidia's Resort last summer. Jack Grattan was forced by poor health to close his doors after Labor Day. Jack died this spring.

Jerry and Barb Brown reopened the dining, dancing and drinking establishment in November and they've been kicking some business behind ever since.

Lakeland Newspapers

"I've known the Grattan family for years," Jerry said. "We're just trying to continue what Jack wanted to make of this place. He was a great guy."

Jerry and Barb have picked up where Jack left off and moved forward. The Wharf offers great food and drink, live music, dancing and Karaoke.

Although both Jerry and Barb know their way around the kitchen, Danny Fisher is in charge of that area of expertise. He's plied his talents at several places including Mortimer Snerd's (the old Press Club) on Michigan Avenue in Chicago and El's Play Pier on Fox Lake.

"Everybody seems to enjoy the food here," Fisher said. "We have a great group of people who come in here and it's a lot of fun. We've got a little bit of everything. If it's not on the menu and we have what it takes to make it, we'll do it."

The Friday night all-you-can-eat fish fry and fish boil from 5 until 9:30 are big favorites. Lake perch and cod are the catches of the day.

While seafood and steaks are staples on the comprehensive menu, Danny takes special pride in his Giardineir pizza bread, baby-back ribs and Italian beef.

The kitchen opens at 11 a.m. every day. If you plan to dine after 7 p.m. on weekends, it's a good idea to call ahead.

Jerry & Barb are bringing in the best of area bands every Friday and Saturday night. Most of the groups offer eclectic sets of rock 'n' roll, blues and dance music.

If you fancy yourself an entertainer in your own right, Karaoke is the fare for Thursday nights.

On Sundays, The Wharf offers both kinds of music — country and western. There's a weekly meat raffle at noon, and the live C&W bands start up at 5.

"I enjoy the different things happening all the time," Jerry said. "There are so many things you're involved in all the time. It really keeps you occupied."

Summer breezes will carry in some new features including pontoon-boat dinner excursions, horse-drawn hay rides and horse-and-buggy jaunts. The hay rides will be a cooperative effort with Jack Krupka at Jack & Lidia's.

Mondays have become special days, too, with special prices: 75 cents for drafts and $1 for bottled beer and "watermelons."

Friendly weather will also mean dining al fresco on the back porch overlooking the lake and the opening of the beer garden. The Wharf will begin serving breakfast on the weekends in June.

Plans are already in motion for a three-day Memorial Day bash. A pig roast and live music by the band Reflex will be part of the festivities.

Baxter reports 16 percent gain in first quarter

Deerfield based Baxter International reported that first quarter earnings per share from continuing operations increased 16 percent to 43 cents per share from 37 cents per share the year before. Income from continuing operations rose 10 percent to $120 million from $109 million. Sales in the first quarter were $2.04 billion, up three percent from $1.97 billion in the year earlier quarter.

"Sales were strong in our biotech and renal businesses," said Vernon R. Loucks Jr., Baxter chairman and chief executive officer. "We're also making good strides in controlling expenses and in helping our hospital customers do the same." Baxter's selling, general and administrative expenses were relatively flat on a year-to-year basis, noted Loucks, and as a percentage of sales, these expenses improved from 22 percent to 21.5 percent. "Our ability to control costs is particularly important given the continued pressure to contain health care costs in America."

According to Loucks, the company is undertaking significant steps to ensure that the events which led to Baxter's recently concluded difficulties in the Middle East do not recur. "We must make every effort to prevent this from happening again anywhere in the world," said Loucks.

Baxter's 1993 first-quarter net income, including discontinued operations and the adoption of a new accounting standard for income taxes was $201 million, or 72 cents per share.

Income from continuing operations in the first quarter includes a one time $7.5 million pre-tax charge reflecting the company's settlements with the Justice and Commerce Departments and legal fees related to their investigation of the company's business dealings in the Middle East.

Baxter, through its subsidiaries, is the leading manufacturer and marketer of health-care products, system and services worldwide, with plants and interest throughout Lake County.

Antioch's Bingo Butler perfect for diehard players

To a potential market of 65 million bingo players across the country, Toni Wolfard, president of Bingo Butler Enterprises, a division of Ashbury and Associates, Ltd., has created designed, a carrying case/organizer for all the products the well stocked bingo player carries.

"I love bingo and had the idea, around five years ago, that the players needed an upscale carrying case that would be light, sturdy, and easy to carry. But, it has taken a great deal of time and effort to find just the right manufacturer who would be able to supply the high volume I anticipate," states Wolfard.

"Bingo players are a special crowd. Lucky charms and novel ideas appeal to this market. Most of the players carry their supplies in tin cans, plastic bags, or in a shoebox. The Bingo Butler is just perfect for organizing all these favorite items plus providing a dressy, but sturdy, carrying case with a comfortable shoulder strap. From a style and color standpoint, the Bingo Butler is appropriate for both the male and female user making it the ideal gift for holidays, birthdays, or special occasions," continues Wolfard. The Bingo Butler without supplies is usually purchased by what Wolfard refers to as "the seasoned player." This player has all the supplies and just wants the organization of the Bingo Butler.

The most popular selection according to Wolfard is the Bingo Butler Bonanza. The Bonanza is filled with everything from dabbers to tape, making it the perfect gift for those diehard bingo fans. Every style comes with a lucky charm, but the Bonanza edition also contains a mystery gift.

The Bingo Butler is being marketed and distributed by direct mail, newspaper ads, and personal appearances at bingo halls. During appearances, an authorized Bingo Butler representative presents the Bingo Committee with a free Bingo Butler to raffle and keep the proceeds of the raffle. After the raffle, the representative sells Bingo Butlers and gives the bingo hall 20 percent of the proceeds. Those who buy at that time, are given a bonus gift with their purchase.

"I like marketing directly because it gives me a chance to hear from my customers," said Wolfard. "In this manner, I can make product changes and improvements that will please them. Already, I have added a full inventory of bingo supplies so customers can order, by mail, items like chips, glue, tape, dabbers, etc. Bingo players like this convenience."

For more information about the Bingo Butler, contact Toni Wolfard at 838-0823 or P.O. Box 684, Antioch, Ill. 60002.

1st Chicago reports record quarter

First Chicago Corp. reported net income of $179.1 million, or $1.97 per common share for the first quarter of 1993. This compares with earnings in the first quarter of 1992 of $86.8 million, or $1.08 per share, before the cumulative impact of changes in accounting principals.

Excluding venture capital gains, earnings per share for the first quarter were $1.09. On a comparable basis, earnings were 35 cents per share in the 1992 first quarter and 85 cents per share in the fourth quarter.

"We are extremely pleased with the improving trend of core earnings. Each major business area contributed to this performance: revenues increased nicely; expenses were on target and the burden of credit costs was substantially reduced," Chairman Richard L. Thomas said.

"This earnings progress was complemented by continued strengthening of the balance sheet. Credit quality ratios for the quarter were excellent and capital ratios improved further," Thomas added.

First Chicago Bank has Lake County offices in Antioch, Lake Forest, Deerfield, Highland Park and Lake Zurich.

Tuscarora sells packaging interest

Tuscarora incorporated, who has a site in Antioch, announced it sold its 49 percent equity interest in White Knight Packaging Corporation of Grand Rapids, Michigan to Parmalat America, Inc., a subsidiary of Parmalat SPA of Parma, Italy. Tuscarora said it will realize a pre-tax gain of approximately $750,000 on the sale, which will be reflected in the results of the third quarter of fiscal year 1993.

White Knight provides aseptic packaging services on a contract basis.

tle" Jerry Wajda is the jack-of-all-trades.

About five years ago, Jerry operated The Show Lounge in Round Lake Park. When The Wharf was available, he decided to give it another whirl.

"I got a taste of it at the last one," Jerry said. "We did real well but we had contract problems."

Jerry's been a resident of western Lake County for 45 years. Old-timers will remember his father, Kenny Brown, who was the state deputy fire marshal in northern Illinois for many years.

At 6-foot-3 and a cheeseburger shy of 300 pounds, Jerry brings his own bouncer. Back in the early '60s, he was a cop in Round Lake Beach. His law enforcement career ended, however, when a suspect unloaded a shotgun at Jerry's head. After recovering from his wounds, Jerry went into the construction business.

A high heel shy of 5-2, Barb has been in the bar and restaurant business around the county and Chicago for several years, although she's a native of Tennessee.

"It's going according to plan," Jerry said. "Barb and I saw what could be done and everything's gone OK."

One reason for their success is the great number of people Jerry and Barb can count as friends.

"We've got a lot of friends throughout western Lake County," Jerry said.

"Plus, we've made a lot of new friends," Barb joined in. "Everybody likes Jerry — they just love him to death."

Jerry & Barb's Grattan's Wharf is located at 38564 N. Edgewood in unincorporated Lake Villa. From Grand Avenue (132), go north on Deep Lake Road. Take a left onto 2nd Avenue and that'll take you right into the parking lot.

If you want to know which band's playing, make dinner reservations — or you're just plain lost — call 356-0005.

Grubbs and Ellis sells building after successful leasing effort

After successfully completing seven lease transactions for more than 43,000 square feet, Grubb & Ellis has completed that sale of a 43,500 square foot industrial tech-center building within the Arbor Creek Business Center in Buffalo Grove.

Further, it represented the second time in less than five months that Grubb & Ellis has been involved in an industrial property sale within the Arbor Creek Business Center.

The investment division of Grubb & Ellis completed the sale of the building of behalf of a private investor, a local construction firm. The buyer is a local private partnership. While the final sale price was not disclosed, the original asking price was $3.3 million.

The single story, multi-tenant industrial facility was 100 percent occupied at the time of the sale. The building features seven spaces ranging in size from 3,500 square feet to 10,000 square feet and 14 feet to 16 feet clear ceiling heights. Tenants of the building share a common interior loading dock.

According to Ralph DePasquale, who along with Douglas P. Frye, vice president, also of Grubb & Ellis' investment division, represented the seller in the transaction, the factors that made the acquisition appealing included the building's high-quality construction, its 100 percent occupancy and the park-like setting of the Arbor Creek Business Center.

"More than anything else, all of these factors together provide a great opportunity for stable returns over the long-term," DePasquale said.

Grubb & Ellis had been the exclusive agent for the Barclay Boulevard building since it was developed in late 1989. During that time Steve Trapp, an industrial specialist, among others, completed seven transactions for more than 43,000 square feet of space at the building. Lease transactions ranged from 3,500 square feet to 10,000 square feet.

At the end of 1992, after 70 years on Loomis St. in Chicago, John S. Swift Company Inc. acquired a 52,167 square foot, still in shell form facility at 999 Commerce Ct., also in the Arbor Creek Business Center. Grubb & Ellis completed that sale transaction.

John S. Swift Company Inc. is an 80 year old commercial printing firm. In addition to its new facility in Buffalo Grove, the company has plants in St. Louis, Missouri; Cincinnati, Ohio; and Teterboro, New Jersey.

Additionally, over the course of the last three years, Grubb & Ellis has completed eight sale transactions for more than 225,000 square feet of space in the immediate Buffalo Grove area, including Arbor Creek Business Center and the Covington Business Center.

Grubb & Ellis is the largest full service real estate company in the US. It has offices nationwide including locations in Rosemont and Chicago.

Turning old barns into historic houses

New construction, housing developments, condominiums, these aren't for everybody. A man in Libertyville puts a new twist on old materials.

He takes old barns and makes them into beautiful homes. Rick Bott of R&B Enterprises confesses he takes antique collecting to an extreme. In his five acre lot, he collects and stores parts of old

Now refurbishing is three-fourths of our business."

The building of these barns was quite a process and a community event.

"These would be assembled on the ground by a master framer. He might barns which he matches to form new homes.

Currently Bott is working on a project in Silver Lake, Wis. He is taking parts of two barns, one was built in 1852 in Sheboygan, Wis. and another was constructed in Long Grove in 1882.

"We use all the wall frame, rafters, and the floor joists. The siding and miscellaneous boards are refinished. The floor, staircase, and casings are all made from antique materials. These are materials that usually go to the dumps.

"There are seven wall sections weighing 2,000 to 3,000 pounds each. They will raise them one at a time and plug in horizontal beams and those will hold the rafters.

"A home like this has a soul to it," he said.

Bott finds the barns in rural areas and in places where developments are coming in.

"I get them offered to me for free or pay a small amount for salvage rights. If it is in an urbanized area, I take them down as a public service because of development," Bott said.

He said each part of the barn is numbered before they are taken apart.

Bott became involved with refurbishing when he was working his way through college in the 1970s. The first barn he made into a house came from Grayslake in 1980.

"It was too beautiful to be torn down. We put it up in the Chain of Lakes area.

'A home like this has a soul to it.

spend the entire summer cutting this. It took maybe 100 people, so the farmer had to be on good terms with everybody. They would raise it up 8 to 10 feet and it would fit perfectly.

"By the end of the day a building would not only be erected, be sheathed and putting shingles on it.

"It was something of a major cultural event. It was where young men went and met their future wives," Bott said.

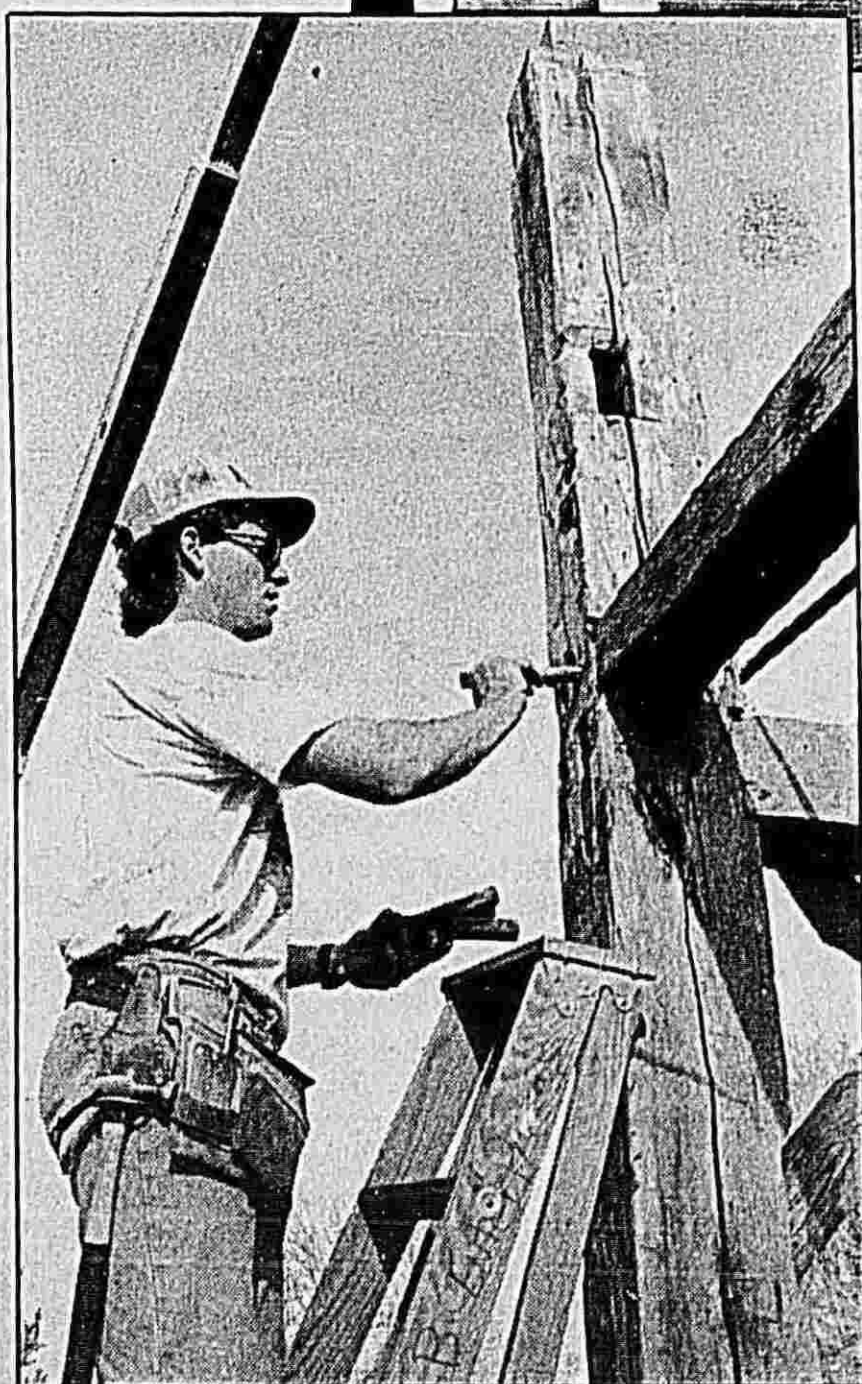

The wood the barns are made of is of better quality than anything that can be found at a lumber yard, he said.

He indicated the wood is crafted from a Northern European style. It was the finest wood, made by the finest craftsman.

"Some of this wood will never be found again. Some of the structures built of this material are still there since the Norman invasion in 1066," Bott added.

"The cost to build a home of old barn materials is about the same as the cost of a custom built home. The material costs for the wood is 35 cents to a dollar if you bought the lumber new," Bott added.

He is also working with the Hagar house in McHenry County. The house was built in 1870. It is a unique German architecture that is the only one of its kind north of Chicago.

Happy Mom's Day

Time for Dad and the children to surprise us with a special Mother's Day lunch or dinner. These recipes were selected as 'possibilities' for them to prepare.

Be sure and include lots of hugs and kisses for dessert.

Lindsey, Tiffany, Amanda, Lisa Ann, Hannah, Claire, Nicole and Ashley would like to wish their Moms the very best of days.

Fruit-Slice Cookies

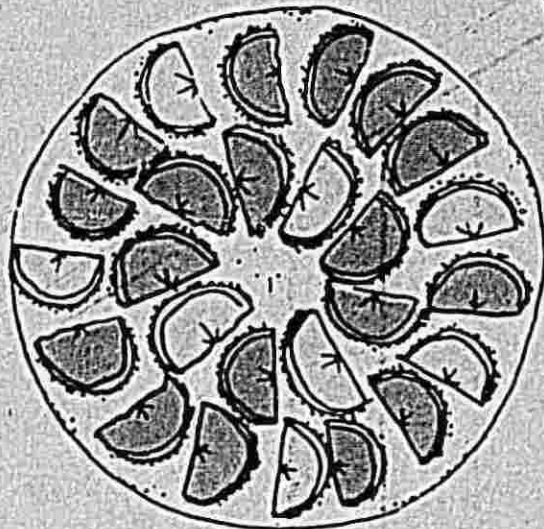

Pretty fruit slices with the taste and tint of citrus. They have the look of their candy-store cousins but with the hearty goodness of cookies.

- 1 cup butter, softened
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1-1/2 tsp. vanilla
- 3 cups flour
- 1 tsp. salt
- Food colors (yellow, green and red)
- 1-1/2 tsp. grated lemon peel
- 1-1/2 tsp. grated lime peel
- 1-1/2 tsp. grated orange peel
- Colored sugars (yellow, green and orange)

Mix thoroughly butter, sugar, eggs and vanilla. Blend in flour and salt. Divide dough into 4 equal parts. To one part, work in few drops yellow food coloring and lemon peel. To another part, work in few drops green food color and lime peel. To another part, work in few drops each red and yellow food color and the orange peel. (Leave remaining part plain.) Cover; chill 1 hour.

Shape each colored dough into roll, 2 inches in diameter and 4 inches long. Divide plain dough into 3 equal parts. Roll each part into rectangle, 6X4 inches. Wrap 1 rectangle around each roll of colored dough; press together firmly. Roll in matching colored sugar. Wrap; chill at least 4 hours.

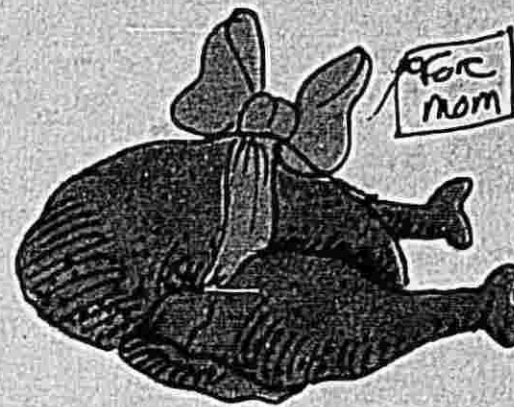

Heat oven to 400 degrees. Cut rolls into 1/8-inch slices. Place on ungreased baking sheet; cut each slice in half. Bake 6 to 8 minutes or just until set. Immediately remove from baking sheet. Makes about 10 dozen cookies.

Crunchy 'Oven-Fried' Chicken Variations

To bake with the skin or not? You decide! Try these oven baked varieties instead of deep fat frying next time. This is ideal to make for Mom's Day from Dad and the children.

Wash 3 lbs. frying chicken pieces. Pat dry. For any of the following variations, dip the chicken in liquid mixture. Coat evenly with crumb mixture. Place in single layer, skin side up, in well-greased baking pan. Drizzle with 3 T. melted butter if desired. Bake in oven at 350 degrees, about 1 hour or until chicken is tender. Do not cover or turn chicken while baking. Makes 6 servings.

Corn-Crisped Chicken: Dip in 1/2 cup evaporated milk. Coat with mixture of 1 cup corn flake crumbs, 1 tsp. salt and 1/8 tsp. pepper.

Baked Chicken Italiano: Dip in 1/2 cup Italian-style salad dressing. If desired, marinate chicken in dressing for at least 1 hour. Coat with 1-1/4 cup corn flake crumbs.

Parmesan Crisped Chicken: Dip in mixture of 1 slightly beaten egg and 2 T. milk. Coat with mixture of 3/4 cup corn flake crumbs, 1-1/2 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. pepper and 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese.

Oven-Fried Chicken: Dip in mixture of 1 slightly beaten egg and 2 T. milk. Coat with mixture of 1-1/4 cup corn flake crumbs, 1-1/2 tsp. salt and 1/4 tsp. pepper.

Zesty Crisped Chicken: Dip in mixture of 1 slightly beaten egg and 1/4 cup soy sauce. Coat with 1-1/4 cup corn flake crumbs.

Spring Green Salad

Add any fresh veggie to this simple basic salad.

- 4 cups torn assorted salad greens
- 2 medium tomatoes, cut in eighths
- 1 small cucumber, sliced
- 1 small green pepper, sliced
- CROUTONS

In large bowl, combine salad greens, tomatoes, cucumbers and green peppers. Pour dressing over salad just before serving. Garnish with croutons.

Croutons

To make croutons, butter slices of stale bread; sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Cut into small cubes; place in shallow baking pan.

Bake at 300 degrees for 30 minutes or until brown and crisp; cool. Store in covered container.

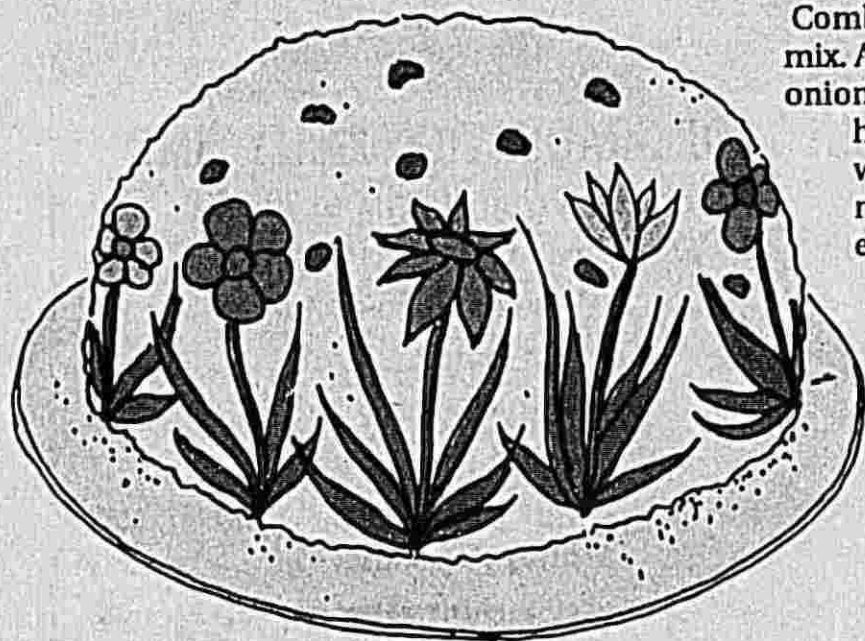

Festive Molded Potato Salad

A new way of serving the old summer favorite of potato salad—decorated and molded. A feast for your eyes even before eating.

- 2 to 3 T. vinegar
- 1 envelope dry, mild Italian salad dressing mix
- 3 cups diced cold cooked potatoes
- 2 strips crisp bacon, finely crumbled
- 3 green onions, sliced
- 1 T. fresh parsley, chopped

- 1 pkg. (3 oz.) lemon-flavored gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1/4 cup cold water
- 1-1/2 cups mayonnaisse

Combine vinegar and salad dressing mix. Add to potatoes, bacon, green onions, fresh parsley and chill about 1 hour. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; add cold water. Blend in mayonnaisse and chill until thickened. Add potato mixture and pour into 6-cup mold or metal bowl. Chill until firm, about 4 hours. Unmold and garnish with scallion leaves and vegetable flowers. Thinly sliced carrots, thinly cut tomato skins and pieces of black olives make great petals and centers. Experiment.

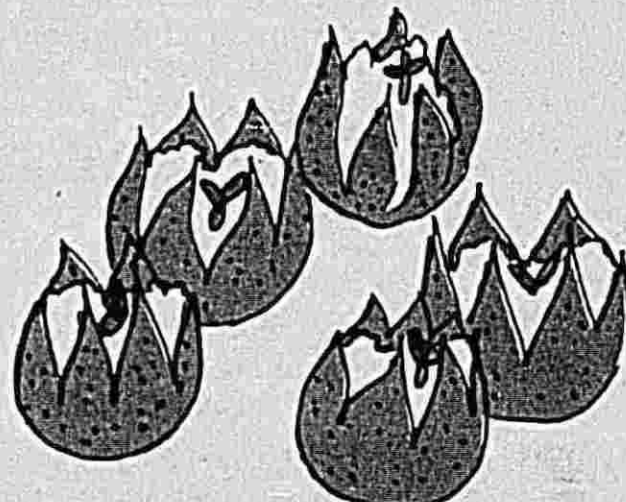

Strawberry Blossoms

These beauties are pretty to look at and delicious to eat. Watch for ripe strawberries in your market and try this recipe.

- 8 to 12 large fresh strawberries
- 3-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
- 2 T. powdered sugar
- 1 T. sour cream

Remove stems from berries, forming a flat base. Place berries pointed end up. With sharp knife, carefully slice berry in half vertically through center to within 1/4-inch of base. Cut each half into 3 wedges, forming 6 petals. (Do not slice through base.) Pull petals apart slightly.

In small bowl, beat cream cheese, powdered sugar and sour cream until light and fluffy. With pastry bag and star tip or small spoon, fill berries with cream cheese mixture. Use as a garnish on a cake or serve as a mini dessert. Makes 8 to 12.

'Showbiz' provocative, unsettling work

Critics Choice

"Showbiz," a new play by John Logan premiering at Chicago's Wisdom Bridge Theater, is about the pain and suffering—and not the glamour and glitz—that goes into the production of an artistically successful play.

It's a highly focused behind-the-scenes drama set on a stark in and empty theater where an acclaimed director, his conniving assistant, a "boy wonder" playwright and several actors have gathered to rehearse.

For Julian, the one-armed director, staging a play is a call to arms; to win is to provoke, to challenge. But to fail is to succumb to mediocrity.

In this case, Julian, played with hell-bent fury by Denis O'Hare, is determined to let nothing compromise his standard of excellence. He will give up the love he craves just as he will mercilessly hound his cast to the breaking point.

Guy Massey is Ben, a loathsome assistant ready to capitalize on any weakness that he perceives maybe turned to his advantage. Molly Hagan, as Alex, gives a stunning performance as the experienced actress who refuses to sacrifice her humanity for the sake of the play. "Showbiz" is a provocative, at times unsettling work. It runs through May 30. Ticket information is available at (312)743-0486.—by TOM WITOM

Driving in Puerto Rico or "That Road's Not on The Map"

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Once a year we close our agency for a weekend and the entire staff gets to visit a cruise port. It gives us the chance to tour the cruise ships and nearby resorts to see first hand if we would recommend them. O.K., we do have some fun, too.

This year we picked the port of San Juan. I went down a little early with one of my agents to drive around and "scout-out" the area so we wouldn't waste any time when the rest of the staff arrived later that night. I've driven roads all over the world. I've driven goat paths on the ancient Island of Malta. I've driven on the left in London. I've braved Friday night rush hour traffic in Manhattan. I've even found my way around the canals in Amsterdam not knowing a word of Dutch. But, I've never been so frustrated as trying to find my way out of San Juan!

The first problem was the traffic. It seems that everyone in Puerto Rico has a car and, since there is no place to park, everyone is out on the road driving!

Road signs posed another challenge. While most roads were marked, few of the highway numbers matched anything on any of the several maps we had. Direction signs added to the fun. The fact that they were in Spanish was not the problem (I know enough of the language to get by). For some reason they were placed right at, or even just past, the point you must turn, making it necessary to abruptly cross four lanes of heavy traffic to make your turn (though this seemed a common practice for most drivers.)

The next day we did find a couple of real expressways. We even made it to the El Yunque Rain Forest. The trick is, when you find a good road, and it's going where you want, stay on it.

That aside, here are some suggestions. Don't bother with the Condado Beach area unless you have business at the Convention Center. We found the beaches were not that good and there was little night time entertainment other than the Casinos. If you do stay in Condado, try the Condado Plaza. We found the Isle Verde area near than Airport to have a great beach. The Sands and El San Juan are good choices there. A walking tour of Old San Juan, which is where the cruise port is, is a must. Allow about three hours to see everything there.

Do you really want a dinosaur

Actors recreate a world of prehistoric mystery in, "Do you really want a dinosaur," a play that combines fantasy and reality in the life of a 10-year-old named Martie, Sunday, May 16 at 2 p.m. in the Libertyville High School Theater, Park Ave. & Dawes Ave., Libertyville. The play is sponsored by the David Adler Cultural Center.

In the play, Martie has moved to a new town and longs for a playmate. With the help of a magic person, Martie and her mother learn that with imagination and knowledge dreams can come true.

Tickets are $6 for adult and $4 for seniors, children and David Alder Cultural Center Members.

Ama and the White Crane

Traditional Japanese Kabuki and Noh drama are combined in Stage Two Theatre's spring production of "Ama and the White Crane." This original story tells the adventure of Ama and her hand puppet White Crane as they journey to the tip of Mount Sumeru, the legendary center of the universe. Performances are scheduled May 6, 7 and 8 in downtown Waukegan.

In the story, the comic samurai befriends Ama and helps her as she overcomes the evil power of the dreaded "Demon-With-The-Changeable-Face." Each disguise of the Demon—the Demon of Thunder and Lightning, the Evil Water Sprite, the Ferry-Boat Driver, the Mistress of the Mists of Forgetfulness and the Snow Woman, whose icy embrace brings death—creates suspense and humor as the Demon eventually is overcome by Ama's ingenuity.

By drawing on the Japanese influence, author Maureen A. O'Toole uses elements not usually found in children's productions. Kabuki, begun in Japan in the late 17th century, uses elaborate sets, colorful makeup, song and dance. It features spectacular scenes strung together often without a logical progress. Noh (or "no") drama dates to the 14th century and remains a classical form of theater in Japan today. It is characterized by the use of masks, male actors playing female parts, sparse settings of bamboo, chanted passages and the use of a chorus.

In "Ama and the White Crane," Kabuki tradition inspired the placement of a sound effects maker on stage. The Kabuki also inspired the use of prop person dressed in black for set changes and a main character who also is a narrator. Noh drama furnished the idea of using simple props instead of the more elaborate Kabuki settings.

Norma Cribb will direct the production. Cast members include Richard V. French, Renee Joseph, Mark Kettner, Peter Nepstad, Carrie Starzec and Joseph Cervantez.

Stage Two Theater is located at 12 N. Sheridan Road, Waukegan, in the newly renovated University Center. Entrance to the theater is from the city parking lot off Sheridan Road, between Washington and Madison Streets. For reservations, or for more information, call 662-7088.

Public presentations are scheduled for May 7 and 8 at 8 p.m. All tickets are $5, except on May 8.

Sealed with a kiss

Through Aug. 29, Chicago Children's Museum will present its newest exhibit, Sealed with a Kiss: Mail Art, sponsored by the United Parcel Service Foundation.

S.W.A.K.: Mail Art is a highly interactive exhibit of fanciful art that redefines the everyday act of mailing a bill or sending a letter to a friend. Mail Art is art that has been postmarked; it is correspondence designed to please the eye as well as the mind. There are thousands of artist worldwide who create art out of and on spaces as little as a nineteen cent postcards or a letter size envelope—and then send it to someone through the mail.

Design stations in the exhibit will offer paper, paint, rubber stamp images, markers, copy machine art and found objects to all who wish to try their hand at creating their own masterpiece to mail to a special pen pal. In addition, young artist will be able to commemorate important individuals or events in their own lives by designing and then making their own stamps. Also on display in this section will be winning entries from the Illinois Department of Conservation's Junior Duck Stamp Contest.

Chicago Children's Museum is dedicated to the needs and interest of children and their families. Located at 465 E. Illinois Street n North Pier Chicago, 2nd Floor. For more information, call (312) 527-1000.—by RHONDA VINZANT

'Dark Half' goes half way

The latest Stephen King terror tale, "The Dark Half," turns out to be one of his lesser efforts.

The premise is a good one, but somehow it becomes more mundane as the movie progresses.

Timothy Hutton, plays a young writer, English teacher, happily married man, and the father of twins, who is faced with the sudden appearance of an evil twin of his own.

All this happens as some of Hutton's acquaintances are being sent to the happy beyond by a serial killer.

It seems doctors removed the embryo of an undeveloped twin brother from Hutton's brain at birth.

Hutton's "twin" shows up with a country accent, looking and reeking of evil and calling himself George Stark, Hutton's pen name.

It seems that the George Stark books portray a dark swinging life, just the opposite of Hutton's.

The evil twin takes possession of Hutton's twins and offers to give him back one - and so the fun begins.

What started out with good outer limits possibility soon becomes the usual horrific homily with a lot of blood letting, and some mediocre special effects, etc.

Amy Madigan is properly worried and stressed as Hutton's wife. The big question, "Is the evil twin real or have Hutton's creative juices created him?" gets into foggy depths as the story unfolds.

On the strength of Hutton's performance, the strong beginning, and a few other quality, sufficiently scary, scenes, (ala Hitchcock's "Birds"), we are rating "Dark Side" 2.5 out of five stars. Unless your a King devotee, we'd wait until the video comes out.—by GLORIA DAVIS

Mysterious mixture of murder and mirth

Johanna Thomson, Vernon Hills; Jesse Becker, Karen Peterson, and Paula Marsh, all of Mundelein; Marjune Weingandt of Barrington and sitting, Jeff Mann of Vernon Hills in "Lamenting Their Buddy, Barnaby."

The Kirk Players 27th season grand finale, "But Why Bump Off Barnaby?" will be presented on Friday and Saturday, May 14 and 15 in the Mundelein High School theater, 1350 W. Hawley St. Curtain rising is at 8 p.m. All proceeds will be donated to the Lake County Museum and the Military Order of the Cooties Hotel 67 Pup Tent of Illinois.

"But Why Bump Off Barnaby?" is an action-packed comedy and a mysterious who-done-it all rolled up into one brilliant package. Author Rick Abbott sets the scene at Marigate, the ancestral home of the Leduc family. The ancient mansion is riddled with private passageways and peep holes. Sunset is approaching and Mr. Leduc's party guests will be arriving at any moment. Magnolia the maid is preparing the "horse's doovers" when suddenly it begins! A wild tangle of murder, mutton and a full fifth of fine sherry!

The Kirk Players' Founder-Director John W. Lynn reports that the show's 10-member cast includes one fresh new talent. Guest performer Patrick Blake of Libertyville makes his debut as Medkins, the stoic and extremely efficient butler. Many Kirk Player veterans are also featured. Floyd Baker of Vernon Hills becomes poor Barnaby Fol-cey, the Leduc's doomed distant relative. Jesse Becker of Mundelein plays the arthritic British baronet, Orion Leduc. Karen Peterson, also of Mundelein, is Rosalind Barstow, the flamboyant fortune hunter. The Players' most award-winning actress, Paula Marsh of Mundelein, takes the stage as sweet Dora Dunstock, the adorable dimwit. The near-sighted nanny, Miss Barnsdale, is portrayed by Barrington's Marjune Weingandt, while Magnolia, the apprehensive maid is played by Donna Lynn of Wheaton.

Each of the three remaining cast members hail from Vernon Hills.

Jeff Mann plays Mr. Barnett, the intrepid police reporter. Johanna Thomson is Lady Barbara Fenwick, a dear but deaf peeress, and Cynthia Petersen becomes the insipid Beverly Hills "material girl," Cleo Barton.

"Barnaby's" technical staff includes Bob Thomas, technical director and set design; Fred O'Donnell, stage manager; Sue Gaubatz, assistant stage manager; Maureen Cook Slade, house manager; Brenda Sparks, scenic design; Eric Pedersen, sound; Lynne Gommoll, costumes; Lisa Lovell and Sharon Arvidson, props.

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Party time is over, and it's time to tend to those nagging little tasks you've been ignoring. By utilizing your innovative tendencies, you'll be able to handle all this with ease. Take some quiet time this weekend by yourself.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Try not to be too impatient while you're waiting for an answer to your all-important request. Take a break mid-week, and do something to get your mind off this. By week's end, you'll be happy that you waited so patiently.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) While you may have heard what appears to be some disturbing news about someone close to you, consider the source. It's generally not like you to listen to idle stories, and you shouldn't give in now. A loved one needs your attention this weekend.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) This is the time to guard your pennies closely. You've been a bit of a spendthrift, and it's finally caught up with you. Discipline yourself and set a strict budget. Don't give in to temptation.

LEO (July 23-August 22) The expression, "Everything's coming up roses," certainly fits your life this week. It seems you can do nothing wrong, and everything you desire, comes your way. Enjoy this now. Aim for a romantic weekend getaway.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22) Your tendency toward perfectionism can lead you to lay blame wherever you see fit. However, it's a wise idea to look inward for the recent upheavals in your life. Despite what you sometimes feel, you can be wrong at times.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22) While you've been enjoying the recent whirlwind in your life, it's time to swing the balance in the other direction. You need some time off to rest, and do aim for this. If possible, try for a long weekend.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21) Someone new crosses your path this week, but take time to go beyond appearances. Don't let flattery get in the way of a clear head. Domestic matters will require your attention this weekend.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21) There are no disappointments in the stars this week in your love life. Even a seeming setback turns out for the best in the long run. As you've discovered in the past, a broader perspective is needed when considering certain situations.

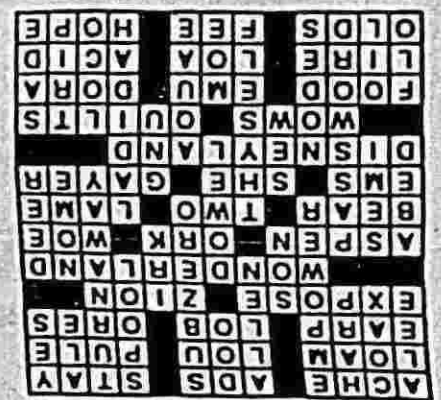

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19) You are no longer "among the missing" this week, and family and friends are grateful. You will have renewed energy to tackle problems and ordinary tasks. As a result, you'll be championing at the bit this weekend to get out and party.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18) Don't let doubt stand in the way of a potentially wonderful relationship. You can sometimes analyze a situation to death. As a result, you miss out on some wonderful opportunities. Make sure you're available when that important person reaches out.

PISCES (February 19-March 20) You'll be called upon this week to use your keen sense of observation to solve some domestic problems. As always, you see so clearly what others are unable to. However, do be sure to dole out your wisdom in a diplomatic way so as not to offend.

Helping hair-loss patients look and feel good

"When you look good, you feel good," said paramedical makeup artist Cindy Nennig as she prepared to show Marian Vogel, a cancer survivor, some beauty techniques to help camouflage the changes in Vogel's skin pigmentation and color due to chemotherapy.

"It's not just medicine that is going to make a patient well," said Barbara Goldberg, president of a custom hair prosthesis firm, as she placed a wig cap and wig on Vogel's head. "In order for a person to get well it has to start with attitude—and a holistic approach to healing, getting better and living."

Nennig and Goldberg network together at the Image Center, to help a client's overall morale, outlook and self image.

Vogel is a client at the Image Center, a new service available for clients with hair loss caused by disease or accident, cancer, burns and dermatological disorders. The program encompasses hair prosthesis, skin care, makeup, other image enhancements, diet and exercise.

Vogel is typical of cancer survivors and others recovering from severe illness or disease, struggling to get the pieces of their lives back together and to move toward a healthier, happier time.

"My disease and my treatment left me changed," said Vogel, "with temporary hair loss and skin coloring and pigmentation differences. Plus, my treatment made me feel worse than I did in the first place because of the toxicity of the medicine I took. Radiation is rough, too."

One of the newer trends in health care is taking this same direction, treating the whole person and helping people look and feel good. Condell Medical Center is in the forefront with its newly opened Image Center, designed to help its clients regain their confidence and return to full participation in life.

Goldberg's background uniquely suits her to this role because she, too, has suffered hair loss and the self-esteem problems that brings. When she was 10 years old, Goldberg was diagnosed as having alopecia areata, a condition that results in partial or total hair loss, sometimes temporary and sometimes permanent. Approximately one person out of a thousand in the United States suffers from this condition.

"It was very difficult to find hair prostheses," related Goldberg. "Beauty salons were not equipped for this sort of thing, especially when it was long term; they had little selection and were not sensitive to my needs."

"I decided to do something about this problem when I was in my 40's," Goldberg explained. "I started my own medical hair prostheses business after taking business classes at Harper and receiving some technical training."

Seven years ago Goldberg, a Buffalo Grove resident, founded Hair Response, Inc. in Arlington Heights. The hair prostheses firm makes custom wigs, eyebrows and other hair pieces, such as mustaches, for those suffering from medically related hair loss.

"Since then, I have gone all over the country giving talks, working with support groups, including a children's group in the western suburbs." Goldberg also works with the Cancer Wellness Center, based in Skokie, and her firm maintains a new wig bank for children and those who are indigent.

Goldberg is also a vocal advocate for early detection of breast cancer. She was diagnosed with breast cancer last year and attributes the early detection for her success in battling the disease. This experience is leading her in a new business direction, as well—her firm will expand and offer breast prosthesis starting in the fall.

Nennig is a 17-year licensed cosmetologist, and is the founder, president, and guiding spirit of C.R. Spa/Salon, Ltd. in Libertyville, established in 1980. C.R. Spa/Salon also has two extension sites for seniors, the Hawthorne Lake Salon in Vernon Hills and the Inter-generation Day Care at Condell Medical Center.

Nennig is well known in the area for her award-winning innovations and expertise in makeup artistry, skin care, color and hair styling. She is a certified paramedical esthetician (skin care specialist), is a member of Esthetics America and trained in the analysis of skin, conditions and formulation of skin care products.

In 1984, Nennig implemented a volunteer program at Condell Memorial Hospital, and she and her staff have been providing complimentary (Continued on page 30)

Volunteers raise money to fight birth defects

by J. CLAES
Lakeland Newspapers

It looked like another day of rain on Sunday, April 25. Then the sun peeked through the dark clouds and warmed up the volunteers, runners and walkers who were at Belvidere Park for the start of this year's Walk America.

Registration began at 7 a.m., and the Walk America got underway at 8 a.m. with warm-up exercises guide by Jesse Claes from Mundelein. 8:30 a.m. came and 513 walkers and runners started on the 12 mile trek. They started at Belvidere Park and ended at the park.

This year the seven sponsors were IBEW Local 150, Dr. Lee Tisa, Hot 102.3, Telephone Pioneers of America, The Olive Garden, WKRS and Eagle Food Centers.

There were volunteers as security guards from Waukegan Police Dept., the Sheriffs' Dept. and Cadets from Round Lake Beach Explorers. Gateway and Whitmore's Towing were the volunteer crossing guards. It was said that all volunteers were extremely helpful and they appreciated what the volunteers were doing to fight birth defects.

Candace Greene, who is the Lake County Coordinator for Waukegan, said there are 40,000 babies that die from birth defects each year. "The money that is raised from the Walk America will be used for research, educational programs and community based programs which are still needed. Even in this day and age with the new technical knowledge that has been gained, there is still much that we don't know and need to find out about birth defects," said Greene. "That's what Walk America is all about—learning and life for babies."

This year there was live entertainment from the Smiles Band. They played for all who gathered for a picnic after they had completed their walk. Jesse Claes also performed a dance for all who were there.

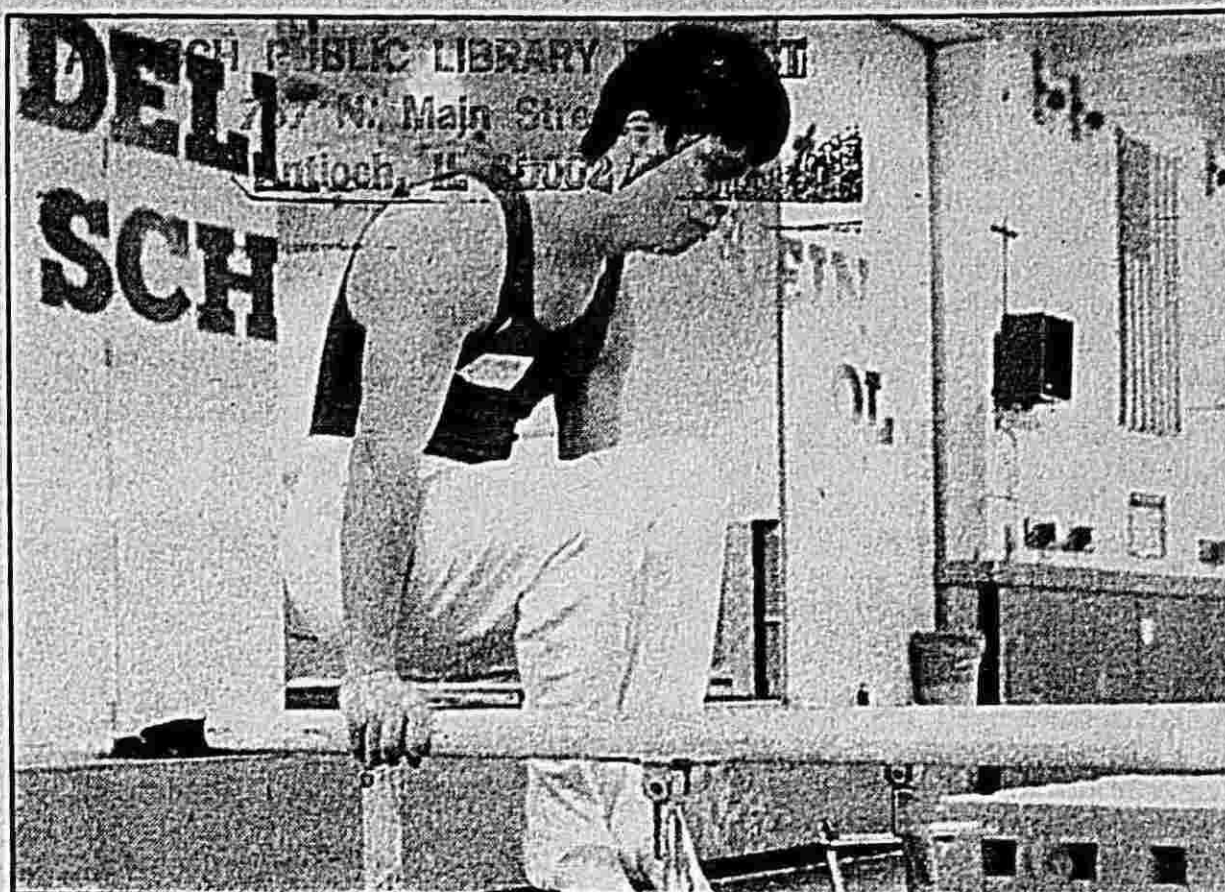

Greene said that there were over 60 volunteers helping with this year's Walk America, and that each and every one of them were the greatest.

The Lake County Planning Committee consisted of the following volunteers: Juli Ann Apostle, Julie Claes, Debbie Eiffert, Patty Greenman, Steve Lindenbaum, Dan Shield and Freda Love. There were also 24 donations of raffle prizes.

Greene said that this year's goal was $60,000, and that so far Walk America in Waukegan has raised $52,000 in pledges, but that this was not the final count as there is more coming in.

This year, just as last year, the support from the communities on the north shore were the best. "Everyone was just outstanding. The volunteers at each check point were the best, and it couldn't have come off like it did without each individual's help," said Greene. "I've enjoyed working with all the people who walked and ran, and all the volunteers. I hope to see them all again next year."

Greene said that pledges need to be turned in by May 31. A collection party will be held at Journey's End in Mundelein on May 27 from 6 to 8 p.m. There will be a free buffet and a cash bar. At 7 p.m., there will be an awards presentation.

Walk with Great Strides for CF

Chairman Dick Johnson of WLS-TV will take Great Strides to help cure cystic fibrosis in this year's 10K Walk-a-thon presented by LaSalle Banks.

Sunday, May 16, thousands of walkers across the United States will participate in the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation's national walk event.

In Chicagoland, participants may choose between two walk sites: Montrose Harbor, where walkers will follow Chicago's scenic lakeshore bike path to North Avenue Beach and back, or Schaumburg, where participants walk through the picturesque Busse Woods Forest Preserve, taking in the spring foliage and fresh air.

Registration at both sites begins at 8:30 a.m. and the walk starts at 10 a.m. Refreshments and entertainment will be provided at the finish line. Teams of friends or co-workers to walk with can be organized. All walkers raising more than $50 will receive a t-shirt.

Cystic fibrosis (CF) is the leading genetic killer of children and young adults, currently afflicting 30,000 Americans.

Scientists predict that CF will be cured within the next few years, becoming the first major disease conquered since polio. Money raised from Great Strides will help fund the necessary research to find this cure.

Salad dressings Image center

Love your heart by CAROLE STERN

Salads provide a good way to loose weight and also provide healthy eating. A salad is the simplest way to get some of the fruits and vegetables we all need. Salad dressing add the final touch, but in the past they were often too high in fat or calories. The ones below can be used to enhance our salads and the are low in fat and calories.

French vinaigrette

3/4 cup water
2 garlic cloves, minced
1/4 cup wine vinegar
3 tps. capers
2 tps. Dijon mustard
1 tsp. tarragon
1 tsp. thyme
1 tsp. fresh basil, chopped
1 Tbl. fresh parsley, chopped
Combine ingredients. Adjust vinegar to taste. Store in covered container. Makes about 1 cup.
Serves: 16 (1 Tbl. per serving); Cholesterol (mg) 0; Fat (gm) 0; Calories 1.

Italian dressing

1/4 cup lemon juice
1/4 cup red wine vinegar
1/4 cup white wine
1 tsp. oregano
1 tsp. basil
1/2 tsp. dry mustard
1/2 tsp. onion powder
1 garlic clove, minced
1 Tbl. chives, chopped
1 tsp. thyme
1 tsp. rosemary
Combine all ingredients. Chill for an hour or two to allow herbs to blend. Makes 3/4 cup.
Serves: 12 (1 Tbl. per serving); Cholesterol (mg) 0; Fat (gm) 0; Calories 5.

Creamy onion dressing

1/2 cup plain, non-fat yogurt
1 1/2 tps. Dijon mustard
2 Tbls. dried onion, minced
1/2 small scallion, minced
2 tps. fresh chives, minced
Dash black pepper, freshly ground
Combine all ingredients in blender. Process until smooth. Makes about 1/2 cup.

Approval

In reception of its leadership role in cancer treatment, Midwestern Regional Medical Center has received a three year approval as a Community Hospital Comprehensive Cancer Program from the American College of Surgeons (ACS). To receive the approval, Midwestern proved it treated more than 300 new cancer cases per year and offered a full range of cancer diagnosis and treatment options at the facility. Each year, ACS certifies only about a dozen Illinois hospitals and less than 300 nationally. In order for a cancer program to be approved by the ACS Commission on Sheridan Rd., Waukegan. Participation will be by appointment only and can be made by calling 360-4246.

Hisel named 'Nurse of the Year'

Although Good Shepherd's Nurse of the Year Mariann Hisel experiences the wonders of birth daily as a certified inpatient obstetric nurse in the hospital's Birth Center, it was a week-long cattle drive in Montana that had a dramatic effect on the way she views the gift of life.

"That trip is the most important thing that's ever happened to me," she said, referring to last fall's "City Slickers" vacation that mirrored the movie script more than she would have preferred.

"It was a very dangerous trip. We literally were faced with do-or-die situations. I've never been tested before to my total physical, emotional and spiritual limits all at the same time. That experience changed me forever—it made me realize the importance of relying on others and accepting their support during rough times."

Her own nursing skills and the support she provides to parents-to-be are the types of abilities that brought Nurse of the Year honors to Hisel this year. "When you're helping a new mom deliver, it can be very exhausting—you're experiencing everything right along with her," she said. "When I come home from work, my husband often teases me asking, 'How many babies did you have today?'"

The McHenry resident, who admits to giving "110 percent to anything" she tackles, was one of 11 Good Shepherd registered nurses nominated for the 1992 Nurse of the Year Award.

She was chosen by representatives from the hospital and other Evangelical Health Systems (EHS) services because of her involvement with the hospital's Patient Care Delivery Committee, the development of obstetrics critical pathways and her active membership in the EHS Council of Perinatal Nurses. EHS is Good Shepherd's parent organization.

As part of the honor, Hisel was recognized during the EHS Registered Nurse of the Year awards program and dinner held at the Field Museum of Natural History.

Hisel said she "grew into" the nursing profession. "While I was in grade school, my mother was very ill and was hospitalized frequently. I spent a lot of time in the hospital and nursing was a natural career choice."

After receiving her registered associate nursing degree at the College of Lake County, she worked for a short period on a Highland Park Hospital's medical/surgical unit before coming to Good Shepherd in 1980. Following a three-year stint on a medical/surgical unit, Hisel "found her niche" in the obstetrics area.

"In obstetrics, you're every kind of nurse there is—from an emergency, surgical and psychiatric nurse to a labor, nursery and baby nurse."

"We don't just rock babies all day," Hisel stated, dismissing the stereotype some have of obstetric nurse duties. "We're highly educated professionals who manage the whole realm of patient care. We deal with two patients (the mom and the baby) at one time and when an emergency arises, it has to be dealt with competently and quickly. There isn't one part of nursing that isn't covered when you're an obstetrics nurse."

Continuous education is key to Hisel's approach to her profession. She received her bachelor of science in nursing degree in 1989 at Northern Illinois Univ., was certified in inpatient obstetrics in 1990 through the National Certification Corp. for obstetric, gynecologic and neonatal specialties, served on the EHS perinatal council which sponsors educational nursing conferences and is a cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) instructor. In addition, she established a monthly infant/child CPR class for the community, publishes a quarterly obstetrics newsletter and is a member of the Association of Women's Health, Obstetrics and Neonatal Nurses.

The Nurse of the Year award isn't Hisel's first honor. In 1992, she received a Distinguished Service Award from Good Shepherd in recognition of her efforts for the hospital and the community.

When asked what the greatest rewards of her profession are, Hisel answers simply, "Just to have a healthy baby delivered and for somebody to say 'thank you.' No one asks for anything else."

Hisel said she hopes to make her 12 months as Nurse of the Year a working title instead of a silent honor. "I plan to go into the community and schools to let people know more about nursing and help with recruitment efforts."

Her future personal plans include travel and, hitting the trail again on another cattle drive. "My husband wants to go back right away, but a cruise looks more exciting to me at this point."

BUNIONS

Bunions are a progressive deformity, that begins with a mild bump at the base of the big toe. If left untreated the big toe deviates outward and destructive arthritic changes occur. If treated early, surgery may not be needed. If surgery is indicated it is not a disabling procedure. I utilize the Swiss Compression technique which prevents cast wear and the patient may walk that same day. Other advantages to this procedure are that surgery is performed on an outpatient basis and little or no time is missed from work.

Baseball boys wait for sun

Area baseball squads are ready to go the distance after playing between the raindrops thus far this spring. The second season — the state tournament — is not far off.

Bob Olson

Warren's Olson leaves no doubt

There was controversy over the first home run Bob Olson hit against Libertyville.

But the next time the Warren Twp. High School senior put one over the fence at Libertyville High School, motorists may have had to clude it.

"The last time I had hit a home run was against Libertyville in the regional final last year," Olson recalled. Libertyville went on to win that game.

"It comes and goes," he said of his prowess at the bat.

The win was an important one for Warren, who went on to make it three wins in 24 hours with a doubleheader sweep of Fenton the next day. The wins increase the Blue Devils to 6-4 in the North Suburban Conference, 7-6 overall.

"We have been waiting for Bob all year to break out of it," Warren Coach Dar Townsend said. "He has quick hands and is so strong."

The win was especially pleasing since Libertyville rallied for three runs in the bottom of the seventh to gain a 5-5 tie. The key blow was first an error which could have ended the game, then a three-

RBI double by Jamie Carruthers. It looked like Carruthers, a junior, was going to make up for giving up Olson's first homer.

That was the one which produced all the debate.

"I was not protesting whether or not the ball was out, but how can an umpire 90 feet farther away see it better. Why have a guy out there on the bases," LHS coach Jim Panther said. Panther watched the second half of the game from the sidelines instead of the dugout.

The crucial eighth started when Derek Ramsden reached on a single, Chris Kohn on an error and Matt Pulaski bunted. Ramsden scored the go-ahead run and Kohn scored for two-run lead before Olson's blast on the second pitch. Adam McMahon's double and Cory Savage's triple were two key extra-base hits.

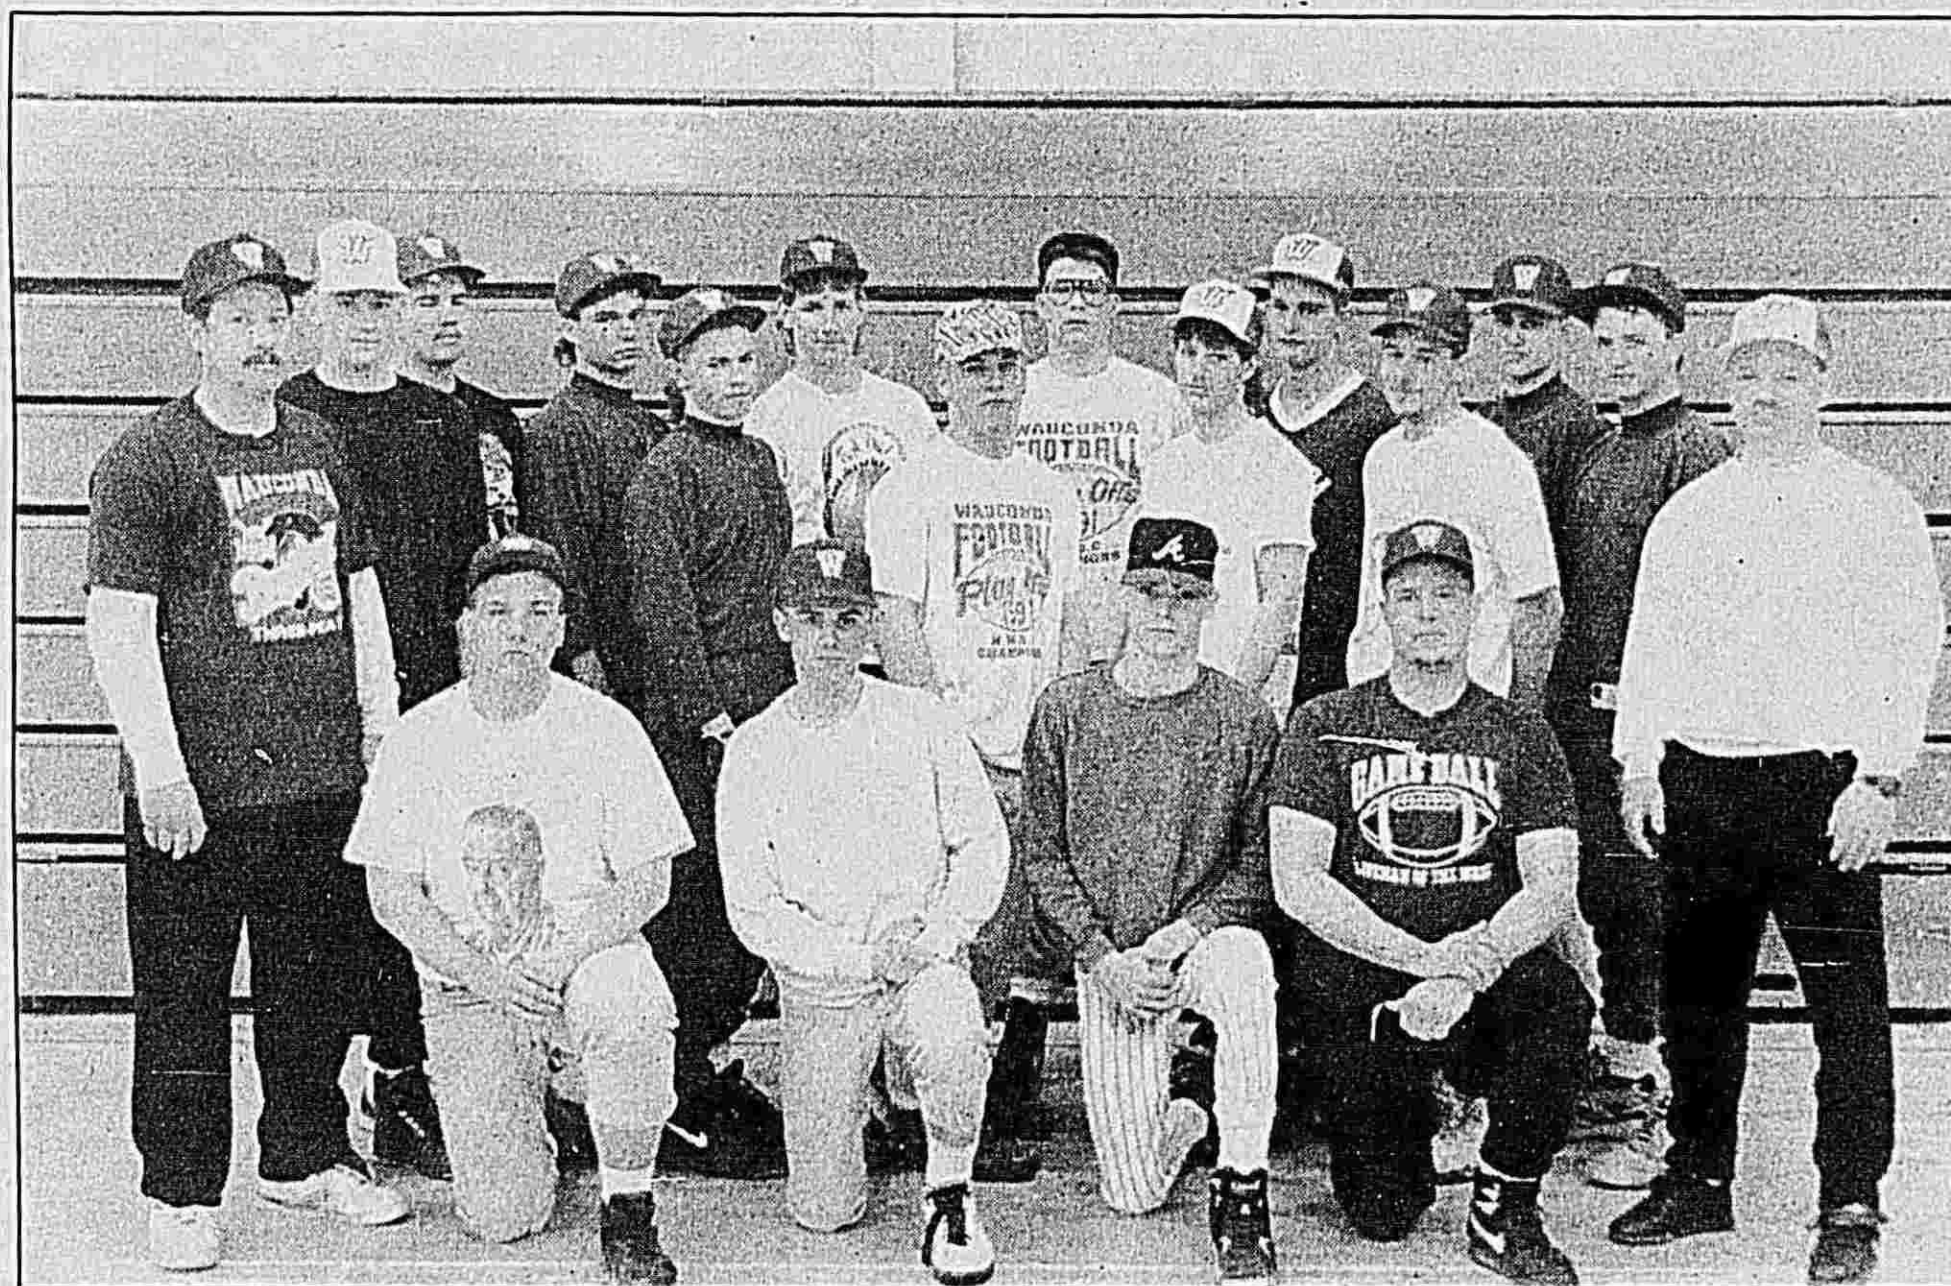

Townsend said he was pleased with the pitching of Joe Hird, Warren's winner. He has something in common with Olson. "Joe is starting to pitch the way we expected him too," Townsend said.

Both teams gained wins Saturday.

Libertyville won as Shawn Park won for the second time in a 7-4 defeat of Highland Park. Carruthers hit a homer.

Soph Joel Dangel gained the win as Warren stopped Fenton 3-1 and Adam McMahon got his first win as Warren clubbed the Bison 12-6 in the second game.

Matt Pulaski led the way on offense with seven hits.

Wauconda Bulldogs

Bulldogs hitting on all cylinders

Imagine you are at a weekend party.

Of course, the conversation turns to the Bulls, Cubs and White Sox or maybe even the Indy 500 race. If one wishes to impress one's friends, you don't need to know the latest on Michael Jordan, Mark Grace or Jack McDowell.

Just pose this question: who is the hottest baseball team in Lake County?

The answer: Wauconda.

The Bulldogs made it seven straight as they downed Richmond-Burton 12-2 after picking up a narrow 2-1 win over Johnsburg. Wauconda has won seven straight games through mid-week last week and are preparing for showdown with Round Lake.

"Everybody has been hitting the ball harder all year and the pitchers are throwing strikes," Wauconda Coach Jim Van Fleet said.

Jurt Van Alistine, a junior, improved to 2-1 and struckout seven and walked just two Rockets.

Kevin Cajda started the game with a homerun and was three-for-three. Byron Johnson had a two-run homer and Ron Lindsey had two hits as Wauconda improved to 13-4 overall.

Jason Opsal had two hits.

"We have to continue to hit aggressively," Van Fleet said of the keys for the remaining weeks.

Seniors leading the Bulldogs this year include: pitcher, infielder Nate Bowers; infielder Byron Johnson; pitcher, catcher and infielder Steve Waldo and infielder Dave Musser.

Musser had the winning hit in the win over Johnsburg.

The Wauconda-Round Lake showdown, which also decided last year's Northwest Suburban Conference leader, is May 12 in Round Lake.

Wildcat seniors key to NSC bid

Junior Bob Paulson, who regularly plays outfield, comes in for relief.

Seniors on the team the Wildcats will be looking for leadership down the stretch from include: outfielder Jeremy Fellows; second baseman Tim Panther; outfielder Matt Wolverton; third baseman Vic Capron; pitcher Dave Bernstein; reserve catcher Saxton Rose; outfielder-pitcher Eric Randall.

The Wildcats are making a run for the North Suburban Conference title with Stevenson.

Early success key for Panthers

Round Lake's baseball team would like to finish the season the same way it started and in that way defend its Northwest Suburban Conference title.

"We need to get back to the way we were playing at the beginning of the season," Coach Jim Prorok said. "I know it has been a bad spring but our concentration level has not always been there."

That weakness showed in a 6-3 loss to Johnsburg. The Panthers still had a successful week, staying in first place with two wins over Marian Central. RL started the week 7-2, one game ahead of Wauconda in the NWSC. Round Lake hosts Grant May 7.

The Panthers won a thriller in eight innings 11-7 over the Hurricanes as Ryan Bauer, who came on in the sixth inning, gained the win.

In the seventh, Mike Seversen singled, Justin Koski sacrificed, Clint Rodriguez was hit by a pitch, and Vinnie Lira walked. Muellemann had an RBI single.

But it was Niemczyk who delivered the key blow, a three-run double. "He has been hitting the ball well. He was one-for-four, but had four RBIs," Prorok said of Niemczyk.

Muellemann was three-for-five with two RBIs.

RL had 11 hits in a 10-0 win.

Rodriguez was two-for-three with three RBIs; Vinnie Lira had two hits and Bauer had two RBIs for the 7-4 Panthers.

The Panthers trailed Johnsburg just 4-3 entering the seventh but miscues on an error on a third baseman and a pickoff play led to two Johnsburg runs.

"We played decent for six innings, but fell apart in the seventh," Prorok said.

Grayslake nine seeks steadiness

When one talks to Troy Harper about baseball, the word consistency is an on-going theme.

"We are consistently inconsistent. In our wins, we have 10 hits or more. In our loss, we have five hits or less," Harper said.

The Rams collected 10 hits in pounding Grant 10-2 in Northwest Suburban Conference action. Grayslake is in third place, behind Round Lake and Wauconda at 6-3, 6-5 overall.

Matt Cullen has had a versatile year for the Rams, pitching and playing shortstop or third base. He recorded his second win of the year over the Bulldogs. He allowed just four hits, struckout eight and walked three.

"After giving up two hits in the first inning, he was fine," Harper said.

Rusty Welsh, a senior, was two-for-six with two RBIs. Steve Taylor clubbed the team's first home run. Bill Guenther, a senior was two-for-four.

The Rams have been trying to recover from an injury to senior Aaron Strain. Strain broke both wrists early in the year. He was a returning all-conference catcher.

"We don't have a lot of pop, so we have to manufacture runs," Harper said.

Senior Scott Schupp has two of the Rams' other wins besides Cullen.

Grayslake hosts Warren May 7 at 4:30 p.m. The Blue Devils won three games in 24 hours last week.

Bears aiming to bounce back

After receiving a good day from the sticks in the first game, untimely errors cost Lake Zurich a shot at a doubleheader sweep of Jacobs in Fox Valley Conference baseball action.

The Bears won game one 10-0 as Todd Brandel gave up just two hits and fanned three. Jacobs took the nightcap, 5-4. The Golden Eagles had not won a conference game before posting the win in Algonquin Saturday.

Brian Haigh was two-for-two with three RBIs in the first game, Brian Cournoyer two-for-three with two runs scored and James Cuellar was two-for-two with three runs scored. The Bears had a seven hit attack, scoring four runs in the fifth and sixth innings. Chad Leavitt had two RBIs.

"We made too many mistakes. They had four unearned runs," Lake Zurich Coach John Nessheim said of the second game.

Lake Zurich, 5-4 in league play and 7-8 overall, after Jacobs, battles Cary-Grove this week. Brandel and Andy Goglin both have two wins in conference play.

Warhawks look for offense

North Chicago Community High School's baseball team has been through a struggle this year, losing its first seven game largely due to lack of hitting.

The Warhawks got just two hits in an 8-0 loss to Warren, falling victim to the strong performance of Warren pitcher Joe Hird. The Warhawks made some strong plays on defense and Rich Fridley, a junior, held Warren in check in the middle innings, but that was not enough.

"He (Hird) pitched a good game, but we are not hitting," North Chicago Coach James Patterson said.

Jermaine Moore, a junior pitcher, collected a safety in the third inning. Teammate Jamal Patterson did so in the sixth. Patterson stole second base, but that was the farthest any North Chicago runner would get this Tuesday in Gurnee.

Seniors on the Warhawk nine include catcher Derrick Fairchild, who made some strong defensive plays against Warren; third baseman Shannon Logan and Deshon Lewis; outfielders Patterson and Todd Stupe.

Pats already up to 15 wins

Stevenson High School's baseball team became the first area team to reach 15 wins the same way it used to win the first 14.

The Patriots received timely hitting in a nine-hit attack, four-hit pitching from Kevin Fredrick and scored early in an 8-0 shutout of Antioch.

Fredrick improved to 5-2 with the win as he gave struckout three and walked two in six innings. The home-run hitting specialist has also pitched in relief this year for Coach Bob Mackie's team.

Senior catcher Ken Allen, senior outfielder Mark Piggott, junior outfielder Faraji Leary and senior shortstop Mark Finn all had doubles.

Nate McCabe, who also pitches, and Jeff Turnbull had two hits and two RBIs.

Matt De Martini, a junior infielder, had a double for Antioch. Eric Blaha suffered the loss.

Stevenson scored six runs in the first two innings. Stevenson, 15-5, 5-2 in the NSC heading into this week, is gunning for its first North Suburban Conference title since 1989. Stevenson dropped its first conference game, to Mundelein 3-2.

Grant stumbles over high hopes

Grant High School's baseball team started the season with high hopes. After all, the sophomores had come close to a state title game in a summer tourney.

But fortunes have not gone Grant's way, as the Bulldogs have dropped five of seven.

"We just don't have the pitching. We can hit the ball and score a few runs, but without pitching or defense, you will not be in the ballgame," Grant Coach Fritz Kazlauskys said.

Grant's hitting has been led by Dave Stone, a sophomore, and Aaron VonBruenchenheim. "Aaron has improved greatly," Kazlauskys said.

McHenry topped Grant 13-7 in nonconference and Wauconda kept the blues going with a 16-4 win.

Softball girls get in gear

Like their baseball counterparts, area softball teams have had to battle the elements as well as the opponents. With a little sunshine, a warm breeze and some dry turf, the diamond girls are ready to finish the season with a flurry of games.

Panthers seek hitting, intensity

If softball was a six-inning game, the Round Lake Panthers would be in like flint.

But it has been that tough seventh inning which has been the Panthers' downfall and something the team will need to correct as the season winds down.

"We played great for six innings, but played terribly in the seventh," Coach Howard Schroeder said after a 5-2 loss to Johnsburg.

The Panthers, 6-4 overall and 6-2 in the Northwest Suburban Conference, trail undefeated Johnsburg by two games. "We will need some help from other teams," Schroeder said.

Freshman Grace Alaimo continued her torrid pace at the plate. She raised her average to .486 with two-for-three with a double.

"She originally did not start with the varsity, but we moved her up after an injury," Schroeder said.

Pitching and intensity are the keys to Round Lake the rest of the way. "Zink has been holding her walks down, but we need to get some intensity and the bats going," Schroeder said.

Warhawks may sneak past foes

One of these days, the North Chicago girls softball team will catch an unsuspecting opponent thinking about the future.

Fenton and Lake Forest were near misses last week as the Warhawks lost to Fenton 10-4 but fell to NSC power Lake Forest only 6-4. Still, the Warhawks are looking for win No. 1 after eight games.

"The Fenton game was the first one which went into seven innings," Warhawks Coach Bob Eschmann said.

The Warhawks led 4-0 against the Bison, before the visitors erupted for 10 runs.

"We measure winning a little differently. It's not the final score, but if we improved inning by inning," Eschmann said.

The Warhawks shocked Grayslake in the regional last year, but four of the five top players graduated or moved.

Catrice Edmonds, a shortstop, is back for her third year as is Christina Madalon.

The frustration came from losing to Mundelein by 24 runs and committing 16 errors. But just a few days later, the Blue Devils swept centender Zion-Benton.

"We hope to be more aggressive hitting," rookie coach Joyce Norton said.

Leading hitters for the Blue Devils are Jill Chumbley and Marlene Elfering. Versatile sophomore infielder Amy Jensen, who plays shortstop, third and second, also can stroke a mean bat.

"Jill has been doing a very consistent job on the mound and has control. She has struckout 45 and walked only eight," Norton said.

Sophomore Dawn Raudio has also won a game for Warren, which split its first 10 contests. Both pitchers earned wins against Zion.

"The girls are starting to believe in themselves. If you repair the spirit, you can restore the soul," Norton said. "Every game we go out and improve from the game before," Norton said.

Mustangs take driver's seat

Mundelein High School's girls softball team found the best way to bounce back from a difficult loss to another team battling for a conference title.

Score 20 or more runs against a mid-division league team. After losing 3-2 as the ball got away from the catcher against Lake Forest, Mundelein got its bats in gear with a 6-1, 22-0 sweep of Stevenson.

Lindsey Prezell increased her record to 12-2 as the sophomore gained both wins.

"We have to get focused on what we want to do," Mundelein Coach Perry Wilhelm said of the keys in the stretch run.

Terilyn Starkey, a senior catcher, leads the Mustangs in hitting as she is around the .500 mark. "She has such great natural ability," Wilhelm said.

Defense looking strong as MHS improved to 13-3 overall, 7-1 in the North Suburban Conference.

Mundelein is at Maine South for a non-conference clash May 10.

Sequoits seek improvements

Antioch Community High School's softball team is hoping the end of the 1993 season is similar to how 1992 closed out.

The Sequoits won a regional last year despite a sub-.500 regular season. This spring has been a struggle for Coach Judy Smithhisler's team. Antioch has lost 11 of 12 games.

The latest defeat was a 3-0 loss to Libertyville and Kerry Gustafson. Erin Bonales, a senior, suffered the loss.

"We had runners on second and third but could not score. We're just going to do our best and hope the pitching comes around," Smithhisler said.

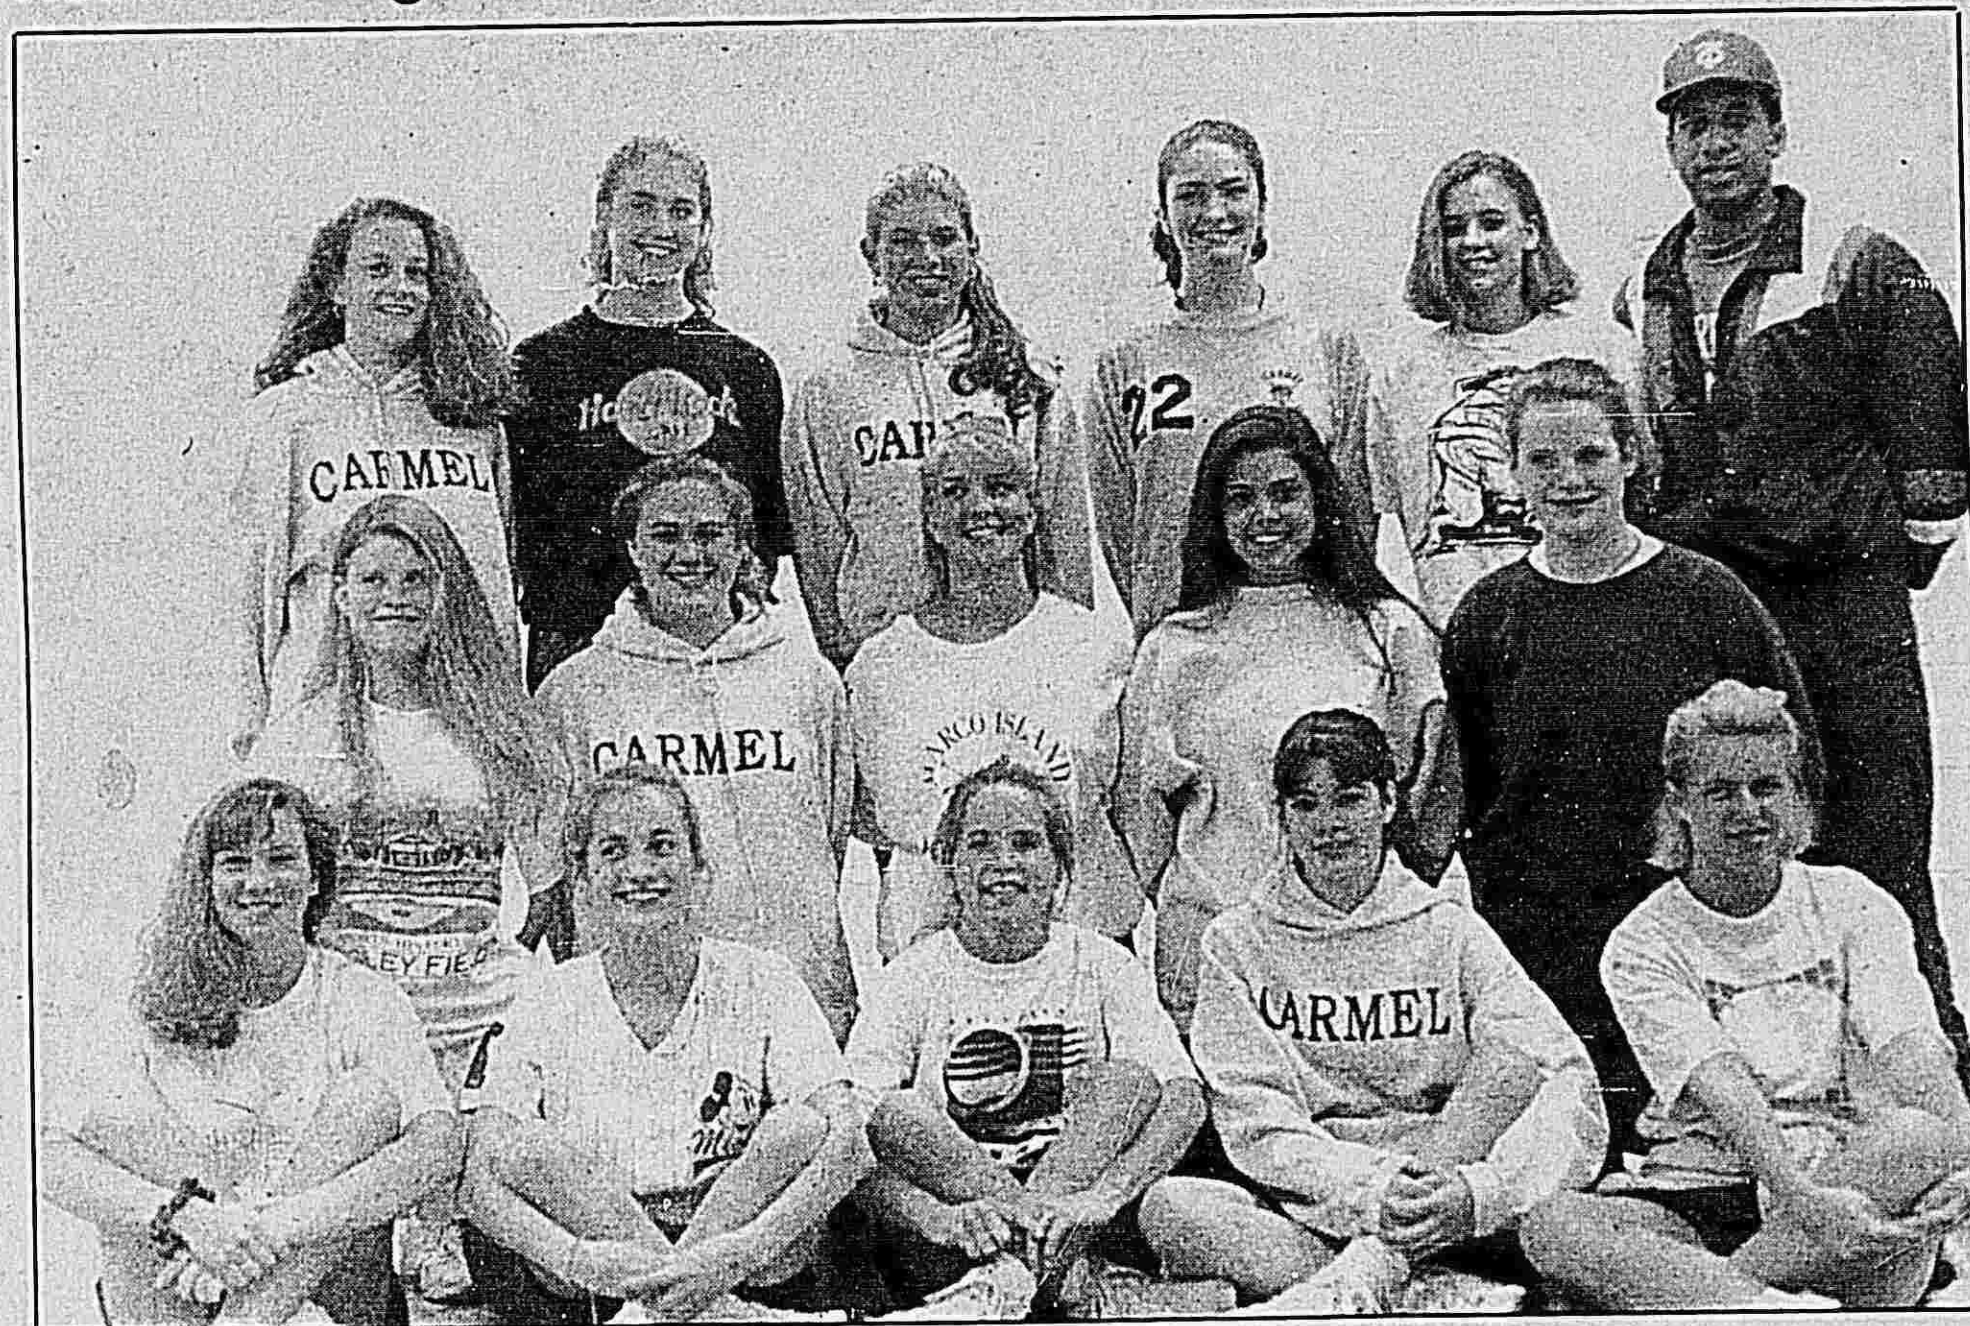

Donna Jedele, a junior infielder, and Dawn Morley, a shortstop, third baseman, are the leading hitters.

Seniors on the squad looking for another trip to sectionals include: first-base, outfielder Sherriu Hagglund; outfielder Kathy Harris. There are six juniors and two sophomores.

The team's highlight to date came in a 15-10 win over Stevenson.

Pitching keeps LHS drive alive

Veteran Libertyville softball Coach Bob Fox is a subscriber to the theory that pitching is a key to softball wins. Nothing has jarred Fox of that belief, not even the poor spring weather which meant a late start to softball.

"Our hitting has improved, but it has been the pitching that has kept us in games," Fox said.

The Wildcats have been on the both sides of the coin. Beth Smith of Carmel one-hit them 2-0. But then Katie Kapfer shutout Warren 4-0.

"She was really good and got out of a couple of jams," Fox said.

Karrie Gustafson came back for her third win of the year in four outings.

Hitting wise, Lindsay Celba, Theresa Halverson and Sandy Bartek lead the way for the Wildcats, winners of six of their first 10 games.

Skyhawks team to beat in NWSC

Johnsburg High School's softball team finds itself in the proverbial drivers' seat when it comes to the final month of the Northwest Suburban Conference season.

Although not playing any non-conference games, the Skyhawks have rolled over nine league foes. The latest was Grant, a 9-0 verdict. The game was not settled until the later innings, but that's fine because the Skyhawks have Katie Parker.

"Because of her change-up, she got a lot of ground-ball outs. She can throw heat, screwball, a drop pitch and a change," Meyers said of Parker.

Parker took the area by storm as a frosh last year and has picked up right where she left off.

She got plenty of support from the bats against Grant. Senior Laurie Herckes, junior Lynette Regner both had two hits. The key hit in the 12-hit attack was a three-run triple by Dawn Stewart in the sixth. The Skyhawks scored six runs that frame.

Herckes leads the hitters with a .600 average. Third baseman Amanda DeVoy, Regner, shortstop Karen Stilling and Dawn Stewart all are .400 or above.

The Skyhawks have shown they can win with only a few hits. They beat Round Lake, the league's top challenger to them, with only four hits, 5-2.

"We just take games one game at a time. Our big thing is to have successful weeks," Meyers said.

Johnsburg will host a nine-team tournament with Fox Valley Conference schools Crystal Lake Central, South, and McHenry as well as Antioch later this month.

"We want to win the conference but also the regional," Meyers said.

And it looks like the Skyhawks are on a steady course to do just that.

Grant hoping for strong finish

If it was not for Katie Parker, Grant's softball team could be celebrating.

But the Johnsburg ace mowed down the Bulldogs 9-0. Grant had shown bright spots earlier in the week, downing Marian Central 14-6 and Wauconda 16-9 as the hitting came out in a big way. Grant split its first eight contests, all league games.

"Last time we played against them, she struck out 14 of us. This time, she only struck out two," Grant coach Sue Richardson said. "This time, we went up swinging the bat at the first pitch."

Senior Erin Klein leads the offense with a .440 batting average. "She can hit the long ball," Richardson said. Against the Hurricanes, Klein was four-for-four with four RBIs.

No-hitters, big win prepare CLC for tourney

If only the College of Lake County's baseball team's week could have stopped after Coach Gene Hanson's 601st career win.

Then the Lancers would be riding on the crest of momentum into the state playoffs, which it hosts for the first round this weekend.

The Lancers, after wrapping up a Skyway Conference title with a sweep of Truman, downed Malcom X 9-1 and 11-1 but then ran into a buzzsaw of top-level competition at the College of DuPage for a 28-10 overall record.

"I have known it was going to happen for a long time," CLC Coach Hanson said. "We have been averaging 30 wins a season and this is my 20th year. It is a credit to the kids who have played here."

Hanson's teams have won several conference titles, and competed at state tourney level. He is somewhat like President Bill Clinton these days. "Definitely, every 100 is special," he said.

The week also saw the Lancers not only take two from Marquette, 8-0 and 10-0, but featured no-hit gems from pitchers Andy Burks and Jason Hamblin. Both games were under the lights in Milwaukee.

"That is the first time I have ever seen that happen," Hanson said. "Burks and Hamblin have similar styles."

Kurt Bruksch picked up the win in the first game against Malcom X with Heath Cummings pitching after the fourth inning.

Before the COD doubleheader, Hanson said he was pleased with his team's play of late. Steve Karolewicz, a Warren graduate and Brian Geraghty, a Lake Forest grad, were leaders. Geraghty was five hits and five RBIs. Rick Young also contributed, with two hits and four RBIs.

"We're a really solid team. The big thing is not to make mental mistakes," Hanson said.

The Lancers traveled to one of the junior college powerhouses on Sunday and battled tough in the second game with a 2-1 loss. The first game was an 8-2 defeat.

"The only thing I was upset about was the number of runners left on base," Hanson said.

A grand slam by Rich Doty erased a 1-0 CLC lead in the fourth inning of game one.

CLC was held to five hits by Che Ehrwood. Ehrwood and Shayne Bennett were the two reasons the speed guns were being hoisted by scouts' arms. CLC did not have much offense in game one, although Dean Clark did have two singles.

CLC starter Derek Hart pulled up with an injury to a shoulder just one-third of an inning into the second game. Dan Torresin and Scott Lucadello kept the Lancers close.

CLC trailed 2-0 into the fifth inning but cut the lead in half. Clark continued his hot hitting by reaching on a single, and Tony Allport reached on an error one out later. Clark stole second and both runners moved up on a wild pitch.

Steve Karolewicz executed a patented squeeze bunt and Clark scored. Allport tried, but was thrown out by the COD second baseman.

"What we have going for us on that play is the element of surprise. The opposing team's second baseman usually throws to first, but this time he threw home," Hanson said.

Come state tourney time, the Lancers are hoping they are the ones with the last laugh.

Offense comes alive, CLC softball squad advances

The College of Lake County women's softball team may have lost an interpretation of a rule in the first game, but made up for it in strong fashion by beating McHenry twice Saturday in Crystal Lake.

That was just what the Lancers had to do to advance to the state quarterfinals against Triton.

CLC dropped the first game to the Scots 5-4, but came back and had the collective hitting shoes on in 12-2 and 12-3 wins.

"We lost the first game because of an interpretation of a rule. I should have fought harder, but I'm glad the players picked me up," CLC Coach Sue Garcia said. "The players just did not give up," she said.

Robin Horton, from Antioch and Michelle Gamble picked up the wins as CLC improved to 16-15.

"At the end of the game, she told me, 'this is the first regional game I have won,'" Garcia said of Gamble. The Waukegan product is usually a relief pitcher.

Amy Ornelas was two-for-five with a homer and five RBIs and Tricia Fullerton was three-for-four with two RBIs.

"We had three starters out to due to injuries, but we played pretty well," Richardson said.

Amber Gathman picked up the win in both victories.

Kiki Johnson and April Killman had three-run doubles in the second game.

In the third game, a six-run third inning was the difference for CLC. Sharon Allen and Killman each had three hits and Johnson two.

One of the strengths the Lancers have going for them has been the play of the offense of late. "They have been doing a tremendous job. Allen made a diving catch against a terrible wind in center. Kelly Damron made some spectacular catches in left," Garcia said.

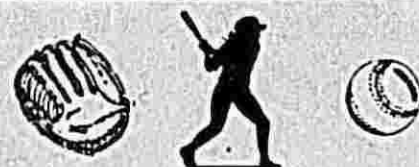

Amy Soka, a Lake Forest grad, plays right and has made big improvements at bat, Garcia said. Soka was two-for-three with two RBIs in the finale. "She has made a complete turnaround," Garcia said.

OBITUARIES

Fr. Bernard Duffy

Age 87 of Antioch, IL passed away Thursday, April 29, 1993 at his residence. He was born December 22, 1905 in Aughaga, Ireland coming to the United States in 1924 to study at Kenrick Seminary in Webster Groves, MO. On June 8, 1930 he was ordained to the priesthood for the LaCrosse Diocese in Wisconsin. Fr. Duffy served his first assignment as assistant pastor of St. Patrick Parish in Eau Claire, WI in 1930 and for the next 47 years he served in various parishes in the diocese of LaCrosse before his retirement in 1975, when he then settled in Antioch, IL.

Survivors include two sister; Sister Agatha (Kathleen) and Sister Calasactius (Susan) both in Ireland. He was preceded in death by two brothers, Francis and Edward and one sister, Maryann.

Funeral services with Mass of Christian Burial were held Monday, May 3, 1993 at St. Peter Church, Antioch, IL. Interment was Tuesday, May 4, 1992 at St. Joseph Cemetery, Baraboo, WI. A Mass was also said Tuesday at the Cathedral of St. Joseph the Workman, LaCrosse, WI. Arrangements were by the Strang Funeral Home, Antioch, IL.

Agnes O. Sheehan, nee Andersen

Age 61 of Wauconda, IL died May 3, 1993 at Good Shepherd Hospital in Barrington, IL. She was born June 18, 1931 in Chicago, IL. Agnes was Office Manager at Park Trails.

Survivors include her husband Edward J.; two sons Hugo Jr. (Debbie) Bliss of McHenry and Scott (Lynda) Bliss of McHenry; two daughters Maggie (Frank) Haney of Johnsburg and Charlene (Skip) Beyer of Round Lake Park; one brother Roy (Judy) Andersen; four sisters Gladys Kellogg, Bjorg (Pat) Sullivan, Ruth Kamerer, and Dorothy (Chuck) Auxier; also surviving are 20 grandchildren, with two more on the way.

Services will be at 11:00 AM Friday, May 7, 1993 at the Wauconda Funeral Home, 235 N. Main Street, Wauconda, Illinois 60084. Burial will be in Wauconda Cemetery. Visitation will be from 3:00 PM to 9:00 PM Thursday, May 6, 1993 at Wauconda Funeral Home, 235 N. Main Street, Wauconda, Illinois 60084. Memorials may be made to Tri County Pregnancy Center, Wauconda, Illinois.

Shirley M. Wilson

Age 70 of Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, passed away on May 2, 1993 at Lakeland Hospital in Elkhorn, Wisc. She was born on July 28, 1922 in Chicago to the late Floyd and Ethelyn (nee Greene) Frey. She was a resident of Lake Geneva for eight years, formerly of Round Lake for 15 years. Shirley was the former owner of the Local Butcher and Deli Store from 1960 to 1964 in Round Lake.

She is survived by her son James (Patricia) Wilson of Lake Zurich, IL. She was the sister of Donald (Theresa) Frey of Lindenhurst, IL and Nancy (Joe) Rippel of Ingleside, IL; grandmother of James D. Wilson of Omaha, Neb., Donald Luebbert of Missouri, Holly Marie Wilson of Lake Zurich, IL, Eric Luebbert of Bolingbrook, IL and Michael Shaun Wilson of Lake Zurich, IL; she was the beloved friend of Elaine Lyon of Lake Geneva, WI. She was preceded in death by her parents, one daughter Shirley Anne Wilson (March 13, 1992) and one brother Robert Frey.

Visitation was held Tuesday, May 4, 1993 from 4 to 9 PM at the Justen's Round Lake Funeral Home, 222 North Rosedale Court (Rosedale Ct at Cedar Lake Road) Round Lake, IL. Funeral Blessing was held on Wednesday, May 5, 1993 in the Funeral Home at 11:00 AM with Rev. Raymond Skriba officiating. Interment took place at Arlington Cemetery in Elmhurst, IL. For information, call 708-546-3300.

As part of our estate plan we planned our funeral. Now if something happens to either of us we don't have to worry.

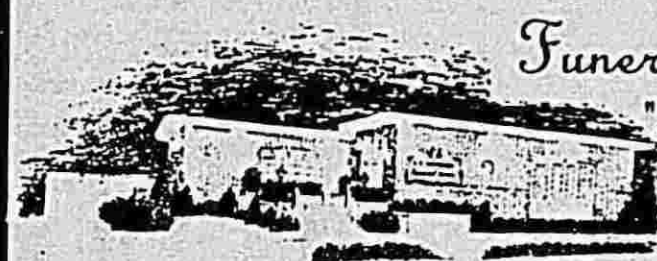

There are occasions when funeral planning and putting money away ahead of time makes good sense. You may want to spare your family the pain of making arrangements alone, you may want to be sure that no one will be burdened financially, or you may want the peace of mind that comes from knowing all matters are taken care of. Please feel free to call us and ask for our free booklet on funeral planning.

How To Survive
Search
By Nancy Sakol

G: Dear...Search: I was mad as all get out over an interview I was at last week. The position called for a general office clerk, reception, data entry, full time, good pay and benefits. The position appealed to me mainly because it was close to home and would enable me to go home at lunch time. I have been a stay at home mom for the past six years and am excited to go back to work now that my kids are in school full time. I called for an appointment and psyched myself for the interview, which went well. I had full anticipation of getting the job up until the employer told me that one of the functions of the position was data entry and loads of it. For me, no problem, with the exception of never having been exposed to a computer before in my previous positions. I was honest with him and told him that I had no computer experience, the employer said, "I'm sorry, but I am seeking someone with computer experience and there is no one here to teach it to you." Explaining that I could take a quick class at the local community college, he said that he was sorry and that this position needs to be filled within the next few days and that there were three qualified candidates already in the running with the experience he desired. He went on to say that he needed someone with the computer experience who could get in and out of the system and have the ability to handle any "glitches" that may arise. I told him that I feel totally discriminated against and left the interview feeling awful. I could have done that job and have done it well. Why do employers turn away potential employees who have drive and ambition. Don't they realize people are trainable? G.C. - Libertyville.

A: Dear G.C. In your eyes, you are the "key" person for that position. In the employers eyes, you were not qualified because you lacked an essential qualification for the position. The fact that there were three other candidates for which he needed to make a decision, leads me to believe they had everything needed to get the job done. To be labeling this discrimination is not only false but unfair to you. This company is looking to offer a position for good pay. Don't blame him for wanting to choose a candidate who is qualified for the position. He has every right to do so. My suggestion is your suggestion. Take a course in basic computers at your local college. Also, do not be so quick to use the term "discrimination", over lack of qualifications, to a potential employer who outlines exactly what they are looking for...it's a sure way to continue looking for a job! Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy c/o Lakeland Newspapers, P.O. Box 268, Grayslake, IL 60030

transplants—in that flower border for instance! Garden staples like tomatoes, peppers, cabbage and cauliflower are decorative, as well as delicious, and make natural growing companions for flowers. Vegetable gardening this way is fast and simple.

•Okay to start late in the season: Except in very cold climates, you can plug in many vegetables transplants right up until mid-summer and have a reasonable expectation of a crop before frost. Hot-weather crops like tomatoes and peppers, in fact, will be stunted if they're planted out too early. The trick is to look for early-maturing varieties and buy the biggest, sturdiest transplants you can find. Many garden centers now offer large plants in one-gallon containers, often already starting to bear fruit.

food. Two applications will prevent competition from new weeds for three months, feed plants and save lots of garden labor. When the product is through working, it biodegrades.

•Water: Letting your sprinkler do the work is fine, but don't water too close to sundown. Vegetable plants should go to bed dry to avoid disease and pest problems. Better still, lay down lengths of soaker hose or driplines, which are available in kits for any size garden.

•Enjoying the harvest: With a little practice, you can learn to grow what you enjoy eating in combination flower and vegetable gardens. Many flowers, including marigolds and nasturtiums, are edible and make excellent companion plants for vegetables.

If you get started very late and end up with a bumper crop of green tomatoes, don't despair. If they're not too green, tomatoes will ripen in a cool, dark spot like the basement—not on a sunny windowsill! Or use them green in recipes for piccalilli, mincemeat or green tomato pie.

sweep peppers to try are "California Wonder" and "Stokes Early Hybrid." You can grow hot peppers like jalapenos for salsa, too.

•Where and how to plant: Pick areas that get full sun for at least six hours per day. Foundation walls facing south are great because they offer protection and reflected warmth. Clear a space and apply a weed preventer with plant food. Scratch it into the soil surface then plug in your transplant. Plant tomatoes (especially leggy, late-season transplants) deep, right up to the first set of leaves. Then water thoroughly. Four weeks later, make a second application of plant

Anytime garden project: A cut flower border

For many people, the idea of a traditional flower garden conjures up images of English estates, complete with full-time gardeners.

Busy homeowners, wanting to keep things simple, tend to stick to the basics: petunias or marigolds in sunny spots, Impatiens in the shade.

While there's nothing wrong with these standard annuals, there are literally hundreds of others available as transplants at any garden center. Many are the traditional favorites your grandmother might have grown. They're just as easy to plant and they offer much more in terms of beauty and fragrance as well as cut flowers for the house.

You can start anytime after the weather settles down, but starting later in the season can actually be a plus. You'll find large transplants at the garden center already in bloom.

•Building the border: Choose a spot that gets full sun, preferably facing south. If you're planting against a foundation or garden wall, put tall-growers at the rear, and graduate downwards to the front, finishing with low-growing edging plants. In a bed or border that will be viewed from both sides, put tall plants in the center.

•Traditional favorites:

Tall-growing plants to consider are Hollyhocks, Foxglove and common or Mexican Sunflowers. Medium-sized plants for the middle ground include Calendula, Cosmos, Dahlias, Forget-me-nots, Snapdragons, Stock and Zinnias. For the forward edges of the border, tried-and-true varieties include Alyssum, Ageratum, Lobelia and Verbena.

•One-step weeding and feeding: Before plugging in your transplants, remove any existing weeds and apply a good weed preventer with plant food. Scratch it into the soil, plant and water well. This and a second application about four weeks later will prevent competition from new weeds, feed your flowers and save you plenty of unnecessary work.

•How to make cut flowers last: Cut flowers early in the morning when they have the highest water content and place immediately into a bucket of water. Change the water in vases daily.

•Autumn ideas: This fall, add spring flowering bulbs like daffodils and tulips to your border. When they're through blooming in late spring or early summer, begin plugging in your annuals again to hide the fading bulb foliage and rebuild your cut flower border.

Plan a chemical-free vegetable garden

Growing a chemical-free vegetable garden involves more than simply browsing through the latest seed catalogs. True, planting resistant cultivars helps give vegetables a natural head start in the ongoing battle against bugs and disease. But experienced organic gardeners know it also takes good gardening practices, such as keeping plants well-fed and watered, cleaning the garden and rotating crops, to ensure a bountiful vegetable harvest.

If you're new to organic gardening, resist the urge to use synthetic fertilizers, herbicides and pesticides as a quick-fix solution for occasional crop disappointments. Such chemicals damage plant tissue, in addition to posing long-term health and safety risks to gar-

Replace harmful toxins with environmentally-sound substitutions. Here are some reliable measures and new products that make gardening without chemicals a breeze:

Organic fertilizers and soil amendments

Say good-bye to chemical fertilizers. Compost and mineral supplements can nourish your soil and crops just as well. Compost, considered one of the best soil conditioners, is made from decomposed organic matter, such as fruit rinds, hedge trimmings, sawdust and eggshells. Organic fertilizers containing rock phosphate, greens and, bonemeal and other natural substances also help boost the content of specific soil nutrients.

Barriers.

These essential supplies are found in every organic gardener's arsenal. For example, floating row covers, which are placed over many crops to protect them from flying insects, provide a safe, effective way to keep bugs from reaching plants. Besides blocking out insects, some barriers, such as Fast Start by Easy Gardener, produce a greenhouse environment when placed over plants and seeds. Lightweight, clear-colored Fast Start allows sunlight and water to penetrate through the fabric while it "warms" the soil below.

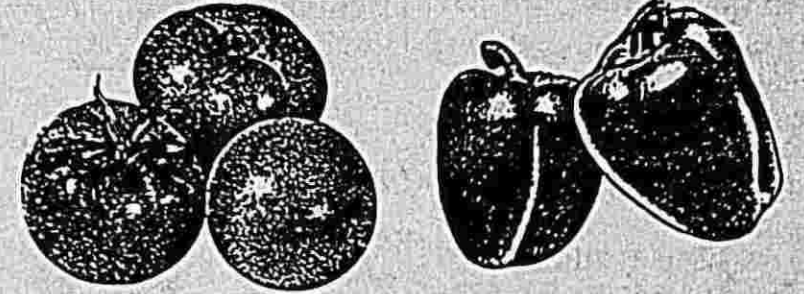

Biocontrols

Believe it or not, "helpful" insects, bacteria, fungi, viruses and nematodes are commonly used by organic gardeners to keep harmful pest parasites and predators in check. Plant mint, dill, daisies and other nectar plants around the garden to provide a food supply for the good bugs and encourage them to stick around. Although some biocontrol agents, such as Bacillus thuringiensis, or BT, are available at garden centers, the majority must be specially ordered from insectaries.

Spray and dusts

Soap, garlic and other substances can be used to make insecticidal or insect-repelling sprays at home. Diatomaceous earth is used as an insecticidal dust. Natural sprays containing copper and sulfur compounds help prevent and treat fungal and bacterial disease problems.

Landscape fabrics

Prevents weeds from gaining a foothold in the vegetable garden by using landscape fabric. These fabrics, also known as geotextiles, will eliminate needless hours of hoeing and pulling weeds by hand.

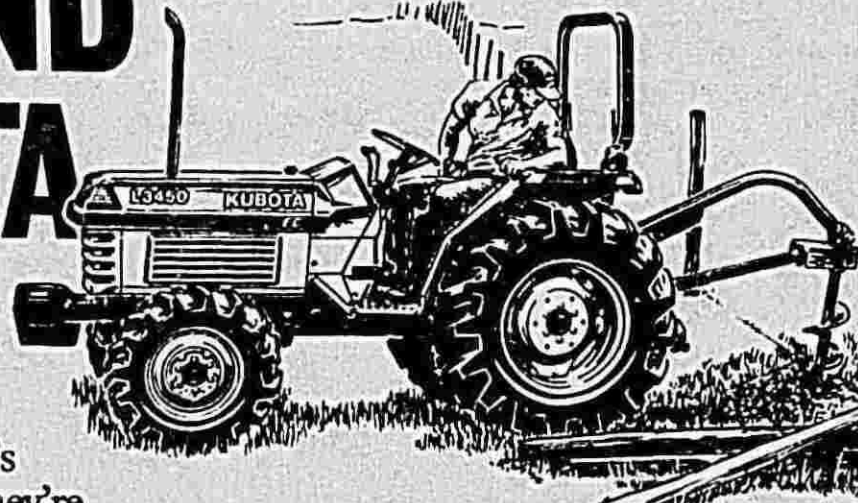

Water equipment

Chemical-free gardeners know what weak plants are an easy target for pests and disease. Investing in a good watering system helps ensure plants stay strong and healthy. A long wand and spray nozzles are the least expensive options. Even better are drip irrigation systems and soaker hoses, which help to conserve water during dry spells. Once installed, they are a labor-saving way to water the garden.

Converting to a chemical-free vegetable garden is easy. All it takes is a little planning and care, and a commitment to help protect Mother Nature.

Roses: A traditional symbol of love, affection

Roses.
The word alone conjures thoughts of lush beauty and sweet fragrance, as it has for centuries. Without a doubt, roses are the best known and most beloved flower in history, and their popularity continues unabated to this day.

The reasons are clear. There are hundreds of varieties available in a kaleidoscope of colors, shapes and blossom type. Roses are easy to grow, even for the novice gardener, and most plants are quite hardy, meaning that they will withstand the elements and return bigger and better year after year.

There are three secrets to growing thriving roses. First, purchase only top-quality bushes in either containers or bare-root format. Second, be sure to plant roses in a sun-rich area where the drainage is good. Third, apply a balanced, time-released plant food which provides the major nutrients (nitrogen, phosphorous and potassium) and vital minor elements needed for a quick start and sustained vigorous growth for the entire growing season.

Picking roses

Roses are available in a great many shapes and sizes, one of which will be right for you and your yard. For example, Hybrid teas are among the most popular roses due to their wide color scheme, strong aroma and their ability to grow from two to six feet tall. Shrub roses grow from six to 10 feet tall and require little in the way of care once planted. Floribundas grow their flowers in impressive clusters, while miniature roses grow equally beautiful, yet proportionately smaller blooms. Rambling roses are also referred to as climbers, even though that's a bit of a misnomer. Rambling roses don't have tendrils to help them creep up a fence or a trellis, so they need to be tied in place. The result, depending on the variety, is the same: either bright clusters of flowers or single, lovely blooms all in a row.

What is the right rose plant for your garden? That depends. There are many books available on the subject, or you can ask for help from the staff at your local lawn and garden retailer or nursery.

Planting roses

of rose type and variety, the most important element in growing it successfully is planting the bush properly. Start by selecting a planting site that receives at least six hours of sunlight daily and provides adequate air circulation and water drainage. Do not plant roses near trees or other very large plants, as they will battle for available moisture, with the roses quite likely losing the fight.

Rose bushes are sold either in containers or bare root. Bare-root roses should be put into the ground as soon as possible after purchase. If a bare-root bush can't be planted immediately, keep the plant in its wrapping and store it in a cool, airy place until you are ready. Container rose plants simply need to be kept moist, but can be planted at any time.

The key to good soil is aeration, which allows for the free flow of air and water, while giving plant roots the chance to reach deep and wide into the ground. Work coarse builder's sand and organic matter, such as compost or sphagnum peat moss, into the soil to a depth of 18 inches, turning the soil over several times to ensure that the materials are spread well.

When you are ready to plant, dig the planting hole one and a half feet deep and two feet wide. To plant bare-root roses, create a firm mound or cone in the hole's middle. After removing the plant's wrapping, spread open its roots, running away any that are broken, then place them over the cone and cover with soil. The bud union (the knob where roots meet branches) should be planted one to two inches below the ground in areas of the country where it snows. In warmer climates, it should be placed at one inch above the soil line. Water immediately. The process for planting container roses is essentially the same. However, there is no need to build a cone of soil. Simply place the rose in the hole at the level at which it was in the container. The container should be removed before planting.

moist but not soggy, particularly on the days immediately after planting. Also, a time-release plant food will deliver vital nutrients to the roots as needed.

A traditional symbol of love and affection, roses have long been revered the flower of royalty. From "rosy" cheeks to the Rose Bowl parade, the beauty of roses has now worked its way into our everyday lives. Red, pink, white, yellow, mauve, orange, bi-color—whatever the color, roses are easy to grow and maintain.

Windowsill herbs: For memorable recipes, health

If your experience with herbs has been limited to shaking a few flakes of dried oregano out of a jar, there's a whole world of enjoyment and satisfaction you can explore right in your own kitchen.

Most herbs, including culinary (for cooking), fragrance and medicinal types, will thrive indoors in a sunny window, under fluorescent lights, or using a combination of both. Your own windowsill herb garden can supply the precious ingredients for exciting recipes, healthful herbal teas, natural, gentle cosmetics and fragrant sachets and potpourri to use at home or as thoughtful gifts.

Herbs are easy, inexpensive and truly rewarding to grow at home. Here's how:

•What kinds to choose: Herbs are available at garden centers as seeds or started transplants. Generally speaking, herbs are either annuals, which grow for a season or two and die, or perennials, which can live for many years and become quite large.

Sweet Bay, for example, the secret to savory soups and stews, will grow into a medium-sized tree indoors. Other familiar culinary herbs include annuals such as basil, coriander, dill and parsley, as well as perennials such as marjoram, oregano, rosemary, sage and thyme.

You also can grow catnip, a perennial, for a nerve-soothing tea and contented housecats. Lavender, lemon verbena, and scented geraniums are all long-lived perennials that will lend their heady aromas to herbal bathwaters, sachets and potpourris. Lovage, a hardy perennial that can reach six feet indoors, has long been used to make natural mouthwashes, while both spearmint and peppermint are said to be effective against headaches and indigestion.

•How to grow herbs indoors: Whether you start herbs from seed or transplants, grow them in a light mix of potting soil with some sand or vermiculite added for good drainage.

Perennial herb seed can be started in shallow pans or flats and transplanted to individual 4-inch pots when the plants are a couple of inches tall.

Annual herbs like parsley, dill, coriander and caraway don't transplant well and should be sown in the container in which they will remain.

Keep seeded containers in a warm spot and uniformly moist until the seeds sprout, then move them into a sunny spot. If natural light is insufficient (at least four hours of sun per day) supplement it with fluorescent "grow lights." Plants growing in strong light need regular watering and feeding with a good liquid fertilizer. Using this combination, you can produce a surprisingly large harvest indoors.

•Enjoy the harvest: As a general rule, you may harvest herbs gradually, snipping off a couple of inches as needed, but never removing more than about a third of the total plant.

Some herbs, especially if grown for seed (dill, is one example) might be allowed to mature, then harvested and used whole.

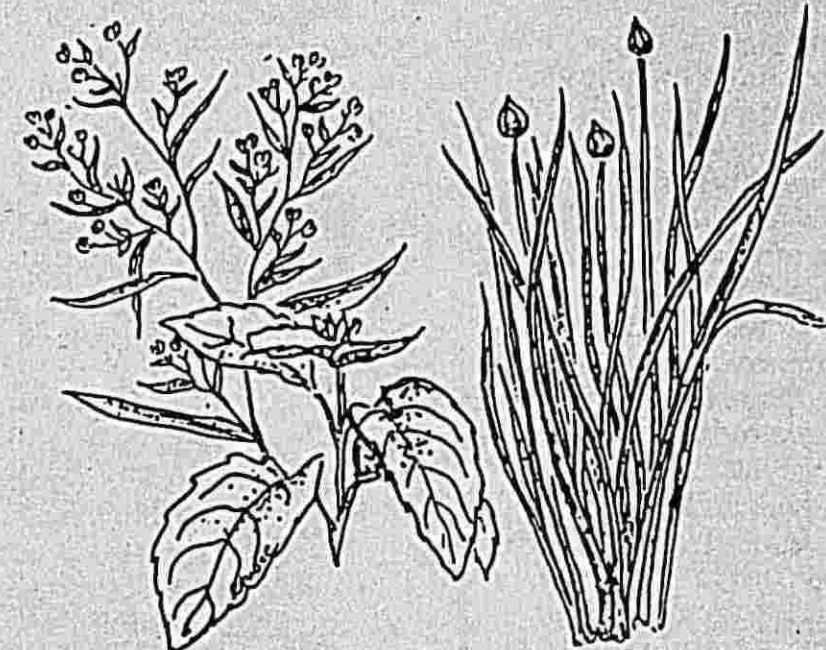

•Herbal vinegars: Use these to add zest to a salad, as a bracing facial splash, or natural after-shampoo conditioner.

Begin by combining either white or red wine vinegars and your favorite herbs. Some chefs like to let the herbs steep in the vinegar for a few weeks, and then drain and rebottle, but this is not strictly necessary. For added flavor and decorative appeal, you can add garlic cloves, olives, jalapeno peppers, or pimento on wooden skewers.

Try a few different food colorings for variety, and use clear, clean glass bottles. Fancy liquor and wine bottles with corks are perfect. Herb vinegars make lovely, thoughtful housewarming gifts that soon become a favorite kitchen item.

•Potpourris and sachets: Recipes for these generally call for the addition of scented oils. It's possible to make your own, but you would probably need more herbs than you can practically grow indoors.

Scented oils, along with powdered orris root, a fixative, are available at craft stores, along with other dried items, like rose petals, that you can use along with your own herbs to make personal potpourri combinations.

Choose a combination you like—say, lavender, rosemary and scented geranium—crumble the ingredients together, and add about a half ounce of the fixative and a few drops of scented oil to every three to four cups of herbs or flower petals. Seal the mixture up in tightly covered jars for a few weeks while the scent blends and fixes, then use uncovered in baskets, jars or sewn up into sachets.

•Enhancing home-cooked meals: With herbs at your fingertips in the kitchen, you'll discover creative cooking impulses you never knew you had. Herbs can turn ordinary foods into gourmet treats, and they're a great way to add flavor and excitement to salt-free diets.

Use your windowsill herbs in salads, soups and stews, pasta sauces, omelets, stuffing, rice and vegetables. Remember that fresh herbs, though more flavorful than dried, are less strong, so where a recipe calls for, say, a teaspoon of dried herbs, double that amount when using fresh herbs.

And after that fabulous meal, chewing a sprig of fresh parsley makes the world's best natural breath freshener.

Perennials provide years of pleasure

A bed of established perennials blooming profusely in succession from June through September provides rainbows of color to the landscape and armloads of cut flowers for the home.

Such beds are virtually maintenance-free and long-lasting. They serve as a pantry of food for butterflies and hummingbirds, and a source of stem cuttings and root divisions to share with family and friends. Indeed, you can clone a perennial bed to live on for generations.

Perennials are surging in popularity with experienced and beginning gardeners across America's diverse growing regions. Perennials offer something to satisfy every taste—from the majestic Delphinium to the stately Oriental Poppy, to the whimsical ornamental grasses, with lots of nuances in between.

Because perennials live so long and take several years to get established, take care in choosing and preparing the planting site and selecting the right types and proper varieties to suit your needs.

Perennials typically are planted in the spring or fall. This is when bare-root stock is most widely available. Potted perennials are usually available throughout the summer at garden centers. Some people prefer to buy and plant then because the foliage, flowers and habit of the plant can be studied. But, for diversity of choice and economy, bare-root planting in spring or autumn is the choice of experienced gardeners.

While some gardeners prepare their soil a season ahead, others plant just after conditioning the soil. You'll want to "build" your soil from the ground down, amending it by working two inches of Canadian Sphagnum peat moss into the top six inches of soil. Because perennials are a long-term investment in beauty, amending the soil is well worth the effort.

Amending the soil with plentiful, sustainable sphagnum peat moss does double duty. Not only does it correct the pH of an alkaline soil because of its high pH level (3.8 to 4.5), it improves the friability as well. (Friable is a term that refers to a soil that is loose enough for water and air to pass through freely, yet sticky enough that individual particles bind together).

A fistful of moist, friable soil forms a ball in the hand and then crumbles and falls apart when you release the pressure.

Fertility also is important, as most perennials do best when the soil is above-average infertility or is "rich." Be sure to choose a fertilizer that works for your perennial, and follow manufacturer's instructions.

Get Organized

If people want to stop gangs, they need to form and organize themselves. I am sick and tired of hearing people complain about gangs but do nothing.

Cover Up

There is a big cover-up going on between the Round Lake Beach Police Department and the Lake County States Attorney's Office to protect Director Smith's use of wire-tap equipment at Cen-Com 911 during the recent elections. Document shredding and document modification continues 24 hours a day to protect these people.

Real Choices

The person who called about the finding of the fetus in the glove compartment seemed to be laying the blame at the feet of "Right to Lifers". Things have gotten worse since abortion has been legalized. The fetal by-products are found in garbage cans and women die every day from botched legal abortions. "Pro-lifers" have been working for years to meet the needs of women and children. There are crisis pregnancy centers throughout the area. These centers get no publicity from the media because the media is biased. Quit promoting legal abortion and give women a real choice!

Don't Do Your Business

Why do the residents near the pumping station on Garfield Ave. bring their pets down there to do their business and do not pick up after them? This is despite the ordinance in Libertyville that prohibits it. I think we should enforce this and people should be fined.

Clinics Are Open

If abortions are made illegal, a lot of these terrible abortions would not continue. "Pro-Lifers" have opened up birth control clinics that do not do abortions. There is one in Wauconda, Palatine, Schaumburg. The "Pro-Abortion" people should stop doing this to girls.

Not My Friend

This is in response to "Still Mad". How dare you! The decision to have an abortion is a difficult and painful one.

REALTOR

OVERESTIMATING FLAWS

There isn't a REALTOR who has not seen prospects instantly turned off toward purchasing a home by peeling paint on the outside; a lawn overgrown with weeds or littered with debris; a dirty kitchen, worn carpeting or shabby wallpaper.

On occasion, overestimating these flaws can be a mistake. Don't automatically let surface shortcomings cause you to reject the house. You may be passing up an excellent purchase. If the location is good and other properties in the neighborhood are valued at a higher amount, it may be worth your taking a longer look. Many of the clean-up, fix-up and paint-up jobs can be done at little cost. In an older house, apparently serious defects may not be so serious after all. Often they can be corrected for a few hundred dollars. Of course, check on the cost of repairs before you buy. Armed with fix-up costs you may be able to negotiate an excellent buy.

If there is anything I can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at RE/MAX HERITAGE, 4641 Grand Avenue, Gurnee. Phone: 336-2600. I'm here to help!

Your friend needs your support right now, not your condemnation. True friends support each other in good times and bad. It should not matter if her actions meet with your approval or not. I sure am glad that you are not my friend.

Truth Hurts

As President of the Owl Society, I support the "cartoon lady" 100 percent. Although those upset politicians should have called you the Tooninator! To those politicians I have to say, the truth hurts.

Dry Up Your Tears

Tis the owl that upset you all not Joe G. While she may be good, she still may not be owl material. Although she may be welcome in the future. May I suggest that those of you that came in dead last in the Lake Villa and Round Lake Beach dry up your crocodile tears. Riff and Raff.

Say A Prayer

The person who wrote "Village Idiots" does not need to sell his house. Don't worry. If you go by the past record of Ralph Davis, he will soon quit or resign within the next six months or so. Let's all pray that he does.

Watch Your Kids

I go through the intersection complained about by "Near Miss" and "Try Slowing Down" every day. I have seen plenty of children, even 2 year old triplets, playing in the street there without any adult supervision. Maybe the children should be supervised instead of changing the street.

Take It Back

I am "Unhappy Birthday" and I want to respond to "Just Take It Back"! As soon as we discovered the pizzas were burnt, we called. That was when they assured us that we would be compensated. It was 10 o'clock at night and we were not about to get dressed again to return to the pizza place. We are very busy people. It was four days later that we were able to return physically to the place. That was when they told us there would be NO compensation. And, Gyro is spelled GYRO.

Rectify The Situation

Since the Department of Resources has stated that 42 percent of our fish population are yellow bass (which were planted in Round Lake in the early 60's) and are now dying due to bacterial infection from overpopulation, they should rectify the situation. How about putting in some "highbred stripers" in the Chain instead of putting them all in their favorite southern lakes.

Turn It Off

I am from Antioch and wonder... Doesn't the fire siren bother anyone but me? Can't we get more up to date and use beepers to call firemen?

Take A Look

This is to the person who obviously walks around with her eyes closed. I live in Round Lake. You say that there are no businesses to support? There is NO gas station and plenty of small businesses to support. Take a look! These companies help pay taxes.

Check Your Facts

You stated that the village residents voted down the riverboat complex in "All The Gals". If you check the voting record you will see that 61 percent of the township vote was against the riverboat. And, 62 percent came from the village. So, check your facts. This was a township wide referendum not just the village.

Who Has The Vote?

The people who live in the Village of Antioch also reside in the Township. The people of the Village vote on both Village issues and Township issues. The people of the Township vote only on Township issues.

Reclaim The Beach?

Here we go again with the new breed of politics in Round Lake Beach. The first thing we did was get rid of a great chief and hire a questionable one. Couldn't we have found one without a questionable background? Do you "reclaim the beach" by giving it back to the lawyers so they can make money?

Against Abortion

I think that anyone who is "Pro-choice" should die. Did you know that most people who get abortions are against the death sentence?

Conflicts Of Interest

Why is it that the information concerning Round Lake Heights Mayor did not come out until after the election? Are there other conflicts of interest we should know about?

Generations working together, a natural

Intergenerational (IG) programs have been described as activities that increase cooperation, interaction and exchange between children and adults. These activities involve the sharing of skills, knowledge and experience between the young and another generation. This philosophy is applied by many in a variety of ways and is thought by some to be one of the solutions to societies' ills.

At the Generations United National Conference, in Washington D.C. examples of intergenerational programs included grandparents raising their grandchildren, older adults volunteering in child care centers, high school students performing home repair services for senior citizens, support groups for grandparents raising their cocaine addicted grandchildren, adopt a grandparent, home sharing, and interactive activities among nursing home residents and children of a variety of ages.

Lake County residents are also involved in the growing Intergenerational movement. There currently exist a variety of programs such as: the Grandma Please, after-school telephone link with latch key children; Senior Prom, high-schoolers taking senior citizens to a school dance; pen pal, letter exchanges between grade school children and residents in a nursing home; a senior center group working to develop more infant care programs and intergenerational care environment activities to name a few.

The Northeastern Illinois Partnership for Intergenerational Care (NIPIC) has formed to address issues related to IG programs where the older adult is a recipient of care and attends a structured care environment, such as a nursing facility, or adult day care center and the children are participants in a child care program. NIPIC members have developed guidelines for such programming to help ensure a very positive situation for everyone involved. NIPIC members include, Lake County Health Dept., Illinois Dept. of Children and Family Services/Lake Villa office, Condell Medical Center Intergenerational Day Center.

Libertyville Manor Extended Care Facility, Young At Heart Preschool

Child/Adult Day Center, Inc., and the Northeastern Illinois Area Agency on Aging. Members believe that a successful IG program is a serious responsibility which requires a careful planning and consideration to best meet the needs of diverse age groups.

NIPIC is working with the Generation Connect to offer a workshop on Intergenerational concepts in August. For further IG information call B. Haley at 360-6733.—by G. Haley, Lake County Health Dept.

Monitoring child's care

Most of the problems that arise with child care providers are minor annoyances, but it is important for parents to be alert to more serious situations. It is sometimes hard to know whether or not to be concerned. Your child can help you decide, even if not yet old enough to talk.

Changes in your child's attitudes and behavior may be signs of child care problems, or they may simply be part of the maturation process. Be alert, but don't jump to conclusions. Listen, watch, wait, be aware and sympathetic. Talk to your child and the caregiver. Most problems are short-lived and innocent in nature.

Serious problems, such as mental, physical or sexual abuse are rare, but unfortunately they do occur. Abused children show symptoms. They may be usually clingy, show fear of avoidance of particular people, or show drastic changes in temperament. They may have difficulty eating or sleeping. They may have physical signs of abuse, such as unexplained (or illogically explained) burns, bruises, or other injuries, genital bleeding or bruising, or difficulty swallowing. They may re-enact their own abuse with dolls, drawings or friends.

Suspected abuse should be reported to the Illinois Child Abuse Hotline: 1(800)252-2873. an investigation will be conducted and law enforcement authorities will be notified.

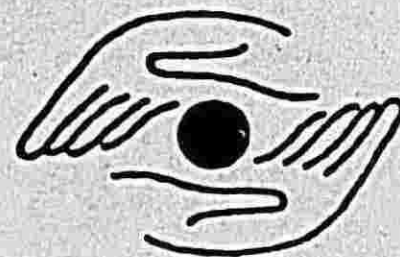

Your child's crossed eyes may cause permanent damage if not treated!

CROSSED EYES and other eye misalignments do not usually correct themselves. By the time a child is seven years old the vision damage they cause can become permanent.

Eye misalignments can be corrected as soon as a child is six months old. The earlier the correction, the more time there is for normal vision to develop.

If your child's eyes are misaligned, have them examined by Dr. Alan Chow, our children's eye specialists.

Allergy Vacuum with H.E.P.A. Type Filter Sale Price $395⁰⁰

Pollen, dust, mold, animal dander, dust mites. These are just a few of the common allergens which collect in carpeting, draperies, bedding, and furniture. Allergy sufferers can find relief using the Allergy Vacuum to combat these household allergens.

Unlike conventional household vacuums which exhaust unseen contaminants back into the air and may actually cause an allergic reaction, the Allergy Vacuum traps harmful allergens with progressively finer stages of filtration. Its four-stage filtration system includes: a disposable paper bag, a washable embossed polyester filter bag, a disposable impact filter and a H.E.P.A. type filter that is 99% efficient at 0.3 microns (1 micron = 1/25,400 of an inch).

As an added precaution, if the high efficiency filter is removed, the vacuum will not operate. This patented safety interlock system assures user safety and prevents allergens from being redistributed back into the air. This vacuum comes complete with tool kit and caddy.

If someone in your home suffers from allergies, asthma or respiratory ailments, the Allergy Vacuum is an easy and affordable solution which can provide years of dependable relief.

Food bank offers delivery to hunger fighting agencies

Not-for-profit agencies who feed the hungry in Lake and McHenry Counties are eligible to receive food via Bethlehem Center Food Bank's new Transportation Assistance Program.

Beginning in May, food will be delivered on a weekly basis to a donated dock site in Lake County. A day before delivery, agencies call a menu and order the food they need. Agencies pick up their orders the next day at an allotted time from the dock.

The program is designed to provide a consistent, convenient, and inexpensive source of food to soup kitchens, food pantries, shelters and other hunger fighting agencies in the Lake and McHenry County region. Rather than picking up food at the food bank in Carol Stream, agencies receive their food orders a donated dock site in their area, saving both time and money.

Among the 23 agencies from Lake and McHenry Counties who currently receive food from the food bank are Shiloh Baptist Church in Waukegan, Lakes Area Food Pantry in Round Lake Park, and Loaves and Fishes in Marengo.

Anyone interested in learning more about Transportation Assistance is invited to attend an informational meeting on Thursday, April 29 from 10 a.m. to noon in the 10th floor assembly room at the Lake County Board Office, 18 N. County St., Waukegan. Call Nancy Barron, agency coordinator, at 462-7669 for more information.

The food bank currently runs Transportation Programs in Will, Joliet and Kankakee. Since the Kankakee program began in September of 1992, the food bank has distributed over 95,000 pounds of food via Transportation Assistance to hunger fighting agencies in that area.

Agencies who feed the hungry in Lake County are eligible to receive food via Bethlehem Center Food Bank's new Transportation Assistance Program. Call Nancy Barron, agency coordinator, at 462-7669 for more information.

Citibank is now offering home equity loans at the prime rate.

(Forget the bathtub. Put in a pool.)

A home equity loan at the prime rate? With no points, no closing costs and no application fees?

Will that pool be regular or olympic size?

In short, a Citibank home equity loan offers the absolute lowest cost currently available anywhere in Chicagoland. Period.

And to be sure, at Citibank, the prime rate still stands

no matter how much or how little of your loan you use. At other banks this isn't always the case; there, if the loan amount you use falls below a designated level, the rate increases. You'll also be happy to know that in most cases, the interest you pay may be 100% tax-deductible.

"PRIME RATE FINANCING? NOW I'VE SEEN IT ALL!"

Applying for your home equity loan is as easy as 123 - or, more accurately,

(312) 627-3600 ext. 518.

With one quick call, we can tell you just how much you may be able to borrow. And what your initial monthly payments may be.

Now's the time. And Citibank's the place.

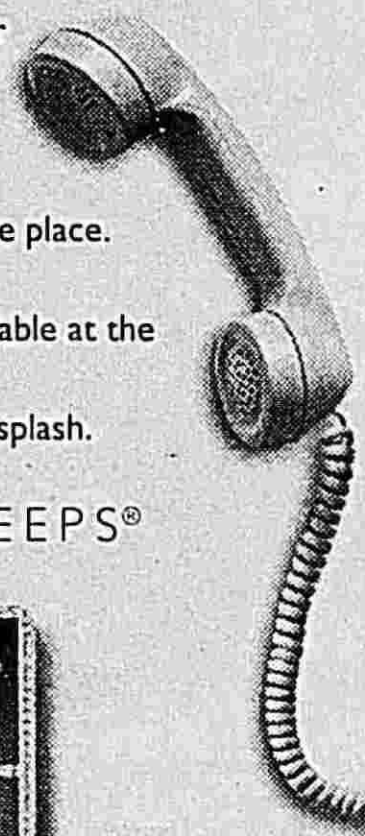

Because having a home equity loan available at the prime rate is really going to make a big splash.

Congratulations to Shelly Volling of Antioch. She graduated from the University of Michigan on Friday with a Masters in Business Administration and a Masters of Health Science Administration. Good job Shelly!

Thank You Lipservice

Hello Lipservice. Thanks for the great opportunity for us to share our opinions with fellow citizens. I subscribe to Lakeland Newspapers just because of Lipservice. I agree with the person who requested the poetry corner. I would love to see a section in the paper where we can submit our poems.

Another Fast Enough

Hey, Reclaim the Beach Party. How about another "Fast Enough" stop sign at Ronald Terrace and Woodridge in the Beach, about a block and a half from Ellis School? The concerned parents of this neighborhood all hope we too can get a "Fast Enough" stop sign. There are lots of kids walking to and from school. How about it Reclaim the Beach? We'll see how fast it goes.

Insure This

There was a dirty political cover-up at the Fox Lake Village Board meeting tonight. What is with this insurance deal? Better plans were cheaper but not taken. I mean $65,000 a year more is a lot of money. And, there was a $300 increase on my tax bill this year. What's going on in Fox Lake?

Deserves An Apology

I am a teacher at the Round Lake High School. I have been here for over nine years. I think that the board of education and Mary Davis made a big mistake by letting Larry go. I was at the hearing and I thought the charges were ridiculous. You should reconsider and think about what you did to this man. He has done so much for the school and the district. You owe him an apology.

Thanks RL Employees

I would like to publicly thank the gentlemen in blue and brown who work for the Village of Round Lake Beach and Round Lake Streets and Sanitation. These gracious men make it possible for a crippled person like myself to enjoy the winter months by making my pathway accessible. Your kindness is appreciated. I am one of those "Out Of Order" persons that likes the cold.

Cop Deserves A Ticket

Greetings to the Lake County Sheriffs Deputy who so proudly displays the Sheriff's Medallion and the personalized license plate. I followed you to work last week eastbound on Washington Street. You were traveling at speeds of 45 and 50 mph, weaving in and out of traffic. I tried to keep up with you so that I too could witness the "fire". I was sadly disappointed to discover you were only going to work. Although, I did feel some exhilaration, driving as recklessly as you did. The only time you slowed down was when you encountered four or five speed limited bound citizens you undoubtedly would ticket for the same type of driving.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Lake County Farmland Assessment Review Committee has scheduled an annual public hearing on Lake County tax values for lands assessed under the law in Sections 20e, 20f and 20g of the Revenue Act of 1939, as amended.

Said hearing will be held at the Lake County Farm Bureau, 33040 North Highway 45, Grayslake, IL on May 24, 1993 at 11:30 a.m.

For this hearing, reasonable accommodation will be made for handicapped persons. This includes accommodation for the vision and hearing impaired, if a request is made within forty eight (48) hours of the meeting time.

Eight years, two kids, two cars, a house and one bank.

Meet the Davises. Tim, Catherine and Matt. Oh, and that's Erica. When she came along, life changed pretty drastically. But they handled it with help from First of America.

Not long after the baby was born, they discovered the old two-door coupe just wasn't big enough anymore. So we set them up with an affordable low-rate car loan for a minivan.

Then they wanted a home of their own. And we gave them a variety of HomelightSM mortgage options. Of course, they needed furniture for it, so we offered them a choice of MasterCard[®] or VISA[®].

Camps nurture soccer

Spring has returned, and with it, so has the return of outdoor sporting activities. While many of us turn our thoughts to the nation's "favorite pastime" — baseball — soccer, the number one spectator and participation sport in the world, will be overshadowed.

Soccer Made In America, a nationally recognized organization, was founded on this premise. Founded by former professional player and coach, Aleksander Mihalovic, Soccer Made In America was conceived and designed to promote and upgrade the level of soccer played as well as its general interest and acceptance in the United States. The product of over nine years of fine tuning, Soccer Made In America employs an innovative approach to soccer training to set even higher standards in training camps, clinics, and on-site team programs.

As a player, Alek's skills paved an easy route to the professional rank having been a two-time All American, East-West Senior College Bowl selection, and having set all-time scoring records at Jacksonville University where his uniform was retired. He currently holds an A-class coaching license, sanctioned by the United States Soccer Federation, and is highly regarded as one of the top technical and tactical clinicians in the nation.

Starting this spring and running into the late fall, Alek and Soccer Made In America will once again be hosting its training camps, credited as being the No. 1-rated programs in Chicago, providing for novice to experienced club players. Conducted at over 75 Chicago and suburban facilities, the camps are devoted exclusively to promoting a player's creativity without deterring proper body mechanics or mental field awareness.

Area camps will be conducted in Libertyville (June 14-18), July 26-30 and Aug. 16-20; Round Lake (June 28-July 2); and Warren Township (July 19-23).

Soccer Made In America has collected one of the best training staffs available, selected based upon their professional background and their ability to impart their respect for the game. One hand this year will be Dragon Pavlovic, former first division player of the Colombian International team and 16 year veteran of Team Santa Fe, Bogota, Columbia; Rodrigo Kenton, national team coach, Costa Rica; and Garth Lagerwey, Duke University goalkeeper and team member of the United States U19 National team, to name just a few.

Three levels will be made available to all levels of skilled players. Each level will consist of five consecutive half-day sessions in which technical development will be emphasized along with the state-of-the-art tactical methods available today.

Each program exposes students to a series of one-half hour skill development sessions. In between each of these sessions, students are put into a game situation in which to apply the skill they had just focused on. This format helps to achieve a perfect harmony of technical and tactical training while allowing each student to create his or her own individualistic creativity.

In its one year history, Soccer Made In America has contributed greatly to the advancement of soccer in this country.

For further information concerning SMIA camps, call 916-9500.

Bitto looks over 'new' Carmel

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

One could not blame Andy Bitto for feeling more than a little proud these days.

When he walked the halls of Carmel High School for boys several years ago, the school did not have the facilities it does today, let alone what students will enjoy beginning this fall. The football team struggled with sub-.500 seasons, although Bitto played for a winning team his senior year.

These days, Bitto gladly looks over the new gymnasium under construction at Carmel High that will increase the seating capacity to 1,500 fans.

But that is not all. Storage space, always a premium at the Mundelein school, will be adequate, if not plentiful when construction concludes this summer. New locker rooms for teams and students and one for officials will be offered. A new 2,000 square foot weight room will have state-of-the-art equipment from the Centre Club. A new set-up for the concession stand will be available.

All told, 44,000 square feet of addition will become home for Carmel.

"It will be more spacious and just a lot classier," Bitto said. "It will give us ample space. In the past, the varsity basketball team had to practice to 10 p.m. because we had six levels."

On the outside, the school has acquired five acres of land for future softball and soccer use.

The historic 1,400 seat former gym will be used by gym classes and underclass sporting events.

Bitto is one of 12 children, all of whom attended St. Gilberts Elementary School in Grayslake and Carmel. He played youth football for the former Gagewood Packers program where his father, Louis, was one of the first coaches.

Bitto, a former Ball State University football player, officially becomes the athletic director July 1. Karen Lamanna, present girls athletic director, will become assistant athletic director.

Bitto succeeds the late Bud Grover, who passed away in January. Coaches have been pitching in doing the athletic director's chores since.

"When it was announced Grover was retiring, I began to think about being athletic director. My main goal is to become a head football coach at a high school or assistant at a college," Bitto said.

"The planning has all been done," Bitto said during a tour of the new facility.

Bitto is not planning to bid for the sectional basketball final four quite yet, but does have some plans for basketball. "I'd like to start up a county Christmas basketball tournament," he said.

He does not foresee any changes in Carmel's conference affiliations, East Suburban Catholic for boys and Girls Catholic Athletic Conference for girls.

But then Libertyville decided to have some fun. Taking advantage of every Warren miscue, and Kerry Gustafson's continued strong pitching with a no-hitter in what turned out to be a 9-1 romp.

"Kerry has worked very hard to get to the level of where she is at," LHS Coach Bob Fox said.

The senior struckout 13 batters and seemed to be stronger even with the extra inning. She struckout the side in the eighth.

"I am doing a lot better than last year," Gustafson said.

It was Gustafson, who credited an excellent team for her fourth win, whose bat decided the game as well.

It was still 1-1 when Marsha Fletcher started the eighth with a single. Shannon McFadden reached on an error, and Gustafson drove Fletcher home as the Warren left-fielder tried for a shoe-string catch.

It snowballed from there for Warren as LHS moved to 6-2 in the North Suburban Conference, 7-4 overall.

Jaime White reached on an error, Lindsay Celba walked to load the bases and senior Tracey Halverson settled matters with a three-run double and a 5-1 lead.

Warren shook its bad-inning blues, gaining a win in a 6-5 victory over Fenton. The Blue Devils battle North Chicago this week and Maine South in non-conference play.

Kerry Gustafson aims for a strike against Warren. She struckout 13 in a no-hitter against the Blue Devils in a 9-1, eight-inning win.

MHS girls surprise a few opponents

Although not challenging the top teams for the title at the annual Jacobs Invitational, area teams had plenty to be proud of Saturday in Algonquin.

Mundelein cracked the top five of the girls race with 57 points, far from winner Riverside-Brookfield's 81 and runner-up Jacobs' 83. "But we were only a few points from third place," Mundelein coach Art Campbell said.

Mundelein's 57 points were followed by area finishers: Johnsbury with 50 for fifth; Lake Zurich's 46 and one-half points for sixth and Grayslake's 14 points for eighth in the 10-team meet.

Tracy Shockmel won the 100 meter hurdles and Carey Lindbloom the 300 hurdles. Jenny White of Lake Zurich was one second behind.

Snell cleared 4-10 for first place.

Yet another first for MHS came from Chandra Kotty. Kotty won the shot put and was third in the discus.

The Rams were paced by Julie Duchane with a third

Chris Malo of Johnsbury won the 3,200 meter run.

Mundelein is at the North Suburban Conference meet at Zion May 8.

"It is rough. We only have nine girls going for us," Campbell said.

Dairyland has big plans

Stakes races, a concert series, giveaways — Dairyland Greyhound Park in Kenosha has it all in May.

A Mother's Day brunch will take place in the clubhouse dining room May 9. An array of delectable items will be available for just $12.95 per person. The first of 15 races starts at 1 p.m.

The Pepsi Concert Series begins May 15. FASTGUN, an up-and-coming country-western band, will play between performances in the parking lot. The concert is co-sponsored by WMIL-FM radio.

The Dairyland Derby begins May 11. It serves as the major local three to eight-mile prep race for the 1993 Greyhound Race of Champions, to be held in June at Dairyland. After three preliminary rounds, the $25,000 championship race will be held May 22. The first 5,000 paid admissions will receive a commemorative pin.

The Memorial Day weekend offers something for everyone. On May 29 the first 5,000 paid admissions receive a Dairyland/Hot 102.3 WXLC-FM duffel bag. A special doubleheader will be offered on May 30 with the afternoon card designated as a Superfecta Sunday program. On Memorial Day, a variety of low-priced food and drink specials will complement a 15-race matinee performance.

Wilmot finally prepared for opening races May 8

Toft Auto Racing's Wilmot Speedway tentatively plans to finally get its 40th Anniversary Season underway on Saturday, May 8.

Originally planned for April 10, the season debut at Wisconsin's Clay Center of Speed has been pushed back three times due to delays in the construction of the new grandstand bleachers.

Site preparations were completed on April 23 with the leveling of the base gravel. Midwest Bleacher Co. of Milwaukee was to begin its process of installation of the new grandstands on April 25.

"Not all of the bleachers were up by May 1, so rather than open with partially completed grandstands, we decided it was better to postpone one more week, said promoter Ray Toft.

Scheduled to compete in the season opening program are sprints, non-winged modifieds, sportsman and mini-modifieds. Grandstands will open at 5 p.m. with sprint time trials at 6:15 p.m. and the first race at 6:45 p.m. Toft urged competitors and fans to phone the track racelines at (414)862-2446, 838-RACE or the new WMYX/WEMP radio stations information race line at (414)529-7600 and press number "4" either Thursday or Friday, April 29 or 30, for updated information on the status of the May 1 opener.

Wilmot Speedway's one-third mile clay oval is located on the Kenosha County Fairgrounds in Wilmot, Wis. For further information contact the track office at 395-7353.

Heskett sets mark

Gurnee's Geoff Heskett, a senior at Northeast Missouri State, set a Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association hammer throw record (173 feet, 11 inches) during the conference meet April 22-24. That, however, was off his season's best of 185-8. Heskett was fifth in the shot put (46-0 3/4).

Running Brooks

Rachel Brooks is a sprinter on this spring's Augustana College women's track team. Brooks hails from Round Lake Beach.

Not struggling

Ashley Struggles, a junior from Mundelein, knocked in two runs for DePaul, but the Blue Demons dropped an 8-7 decision to Wisconsin-Green Bay in Mid-Continent Conference softball action.

Muskie meet

The Illini Muskies Alliance will hold its annual Jake Wolf Memorial Tournament on the Chain O' Lakes Saturday and Sunday, May 15-16. Frank & Char's Resort (42125 N. Fourth Ave.) on Lake Marie will be tourney headquarters. This is the oldest tournament in the state. For more information, call John Weirich at 259-9213 or 255-4740.

Galloping Graham

Glenn Graham was a member of Wisconsin-Whitewater's winning 400-meter relay team (:44.33) during the Loras College (Iowa) Open. Graham is a junior from Lindenhurst.

Augustana College freshman Carl Graf, a Stevenson grad, ranked second on the Vikings' golf team with an 82.0-stroke average. His season's best is 77.

Spare money

Kelly Jennings of Round Lake is seeking sponsors for her participation in the Bowl For the Prevention of Child Abuse fund raiser at Bertrand Lanes in Waukegan May 16. To pledge a per-pin amount or a flat donation, call Jennings at 356-4470.

Pelczynski cruises

Elmhurst College freshman Scott Pelczynski, a Johnsbury product, cruised 6-0, 6-1 in his No. 4 singles match against Kristian Leslie of Rosary College.

Sports skills

Chuck Walter, an associate professor in kinesiology, will present "Defeating Bad Habits and Inconsistencies in Coaching Sport Skills" in Room 706 of the Physical Education Center at the College Lake County Tuesday, May 11 from 7 to 9 p.m. Admission is free. Anyone interested in the best approach to teaching young athletes sports skills as a coach, referee, teacher, parent or participant is invited to attend. Call 223-6601 (ext. 2475) for more information.

Rams host net league

Grayslake's boys varsity tennis team will be hoping a new conference trend will be beneficial to them next week.

"This is the first time the conference meet will be held during the week," Coach Paul Keller said.

The Rams will host the May 12-13 meet and are in the running for first place with Wauconda. Wauconda downed the Rams 4-1 in the only match of last week. Grayslake comes into the match at 5-2 in league matches, 6-3 overall. Wauconda won seven league matches.

The Wauconda match was the first loss of the year for No. 1 singles player John Wolf. He lost a three-set battle to Garrett Terschell 7-6, 3-6 and 7-6.

"He had defeated Terschell 6-2, 6-0 last month," Keller said of Wolf, now 6-1 in conference. "He was better in practice. He was just pressing against Wauconda."

Con O'Donnell gained the Rams lone win at No. 2 singles, downing Ryan Bailey 6-4, 6-0. "He is stronger this year, steadier and more aggressive. He has not had much competition since a match against Zion-Benton," Keller said.

Todd Faubo lost at third singles, but he is battling an injured arm.

The doubles teams both lost three-set matches.

The first doubles team of Jed Doyle and Dave McIntosh fell to Chris Merker and Dave Barcillo 6-1, 3-6 and 6-2. The second doubles team of Eric Gardner and Paul Roock lost to Dave Thirtle and Brett Christensen 6-4, 2-6, 6-2.

The Rams battled Marian Central in make-up match May 6 and travel to Warren May 7.

Neal hot

Jeff Neal of Lake Villa posted his second straight top 10 finish in American Speed Association stock car racing during the AC-Delco Challenge Series Buckeye 300 in Columbus, Ohio May 1.

NISRA taking sign-ups for summer day camps

The Northern Illinois Special Recreation Assn. (NISRA) is taking registrations for its Summer Day Camp program. NISRA offers 10 day camps for children with learning disabilities, behavior disorders, physical limitations, or developmental disabilities. Camp sites are located in the Crystal Lake, Woodstock, Wauconda, Barrington, and Carpentersville areas.

The camp program is offered for six weeks, Monday through Thursday, June 14 through July 22. A Friday field trip option is also available. Half-day and full-day day camps are offered. Camp activities include swimming, sports, games, special events, arts and crafts, nature, and music. Campers are grouped by age and ability level, and all activities are goal-oriented to provide a continuation of the skills gained during the school year.

NISRA offers year-round day and evening recreation programs in addition to the Summer Day Camp program.

For further information on the camp program call Amy Joerger at (815)459-0737.

COLLEGE OF LAKE COUNTY

'My job is to make learning as easy as possible.'

—Toby Ward
CLC physics instructor

"Toby Ward has a fantastic rapport with students. He takes a personal interest in each of us, and he knows how to make learning fun and exciting by teaching theories through practical applications.

"All that's important to me as an older student returning to college. At the four-year school I attended before, I never worked as closely with the professors as I do with Toby and the other CLC engineering faculty. With their help, I know I'll be well-prepared to transfer to a top engineering school."

—Bill Ornt, CLC engineering student

Faculty like Toby Ward are an important reason why CLC is the first choice for growing numbers of students. Isn't it time you learned more about what CLC can do for you?
